FARGO OPA OFFICE CLOSES SHORTLY

Enforcement Work to be Handled in St. Paul

Liquidation of the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district office will get under way on December 1st, James S. Lamb, district director, announced today.

After December 1, the district office will be closed to the public, with the exception of sugar rationing and rent control. The sugar rationing office, now on the fifth floor of the Universal building in Fargo, and the area rent offices in Fargo, Minot, Grand Forks, Bismarck, Jamestown and Fergus Falls, will continue operating as at present.

With liquidation of the district offices throughout the nation, enforcement and accounting activities will be conducted from branch regional offices. In this region, accounting offices will be set up in St. Paul, Springfield, Des Moines, and Chicago. Enforcement offices will be in St. Paul, Chicago, and Des Moines. Fargo-Moorhead district accounting and enforcement activities will be handled from the St. Paul office after December 1.

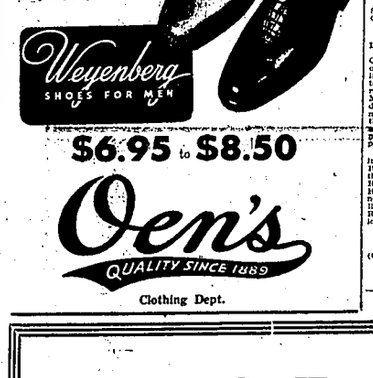
H. W. Griffin, deputy district director, has been named by Earl W. Clark, regional administrator, as district liquidation officer.

All-Day Necking Flunked Out by Cornell Director

ITHACA, N. Y.—Cornell students must cease their research into the amatory phases of romance on the lounges of Willard Straight hall, the university ruled recently.

"Promiscuous necking starts in Straight lounges before morning—8 o'clock — first class hour — and doesn't stop until the co-ed deadline for sign-in," said Dorothy Ann Olson, social director of the hall, in appealing to the "loyalty and pride" of the student body.

These latter qualities should cause them to desist from public lollygagging. But though she has had the lounges patroled, the "disgraceful conduct" goes right on, Miss Olson said.



It's hard on other students—the ones who are too loyal and proud to pet—Miss Olson said. It also causes "derogatory comment from outsiders."

By the time students enter college, Miss Olson continued, "young men and women are supposed to have acquired a certain degree of mature judgment." But in the lounges, the mass petting "certainly does not show any sense of good taste or consideration for others."

Not much need to say nice things about the new Ben Franklin store which is being unveiled today and which opens officially tomorrow. It speaks for itself, and by contrast with what it replaces the improvement must be recognized as really outstanding. Our congratulations go to the city of Thief River Falls for this modernization of an important corner, and to those who had the vision—and the money to lay on the barrell hand to make the dream a reality—a round of cheers and best wishes for success.

A round of cheers too to the men with hammers and chisles and jacks who did the actual job of face lifting on the three old buildings that are now the home of the Ben Franklin store. Maybe its because we don't have a knack for such things ourselves, but we never get tired of watching skilled mechanics at work; men who know what to do and how to do it. We worried quite a little about the second floors of these buildings as the first floors were knocked out from under the mand concrete blocks and bricks were replaced by steel. Now that the job is done we'll say it was well done.

It looks like a fight to the finish this time between John L. Lewis and Uncle Sam, and it is high time we get a decision on this question of whether a part can be greater than the whole. The issue this time is not wages or working conditions. This time Mr. Lewis is challenging the authority of the federal government, and presumably that is serious business. In our modern economy we apparently must reconcile ourselves to big Labor as well as big Business, and also big Government. There are constitutional controls on big Government and big Govefnment in turn must apply controls on big Business and big Labor. If labor gets so big that government is not able to apply controls then we cease to have government. These are the considerations that are involved in the fight between John L. Lewis and Uncle Sam. By defying the authority of his government Mr. Lewis is doing a great disservice to the cause of organized labor.

Topics of the Times

Either UNO or U don't know whether a permanent peace is to be achieved.

Definition—A dime, according to the Wall street Journal, is a dollar with the taxes taken out.

The newsprint shortage has become so acute lately that a South Dakota daily has been appearing without ads—and the customers don't like it.

The Wadena paper was puzzled when a hardware store man asked that "four cans dies" be inserted in his ad. Come to find out, it was fork handles.

It will soon be time to start planning a celebration in 1949 when the state of Minnesota reaches its one-hundreth birthday.

As a colleague suggests, it's about time to return your neighbor's lawnmower and borrow his snow shovel.

Facing a Congress dominated by the opposition party, President Truman now is in a position to sympathize with the much maligned former President Hoover.

Folks in the woods this week are seeing red. Yes, it's deer hunting time.

As our Karlstad colleague suggests, the hunting this season has been better than the shooting.

Random thought—It's not easy to be contented and contentious at the same time.

Today's puzzle—A neighbor paper tells about a physician who treated an accident victim "without regaining consciousness."

And then they tell about the editor who had to leave town because his paper referred to a lady's tea party as "a swill affair".

The Republicans, as a commentator points out, have not won a victory yet. They have merely won an opportunity.

1916—THIRTY YEARS AGO

Senator Knute Nelson, Republican, and John Lind, former Democratic governor, addressed political rallies in this city.—A flow of good water has been struck at a depth of 289 feet in a test well on Duluth av.—Contractors Hans Rustad and C. M. Carlson transacted business in Minneapolis.—Miss Myrtle Rasmussen and Doris and John Brumund entertained 76 friends at a Helloween party in the Brumund Hotel parlors.

1926—TWENTY YEARS AGO

1936—TEN YEARS AGO

President Roosevelt was reelected Tuesday by a landslide majority, while in Minnesota Elmtr A. Benson was named governor.—J. P. Curtis, local drug store proprietor the past 36 years, is closing out his stock of merchandise.—The local Gamble store is moving from the Masonic block on Main av. to the former Lyceum theatre building on LaBree av. now being remodeled.—Roy Lambert, former local pharmacist, opened a drug store in Detroit Lakes.

Save Bees From an Insecticide Death

While the dusting and spraying of farm crops must be regulated upon approve practices for each individual crop in general the use of DDT and other insecticides should be employed before blossoms appear. In general, by following this practice, it is possible to reduce the loss among bees to such a point that is of no economic importance. Do not spray or use insecticides except upon a given method of procedure.

Kudzu Saves Soil And Provides Feed

Increasing Use Seen On American Farms

Erosion gullies, once the bugaboo of farming, are succumbing rapidly to a versatile leguminous vine known as kudzu.

In addition to growing vigorously, with proper management, under many unfavorable soil and moisture conditions, kudzu has the advantage of permanency. The crowns, or root system, will remain over a long period of years without replanting. If the vines are not overgrazed.

Kudzu crowns or roots will produce luxuriant and nutritious forage for hogs and other livestock.

When harvested for hay it has a feeding value as high as that of alfalfa, and also provides a nutritious forage for livestock grazing. It is especially recommended for ravines or other sites that are too badly gullied to be used for cultivated crops. It is equally important on more level acreage where it can be cut for hay as well as acting to conserve the soil.

From Dadeville, Ala., comes the report of an increase of 25-bushels per acre for corn that followed the plowing under of kudzu, or 40 bushels an acre. Most corn yields in that section averaged below 15 bushels.

To make this "gate," dig a hole approximately 8 feet wide, 6 feet across, reinforce all sides at top with 4 inch square concrete slabs, embedding ends of six 5-inch channels for cross supports.

Cut 13 lengths of 2 inch pipe and space 4 inches apart. Weld pipe each side to tops of channels using 3/16 inch rod for mild steel.

In Memoriam

Olson, Sarah. In sad but loving memory of our beloved mother, who departed this life two years ago today, Nov. 20, 1944.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid,
Who was better, God never made,
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million, that mother was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal ever upright.
Loved by your friends, all whom you know,
Our wonderful mother, ...that mother was you.
—Sadly missed by children, Thelma, Gordon and Arthur. 47p

In Memoriam

Olson, Sarah.
Some day I hope to meet you,
Some day I know not when
We shall meet in a better land
And never part again.
—Mrs. Arthur Olson. 47p

Thank You

I wish to thank all my friends and schoolmates, my teacher, Miss Wormen and Miss Bloomness for the friendly letters, cards and gifts I received while I was a patient at the Mayo Institute in Minneapolis. — Marlene Kellberg. 47p

Appreciation

We, the members of the Rocksbury 4-H Club and adult leaders, Mrs. Otto Netteland and Henry Oen hereby wish to express our sincere appreciation to the Civic and Commerce Association of Thief River Falls for making the 4-H Baby Beef Sale such a success. We wish also to thank our County Agent Palmer and Miss Elle Hanson for their untiring efforts to make the sale a success. The sale was an inspiration for us to do "bigger and better" things for the coming year. 47c

PUBLIC NOTICES

Card of Thanks

With deepest gratitude do we extend thanks to our kind neighbors for so abundantly giving us groceries during the recent illness of our children; to Peterson-Iliddick Co. and all its employees for the generous purse of money, to our relatives in St. Hilaire, Onamia, and this city for the gifts and cash given us, to the Lawrence Bjorkman family for the many gifts reading material and toys and Dolores Van Risseghem for the lovely doll with all the clothes.

All these kindnesses did much to shorten the hours in bed and brought much joy into our household.—The Clarence L. Hess family." 47p

THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to Mr. Jim Roche of the Rex Cafe for his purchase of my steer at the 4-H Livestock Auction on November 2. Norman Panek. 47p

In Memoriam

In memory of our beloved wife, mother, daughter and grandmother Mrs. Ole Odegaard, who passed away Nov. 22, 1943.
Deep in our hears is a picture,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best
Our lips cannot speak how we loved her,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say.
God only knows how we miss her,
As we journey along life's way.
Yet again we hope to meet her
When the day of life is fled.
And in Heaven with joy to greet her,
Where no farewell tears are shed.
Sadly missed by Ole Odegaard and sons, Ole Peterson and grandchildren. 47c

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all who visited me while I was a patient in the hospital. Thanks to the Bethlehem ladies aid of Newfolden and to others for flowers, gifts, cards, and letters. Also, thanks to the hospital staff for their splendid care. Tonnes Nelson 47p

POOR PRESCRIPTION

Two Maine farmers had been meeting each other once a week for many years on the way to market. Their conversation was usually confined to:

"Good morning, Lem."
"Good morning, Sy."
"Nice day, Lem."
"Yes, it's a nice day, Sy."
"Well, good day, Lem."
"Good day, Sy."

This dialogue remained unchanged over the years, unless the state of the weather required a minor adjustment.

One particular day the conversation changed. In addition to the above colloquy one of the farmers said: "Say, Sy, what did you give your horse when he had the colic?"

Sy answered: "Well, I gave my horse turpentine when he had the colic."

"Thank you, Sy."

A week later they met again and Lem said: "What did you say you gave your horse when he had the colic?" Sy answered: "I gave my horse turpentine when he had the colic."

"Well, I gave my horse turpentine and he died."

"So did mine. Good day, Lem."

"Good day, Sy."

CAN'T CHEAT SANDY

MacTavish stepped into the taxi and said, "Waterloo Station, my man." The driver quickly sized the Scot up as a stranger to London, and proceeded to take advantage of the fact by driving his fare all over the great metropolis instead of directly to his destination.

At the end of three hours of sightseeing, MacTavish was finally unloaded at Waterloo Station. Darting up to a policeman, the Scot inquired, "Officer, what is the taxi fare from Euston to Waterloo?" The bobby told him.

"Would you mind paying the driver?" asked MacTavish, proffering the exact sum to the policeman. "I've a train to catch."

And with that he disappeared into the station.

SIX CHILDREN DIE IN N. D. FARM FIRE

Blaze Occurs Monday on Farm Near Ashley, N. D.

Powerless to help, a mother of nine stood outside her blazing farm home near Ashley, N. D., early Monday and listened to the screams of six of her children who died in the flames.

Both the mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lang, were under a doctor's care Monday night.

Killed in one of the worst farm fire tragedies in North Dakota's history were five girls and one boy:

Orpha Lan, 13; Arbetella, 11; Darald, 9; Jennice, 6; Donna, 4; and Bernice, 1 year and 10 months.

Surviving besides Mrs. Lang were the three other children, Lester, 12; Betty 7, and Robert, 10 months.

Mr. Lang, who was in Fargo selling a load of cattle, was reached by phone during the night and returned to Ashley about 8 a. m. Monday.

The saddened farm community in which the Langs lived, 15 miles northeast of Ashley, in south central North Dakota, Monday night was planning burial of the six children in a common grave, probably Thursday.

All bodies were burned beyond recognition. Portions of five of them had been taken from the ashes of the one-story home Monday night, but whether the sixth had been found was uncertain.

Weather Turns Colder; River Pool Freezes Over

With the mercury dropping to a low of 9 above zero last Saturday and 7 above Sunday, the lowest reading of the season to date, the Red Lake river pool froze over during the week-end for the first time. A heavy mist Wednesday afternoon deposited a thin layer of ice on streets and highways, making traffic hazardous. Snow was falling this morning.

Deer Park 4-H Club Thanks Businessmen

The Deer Park 4-H club this week expressed its appreciation to the businessmen of Thief River Falls for their participation in the 4-H livestock auction held Nov. 2 in the arena.

Better Ball

Once a small girl had a tooth pulled. She put her tooth under her pillow so the fairies would bring her some money.

The small girl's father had a bridge with five false teeth on it.

When the small girl awoke she found 15 cents under her pillow.

She ran and showed her father the money and said, "Daddy, I got three nickels for one tooth, so let me put your teeth under my pillow tonight and see how much I will get."

WE DON'T MEAN IT

A newly arrived Chinese immigrant was seated aboard a streetcar which was making its way down one of the main thoroughfares. In his course of watching the local scenery and color he noticed a sign, "Look Out!" Almost instantaneously, the immigrant fenned his head out (to see what by chance he might be missing) and upon doing so, made contact with one of the posts.

When placed in the hands of the interne, his only comment was, "American funny fellow. He tells other fellow to look out and let same fellow lose face."

Alcohol Treatment

The reverend was being shaved by a barber who was showing the effects of his previous night's dissipation. When he nicked the parson's chin, the latter looked up reproachfully and said: "You see, my good man, what comes of hard drinking."

"Yes, sir," the barber replied, consolingly, "It sure makes the skin tender, don't it?"

One Big Blunder

A certain small-gauge politician seeking to justify his incredibly stupid administration to Prince Talleyrand boasted to the great statesman: "Sir, during my whole life I have been guilty of only one mistake."

"Really, my dear colleague," rejoined the wily prince, "when will it ever end?"

.... With ERICK OLSON

Les and Bob Look at the U.

Les Vignese and Bob Baker were guests of the Northwest Amateur Sportsman's Club in Minneapolis on Saturday and witnessed the Minnesota vs. Iowa game. And the boys had front line seats, too, for they were provided with a bench near the Gopher team, and following the game they were brought into the Minnesota dressing room and met a number of the Maroon and Gold players, and of course, they renewed their acquaintance with Billy Bye. Billy, son of former school superintendent Morris Bye, was born here and attended school as Prowler until his sophomore year when the family moved to Anoka.

Bob Baker, former Prowler hockey captain and a unanimous all-state selection in 1946, had a two hour conversation with Larry Armstrong, the Minnesota hockey coach, and he advised Bob to enroll at the "U" during the winter quarter. Bob just recently received his army discharge and he isn't very anxious about starting school so soon; but it would be in his favor if he did enroll, for then he would be immediately eligible for the Gopher hockey team. Next year Minnesota will return to the Freshman rule, and that would mean a wait of a year before Bob could compete. It's Bob' problem to solve, but Armstrong is ready to complete all the arrangements and find a place for him to stay.

Viggy hasn't completed his high school work here yet, so he has time to mull over the Minnesota matter for a while. Les liked the game, but he was somewhat over game by the size of the school. Prowler coach John Lindenmeyer who also attended the Minnesota vs. Iowa games, stated that Les had more speed than any of the backs that Bierman put on the field, and that included Bill Bye.

Well, I hope Bob and Les decide to go to the "U", or to some school where the two boys could be on the same hockey squad.

Prowlers at Work

With 10 games on the schedule—12 conference and district games, 6 games with their traditional regional rivals, and a pair with Detroit Lakes—Coach Lindenmeyer has moved the Prowlers into intensive drills and following last week's workouts, he has named a twenty-man varsity squad, but the only experienced boys on the roster are Don Engelstad, Marlo Davidson, Glen Magnuson, and Chuck Troland, with Dick Borreson, Ronnie Hanson, Al Williamson, and Chuck Erickson also having had some previous varsity play.

The Prowlers' first game is scheduled for Nov. 29th, when the Fosston Greyhounds, the traditional opening game rivals, play here. Fosston will be playing under the coaching of Dick Seebach this year for Mike Lagather, who coached the Greyhounds last season, has moved over to Bemidji, taking the job vacated by Glenn Barnum.

Lois of Venison

That's the reports of many of the hunters, and judging the evidence you see around town, with deer on car fenders, etc., there must be considerable truth in the stories.

About the earliest "fill" reported was that of Edwin Olson, George Busse, and Elmer Johnson, with the party having their three deer by ten o'clock Saturday morning. They hunted southwest of town and said that they must have seen about twenty deer. Taking some friends out there next days having promised them some fine hunting, not a deer was seen. The fine thing about that limit "fill" is that Geo. didn't shoot a deer, for it was El that dropped two of them and Elmer got the other.

Bush Hallstrom came in with a buck Tuesday morning, and he got his shot when he was just about to give up deer hunting and was sitting down on a log eating his lunch when the buck trotted into range. Well, if eating lunch on a log is the secret to getting a deer, I know of plenty of hunters that should have filled their limits.

Art Larson and Hank Storhaug had a good hunt near Greenbush geting a pair of bucks. Art, though contends that Saturday was the coldest day that he has ever experienced and he'll have a lot of deer hunters that will agree with him.

Prowler Captains

The hockey squad, in meeting this week, elected Les Vignese and Jim Welch as co-captains. And the football squad also selected co-captains for next year, voting the honor to Swede Lund and Marlo Davidson.

FOOD ALLOWANCE FOR ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS RAISED

State Welfare Agency Increases Food Budget in Most Cases 15 Pct.

Recognizing the need of increased allowances to meet rising food prices, Jarle Leirfallom, state director of social welfare, this past week put into effect new standards calling for an increase of approximately 15% in food allowances for those being aided through the public assistance programs in Minnesota.

The new regulation will provide increased aid for approximately 70,000 persons receiving old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children and general relief. A number already getting the maximum permitted and so will not be able to get additional aid.

Reporting to Governor Edward J. Thye on the action taken, Leirfallom pointed out that the division of social welfare took a price survey in September covering the cost of food items in the public assistance budgets and found costs throughout the state had risen approximately 15% compared with those prevailing in January.

Representatives of the county welfare boards and other organizations interested in the assistance programs were called in to consider the situation, Leirfallom said, and all agreed there should be an upward revision of the food allowances.

Leirfallom then took steps to amend the rule on food allowances to provide for an increase of approximately 15% and, after approval by Attorney General J. A. A. Burnquist, notified the county welfare boards of the change.

"The county welfare boards must adopt a schedule of allowances which falls within 10% above or below the state standard set", Leirfallom said. "This 10% deviation is allowed so the local board may adjust its action to local conditions."

Thye and Leirfallom said the state division will watch closely the trend of food prices. A new food price survey in January is contemplated.

BANK DEPOSITS IN MINNESOTA MOUNT

Increase More than 40 Per Cent in Two Years

Deposits and assets in state banks and other financial institutions under supervision of the state banking department increased more than 40 per cent during the past two years to reach the greatest volume in Minnesota history, F. A. Amundson, state commissioner of banks, disclosed this week in submitting his biennial report to Governor Edward J. Thye.

The report covering the two years ending June 30, showed that total assets of he financial institutions increased $376,772,721.28 during tho two years and reached the unprecedented total of $1,274, 637, 107.24.

Deposits in the state banks jumped fully 50 per cent during the two years covered by the report, increasing from $463,014,717.32 on June 30, 1944, to $705,271,285.29 on June 30, 1946. Of this huge increase, the biggest proportion came during the 1945 fiscal year. Total assets of the banks increased from $496,663,519.82 to $745,463,492.42 in the two years.

State Agency Charges Wells, Minn. Vet with Defrauding Government

The division of employment and security has notified Orlando D. Ackerman, Wells, Minn., to appear for a formal hearing at Fairmont on Dec. 11 and answer questions as to his having represented himself as unemployed for 19 weeks during which period he received readjustment allowance checks totalling $380. Division officials say that during this time Ackerman was working in a hardware store and received $726.70.

If, as a result of the hearing, it is found that Ackerman received the benefit payments illegally, he can be denied further benefits and will face a fraud prosecution by federal authority. Penalty for such fraud is fine of up to $1,000, a year in the penitentiary, or both.

Ackerman is the second veteran to face formal proceedings as to whether he had rightfully obtained readjustment allowances.

October debits for the state of Minnesota are 24 per cent above October 1945 with cumulative totals showing an increase of 17 per cent over a year ago.

Polio Foundation Gives Minneapolis $545,000 to Aid Fight on Epidemic

Arnulf Uelend, treasurer of the Minneapolis emergency polio committee, announced today he would request an additional $125,000 in March of Dimes funds to continue the fight against infantile paralysis in that city.

He said the request would go to the New York headquarters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which has already given the Committee $425,000 in March of Dimes funds. The foundation's only source of revenue is the March of Dimes appeal in January.

Uelend, who is also treasurer of the Hennepin County chapter of the national foundation, said the committee and the chapter had received a total of $545,000 in March of Dimes funds from national headquarters since the epidemic began this year.

This was more than 12 times the $44,000 collected in Hennepin county during the March of Dimes campaign last January, he said, adding that funds expended have benefited the entire state since approximately 1,000 non-residents have been hospitalized for polio in Minneapolis. Other Minnesota chapters have spent $575,000 in March of Dimes funds so far this year.

AS AMERICAN

as a Football Game

The crack of a boot against the pigskin—the thud of powerful bodies—and, all of a sudden, a player is around and out of the tangle and thundering down the field toward the goal line. There's a mighty roar to urge him on as the crowd rises to its feet! And then he's across the goal line.

It's a great game—football—an American game! For Americans love skill and sportsmanship, energy and a sense of freedom, hearty, healthy living wherever they find it.

To every American—a glass of beer writes a pleasant period to any hard day's work. The right to enjoy this sociable drink of moderation and good sense is part of our American heritage.

Milk Producers Hold Convention in St. Louis

John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., was re-elected president of National Cooperative Milk Producers federation at its annual meeting in St. Louis, Mo. late last week.

This will mark the sixth consecutive year that Brandt has headed the national organization.

Legislative and public policy programs formulated at closing meetings of the 30th annual convention included:

Modernization of the present parity price formula for agricultural commodities.

Immediate amendment of the trade agreement act "to save domestic markets for domestic consumers."

Labor legislation that will mutually protect the interests of employes, employers and the public.

Modernization of the parity price formula is necessary to prevent a drop of 33 to 44 per cent in dairy price returns in the event of a possible economic recession, and trade agreement amendments.

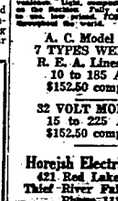
MOTHER NATURE STILL FROLICSOME

On election day or later strawberries were picked at Mankato, Brownsville, and Detroit Lakes. Dassel went them all one better by garnishing the strawberries with sweetpeas. A Heron Lake lady has a lantana plant with a maroon and a dark orange blossom on the same stem. And a St. Paul gardener produced a 15-pound 6-ounce head of cauliflower.



VOTED FOR GRANT, STILL AT IT

St. Cloud—It's a toss up which has greater news value, the fact that Colin McNiven, oldest local voter at 100, cast his first ballot for General U. S. Grant in 1872. Or the fact that he has never failed to vote in every state and national election since. Or a conjecture as to whom he has been voting after starting with Mr. Grant.

PACKARD DEALERS

Code of Ethics

Most automobile dealers are substantial business men in their communities who will serve their customers well in good years and bad.

Packard dealers have decided to make their position clear with customers. For this purpose we have agreed to the following clear-cut Code of Ethics affecting those phases of our business that are uppermost in customers' minds today:

Used Car Trade-ins

We maintain an establishment for buying, selling and servicing cars. Both new and used cars are essential to its successful operation—to the continued employment of its specialized personnel.

We believe that the customer who replaces his car with a new or used car at the OPA ceiling price should trade in his used car to the selling dealer as has been customary in the past. We will make the most generous allowances possible under the OPA price regulations.

If, however, a customer does not have a used car, we will still accept his order and make every effort to effect delivery of the new or used car.

New Car Delivery Priorities

New car deliveries will be made in the sequence in which orders were placed, except where we can clearly help the community interest by making an exception for such as doctors and disabled war veterans.

Upon request, we will tell customers having new car orders with us exactly where they stand on our delivery priority list. We will also estimate approximate delivery dates with the understanding, of course, that these estimates cannot be considered firm commitments because of uncertain new car deliveries to us.

New and Used Car Prices

We deal only on a legitimate, above-the-table basis. We will not buy or sell new or used cars at prices in excess of those established by the OPA.

Accessories with New Cars

We will not "load" new cars with accessories.

Parts and Service Prices

Customers of our Service Department are billed for parts and labor at prices established by the OPA.

Upon request, we will provide, in advance, an estimate of parts and labor costs on repair work. We guarantee that no costs beyond those in the estimate will be incurred by the customer without his specific approval.

U. S. CONSUMERS GOING INTO DEBT, SURVEY REVEALS

Citizens Buying Goods on Credit at All-time Speed, Report Indicates

American consumers are going into debt twice as fast as at any other period in history; they are buying goods on credit at an all-time record rate, according to a study by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

The increase of $2,953,000,000 in consumer credit obligations which occurred in the twelve months ended October 1, is almost exactly double the previous record twelve-months increase of $1,362,000,000 which took place in the year 1936, the study points out.

It is especially noteworthy that this phenomenal expansion of consumer credit has occured in spite of a subnormal output of automobiles, refrigerators, and other consumer durable goods commonly bought on instalments, the report states. Today automobile instalment contracts total less than one-fourth of their 1941 figure of nearly $2 billions, and total instalment sales debt is only one-third of its 1941 year-end figure of $3,744 millions.

The real postwar expansion in consumer debt so far has been in retail charge accounts, in instalment loans, and in "service credit", which comprises doctor and dentist bills, hospital services, etc. With the current rapid climb in output of consumer durable goods, however, a further acceleration is occurring in the growth of outstanding consumer credit.

In its rapid postwar expansion, total consumer credit passed the $8-billion mark in August, and will probably pass $9 billion by the end of 1946, the report states. Thus the 1929 peak of approximately $7 billion in consumer credit has already been left behind; the all-time high of nearly $10 billion, reached in 1941, seems likely to be topped early in 1947, unless a recession should sharply reduce the rate of consumer credit purchasing.

High indebtedness is a characteristic which precedes a down swing in business activity, the report points out. Any debt burden, however, should be considered in relation to available income, it states; a $9-billion consumer debt at the end of 1946 would represent only 6½ per cent of spendable consumer income estimated at $140 billion for the year, whereas the 1941 debt of nearly $10 billion amounted to 11 per cent of spendable consumer income estimated at $89 billion for that year.

WINS NOBEL PRIZE . . . Prof. Herman J. Muller, 56, biologist of University of Indiana, who has been announced as winner of the 1946 Nobel prize for his revolutionary research in medicine in the field of genetics.

Three Men for Every Girl at Minnesota 'U'

The University of Minnesota's record-breaking student body of more than 27,000 this fall represents a predominantly man's world, with 73 per cent of the enrollment accounted for by men students and 27 per cent by women, R. E. Summers, dean of admissions and records, reported this week.

Chief reason for the overwhelming majority of men, approximately three to every woman student, is the influx of more than 16,000 veterans who are attending the University under the G. I. and Rehabilitation bills, Summers pointed out.

The present ratio of men to women at the University is almost a complete reverse of the situation just one year ago, when the fall quarter, 1945, total attendance 11,046 students was made up of 35 per cent men and 65 per cent women.

EXAMS JAN. 18TH FOR NAVY COLLEGE TRAINING PROJECT

5,000 High School Seniors to be Given Four Years at College

The navy today announced Jan. 18, 1947 as the date on which high school seniors and graduates throughout the nation will compete for entrance in the new Navy college training program.

More than 5,000 young men standing highest in these competitive examinations will be offered a four-year college education at government expense.

Competitive examinations will be held in 555 cities in the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Canal Zone and Puerto Rico. Applications and full information on the program are available from high school principals, college deans and offices of naval officer procurement.

The navy department emphasized that completed applications must be received by December 17, 1946 to be considered for the 1947 completion.

Those selected may choose either naval reserve officers' training corps (NROTC) or naval aviation college program (NACP) sponsorship of their college education, and qualify for commissions as officers in the navy or marine corps upon graduation.

Students of both programs will be able to take courses leading to the bachelor degrees of their own choice while still meeting the minimum requirements in naval subjects.

Candidates must agree to accept commissions as ensigns in the navy or second lieutenants in the marine corps, if qualified upon graduation. After two years' service on active duty as commissioned officers, they may elect either to remain in the regular service or to accept commissions in the organized reserve and return to civilian life.

LOCAL JOB OFFICE REPORTS ON WORK

Local Agency Places 57 Persons During October

While seasonal unemployment is increasing in this area, there is, however, a high level of employment locally, according to the monthly report of the local office of the Minnesota state employment service.

The office reports having made 57 local placements during October, with 48 industrial jobs available and 407 persons registered for work at the end of the month.

With the decline of seasonal employment the labor supply in this area has gradually increased. This applies particularly to unskilled and semi-skilled workers. The supply of qualified workers is still definitely limited. The supply of clerical, sales, and service personnel is also very limited, especially in the service group.

There has been a heavy demand for women in the sales and service occupations. A number of retail firms have placed orders for sales personnel who are needed to take care of the anticipated Christmas rush. In almost all communities there is a shortage of restaurant and other service personnel. Timber workers are being sent to Koochiching, Clearwater, Beltrami and St. Louis counties where steady piece-cutting jobs are available. Even though winter is fast approaching, there are still openings for carpenters and other skilled building construction workers.

Chaska.—Marvin Schultz, a carpenter, was booked for a clown riding act at a horse show. Just before the performance a frisky mount bumped into Mr. Schultz, who was all dolled up for his clowning. He realized that his arm hurt pretty bad, but went ahead with earned lots of plaudits with his act. Then a physician discovered that his wrist was broken.

RESTRICTIONS PUT ON SOFT COAL USE

Government Acts When Faced by Minor Strike

Orders were received this week by local fuel dealers from J. A. Krug solid fuels administrator at Washington, D. C., directing them to conserve stocks of soft coal while the strike of miners called by John L. Lewis is in progress.

In cases where less than a ten-days supply is on hand, domestic users may obtain not more than a minimum truck load. Other fuel users who are eligible to receive supplies provided they have on hand less than a ten-days supply include public utilities, railroads, laundries, hospitals, food processing plants and refrigeration plants.

Any other coal user may become eligible for supplies upon written authorization of the area representative of the solid fuels administration, it was announced.

Unlighted Farm Rigs on Highway Dangerous, Says State Safety Man

An unusual number of accidents involving farm implements has brought from W. F. Rosenwald, traffic engineer of the Minnesota highway department, an urgent warning to farmers and motorists to use greater caution on rural roads at night.

Persons operating tractors, corn pickers and other farm implements are urged to see that these implements have a white light visible from the front and a red light or reflector from the rear, when these implements are moved over any public road at dusk or at night.

Motorists are urged to control their speed so that they can always stop safely in the area actually illuminated by their headlights. They should be alert for farm implements on rural roads at this season.

Playing to Both Sides

A good many of us in our attitude toward the evils of this world are rather like the dying Irishman.

"Shure," said Pat, "I've made my peace—but I'm in no position to antagonize anybody!"

Minnesota Post-war Council Offers Advice to Community Planners

The Minnesota Postwar Council today released a booklet titled "A Program for Community Action" which describes a method of organizing community planning councils and suggests several subjects which can form the basis for community surveys, local discussion and development of local plans.

Roy B. Jewett, director of the council, said that community planning councils have already been formed in some Minnesota communities and that several others are under way with the organizational activities. The council's program as contained in the booklet is the result of extensive consultation with local communities and study of local needs over the past several months.

The Minnesota Postwar Council was set up as an agency of the state government by the 1945 legislature. Its objectives include stimulating and coordinating local planning activities. Copies of the booklet, as well as assistance in developing local planning organizations, may be obtained by addressing the Postwar Council office, 202 State Capitol, St. Paul.

TECHNOCRACY
No Place To Live
THE people of the United States have come out of the war with the greatest national debt ever known and the greatest collection of savings deposits, bonds and other financial accumulations. Financially, the United States is the wealthiest country on earth. Who says we aren't? The nation has $130 billion in accumulated savings. It should not worry us that 60 percent of our savings are held by 10 percent of the families; that only 50 percent of the families of the United States have so little security that if they lose their jobs they are only ten days away from the WPA in the richest country on earth. An amazing situation! The increased monetary amount that comes in your pay envelope or your salary check may carry with it the gratification of increased figures, but you find yourself being able to buy less and less with more and more. No cars, no meat, no cotton, no sheets, no shoes, no comfort and no place to live! This is the result of the political stewardship of our national economy.

Why Bert Won First Prize

Folks weren't surprised when Bert Childers won first prize for his corn at the county fair.

Yet the judges admit it wasn't just because Bert had the finest ears of corn. He knew how to display them: neatly arranged, with the husks cleanly trimmed, and the booth white and spotless.

"Trimmings" sure make a difference no matter what you're offering—as Andy Boling, owner of the Garden Tavern, well knows. Andy doesn't just sell good beer. He sells it in a place that's clean and attractive ... in nice surroundings that belong with the enjoyment of a wholesome beverage of moderation.

And Andy, of course, is a wholehearted supporter of "Self Regulation." That's the system by which the brewers and taverns keepers themselves make sure that taverns selling beer are clean and orderly.

From where I sit, people like Andy also rate a "First prize." Not just for the quality of the product —but for the "trimmings" too.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Movies and Children's Conduct

The movies possess the quality of authority. Children accept as correct what the movies portray—error as well as fact. Children use in their play ideas which they gain from the movies; movies stir the ambitions of children and adolescents. They arouse emotions, and affect attitudes.

Consequently, children and young people are easily influenced by the manners, speech, and expressions of favorite movie stars. Since the adolescent in particular is more at ease when he is like his crowd, Hollywood "fads" in dress, speech or manners quickly spread.

There is probably less provincialism in speech among young Americans because of the movies. Attitudes and interests of young people throughout the country are probably more similar today than ever before, because young people everywhere see the same movies, hear the same radio programs. The same thing happens with clothes. An actress appears with hair piled high on her head, and the high school crowd does likewise. In another picture she wears bangs, and soon bangs are the current hair style.

Besides these rather superficial matters of dress, high school youngsters are less likely to be uncertain when attending parties or winning the attention of their friends because they have watched the behavior of favorite actors in similar circumstances. The movies widen the experiences of many young people. Farm boys and girls who may never have traveled on a train know how the interior of a Pullman car looks and can be at home in a situation such as ordering a meal in a diner or restaurant.

We may not realize, but movies and radio provide a common background of experience for many children and youth today, a background which we must consider along with the information and guidance given by reading, chums, school and home.

Modern Methods

Farm Boy (15 minutes late at school)—I couldn't help being late, because I had to brand my three calves. It took me a little extra time to pile them on top of each other.

Teacher (curious)—But why do you have to pile them on top of each other?

F. B.—Oh, that's modern business methods. I used carbon paper!

Schools in Area to Get OPA Office, Equipment

Educational institutions in this area are going to get the thousands of dollars' worth of office equipment and furniture formerly used by OPA boards in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, Arthur W. Carlson, regional director of the War Assets Administration, announced today.

Carlson said that schools will pay only five per cent of fair value to acquire this furniture and equipment urgently needed to handle overflow enrollments which have overtaxed present facilities. Typewriters may be purchased for 40 per cent of fair value.

Sales will be made by the WAA in accordance with allocations made by the Federal Works Agency in Kansas City, which handles requests from schools in this area for surplus property.

Housing Crisis Has Him in Air—in Blimp

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—A crew member of a navy blimp has come up with a new idea for finding a house for his family. While his blimp cruises daily from Lakehurst to Sandy Hook, the sailor watches out for new homes being constructed and marks their location on a map. Then in his free time he pays visits.

Quota System Suspended on Enlistments in Navy

The Navy recruiting substation in Grand Forks has been notified that the quota system has been suspended and is now accepting an unlimited number of enlistments as apprentice seaman for general service.

The waiting list has now been abolished and applicants now applying for enlistment will be transferred within a few days to the main station for enlistment. Most applicants will be transferred to the naval training center at San Diego, Calif. for enlistment. A small quota will be transferred to the naval training center, Great Lakes, Illinois.

The age requirements for first enlistments are 17-30. Applicants are requested to bring a copy of their birth certificates when applying for enlistment. Parents are invited to accompany their sons to the station.

Curbed Motorists

English law in 1595 was a little hard on horseless carriages, in that it required that any carriage not drawn by horses be preceded by a man carrying a red flag, with the further restriction that it could not travel faster than two miles an hour.

Today you are well, but tomorrow . . .

Do you know that one person in eight will be injured this year? That one in six will be taken seriously ill? What would happen if you were the unlucky one? Accidental injury or illness stops income and doubles expenses.

I have a policy that will insure your income—a policy that costs only a few cents a day with benefits unusually liberal.

Let me tell you its remarkable advantages.

Rail Quiz

What was the origin of the railway express service in the United States?

In 1839 W. F. Harnden, pioneer passenger train conductor, conceived the idea of becoming a messenger for business houses in New York and Boston. Equipped with a large carpet bag he traveled between these points and became the world's first express messenger. A special package car went into service soon and more cities were added. He died in 1845 but the express industry he founded grew with development of the railways and the nation.

Egg Provides Variety Of High Food Values

"An egg offers an impressive line-up of food values," points out Miss Hazel Bartley, extension nutritionist. "It is in top class among proteins for tissue building and repair, along with foods like lean meat and milk. The egg yolk holds a rich store of iron for red blood cells, and phosphorus and other minerals besides. The fat of the yolk is of exceptional quality for good nutrition too. And in the vitamin alphabet, an egg offers three B vitamins—thiamine, riboflavin and niacin—plus vitamins A and D in varying amounts.

"Buy either white or brown eggs because they're equally good. Store eggs in a closed container in the refrigerator to keep them fresh and do not wash them before storing because washing removes the natural protective shell coating which helps to keep them fresh. There are many ways of preparing eggs and the secret of success is low-cooking temperature. High temperature and overcooking toughen the protein, making the whites tough and the yolks less mealy."

MOST MOTHERS DO THIS
If Baby Has A Cold

AT BEDTIME rub Vicks VapoRub on baby's throat, chest, back with Vicks Roll-Ease. Its 3-way action starts instantly . . .

WORKS FOR HOURS while child sleeps. Often by morning most distress of the cold is gone.

Best-known home remedy you can use to relieve distress of children's colds is comforting Vicks VapoRub. Even while you rub it on, VapoRub starts to work to ease distress . . . and it keeps on working during the night. No wonder most mothers always do this when a cold strikes.

OFFICIALS ARE UNEASY OVER COAL SUPPLIES

Effects of Current Strike are Discussed at Meeting on Monda

With an early settlement of soft coal miners' strike not in prospect this week, the effects of a prolonged shutdown of the mines were discussed at a meeting in the council chamber Monday afternoon, called by Major Wm. J. Dquville.

Speaking for local coal dealers, A. 3. McLaughlin stated that, while there is a good supply of fuel at the head of the lakes, there is danger of it being diverted to other areas than the Northwest. He added that apparently more coal is now in local bins than in recent past years, but urged consumers to save all fuel they possibly could.

Pastors of local churches reported supplies on hand that will carry them for from two weeks to three months, while hospital custodians said they had a several weeks supply on hand. Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted stated that the grade schools have enough fuel to carry them until January 15, while Lincoln high school, which uses a carload every ten days, has a two-weeks supply on hand.

Appointment of James W Clark, Minnesota resources commissioner, as state fuel conservator, was announced Monday by Gov. Thye. Named at request of Secretary of the Interior Krug, Clark will serve in an advisory capacity to local community committees responsible for conserving coal supplies.

Clark said he would take an immediate inventory of the coal supply at head of the lake docks.

Thye urged Minnesotans to take every step to conserve fuel, and suggested cities reduce the electrical load by dimming street and advertising lights.

The government tightened controls over the nation's dwindling soft coal supplies Monday by putting new curbs on deliveries to schools and federal, state and municipal governments.

The solid fuels administration ruled that schools and government establishments must apply for coal to the Washington office.

Coal deliveries may be made by retail dealers without specific authority from SFA to public utilities, railroads, laundries, hospitals, dairies, bakeries and other essential installations.

The SFA order directed field offices specifically to hold emergency stocks strictly for:

1. Public utilities which render public service by supplying communities electrically, gas, sewage disposal service or street railway transportation.

2. Railroads, laundries, hospitals, food processing plants, dairies, bakeries, refrigeration plants, steamship or tugboats for bunker or galley fuel and for heating dwellings, apartments and hotels.

Blackhawk Portable Steel KITCHEN BASE CABINETS

TWO SIZES TO CHOOSE FROM

18 Inch Width 25.50 24 Inch Width 29.50

Read These Outstanding Features and Specifications of These Space Savers:

1. Top—white acid-resistant finish. Porcelain applied in individual coats baked on at approximately 1600°.
2. Cabinet completely set up.
3. Drawer heads and doors are 5/8 inch thick.
4. Drawer slides are welded into position.
5. Base cabinets have stationary shelf which has been welded into position—and has the same rigidity features as Blackhawk wall cabinets.
6. Catch locks on the underside of the shelf.
7. Leaf hinges.
8. Handles are plastic, streamlined and durable.
9. Sides and backs are completely enclosed making them rodent proof.
10. The base cabinet proper is 19½ inches deep, the top is 22½ inches, which gives a lip of 1¾ inches in front eliminating the possibility of water, etc., running down the front of the cabinet. The top protrudes 1½ inches at the back of the cabinet, eliminating the necessity of removing the baseboard to insure the cabinet top being flush against the wall.

WHO WILL PAY?

Pressure groups of various kinds are making demands on the legislature for huge appropriations that will greatly increase the cost of state government for years to come. Few of these pressure groups, however, suggest how this increased cost should be met. For this reason it is encouraging to receive a letter from one organization suggesting a tax program to meet increasing costs, which, it does nothing more, at least emphasizes the difficulty of raising more revenue. The suggestions are as follows:

1. Increase the state tax on liquor $1 a gallon, to become effective when the present federal liquor taxes are reduced.
2. Pass an enabling act permitting municipalities to tax amusements when the federal government repeals its taxes on amusements.
3. Increase the state royalty and occupations taxes to 13½%.
4. Increase gross earnings taxes from 5 to 6%.
5. Increase individual income tax exemptions from $1.000 for single persons to $2,000, and from $2,000 for married persons to $2,600.

Most members of the legislature probably would be glad to adopt this 5-point program as a solution if it were a solution. This program would not pay many bills however.

Points 1 and 2 would produce revenue but not for many years to come if we have to wait for Uncle Sam to cut taxes in these fields.

Points 3 would increase revenue if there is no decrease in the number of tons of ore mined. In 1943, a war boom year, these taxes brought $5,335,000 to the state revenue fund at the present rate of 10½%. A 4% increase might add another $2,000,000 on that same volume of production. But production is not expected to remain at that level.

Point 4 would also increase revenue if there is no decrease in the volume of business of the companies paying gross earnings taxes. In 1943 these taxes brought in about $12,000,000 of which about 10 millions were paid by the railroad companies. A 20% increase would bring in an additional $2,000,000 if revenues did not shrink, but revenues are expected to shrink. And this tax as far as the railroads are concerned, cannot be increased without a constitutional amendment.

Point 5 probably would offset by reduced income whatever increases in income might be derived from the other four increases.

In other words, if this program were adopted there would be no increased revenue with which to meet increased costs. The sad fact remains that the state is moving into a period of increasing costs with several important sources of revenue producing less income than during the war years.

The easy way out for the legislature would be to pay current costs by borrowing. That is one thing that should not be done, regardless of how heavy the load might be.

PROWLERS WILL OPEN BASKETBALL SCHEDULE FRIDAY

Fosston Greyhounds to Furnish Opposition in Lincoln Gymnasium

The Prowlers will open the high school's basketball season here Friday night by meeting their traditional opening game rivals, the Fosston Greyhounds, on the gymnasium floor. Coach John Lindenmeyer, having only four returning lettermen on the varsity squad, will send an inexperienced team on the floor against Dick Seebach's Fosston club. Don Engelstad, Marlo Davidson, Glen Magnuson, and Dick Boreson are the lettermen available, and with Chuck Troland, they will probably be the starting five.

Coach Lindenmeyer intimated that the game will give him opportunity to test a number of his promising sophomore squad members, and that means that he intends to play such boys as Joe Bradley, John Gullingsrud, Keith Jorde, Harley Wagner, Allan Williamson, and Johnny Winters. Others who will probably see action Friday night are Palmer Ronholm, Chuck Erickson, Bob Olson, and Jim Samuelson.

The Prowlers suffered a loss this week when Ronnie Hanson, a strong candidate for center, was forced to withdraw from the squad. Ronnie, who played a few games with the Prowlers last season, was advised by his physician to refrain from basketball.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

Having His Troubles

Wally DuChamp, the city's high average bowler for the past several years, is having difficulty in getting his new ball, and the boys under control this season. For instance in the Commercial League averages, Wally has a mark of 171, and there are six other bowlers with averages higher than that. Jes DuChamp, Wolly's brother, has a 182, Walt Ekeren a 181, Ed Carlson a 180, Wally Olson and Wally Carlson have 175's and Don Johnson a 173. Yes, Wally is pretty much ashamed of that measly 171.

In the Straightaway League, Wally's average is at a creditable 179, but he still finds that some of the boys are a couple of rungs ahead of him in the averages. Ambrose Wysoski, of the Len's Tires, has a fine 188 average, Jess DuChamp of the Oen's has a 181 and so has the Tunberg Motors Wally Carlson, Vic Jung of the Len's Tires has a 179 for a tie with Wally. Wysoski's 188 mark is the average that Wally will have to catch, and that will take some bowling, for the former Warren bowler has been rolling consistent scores.

Wally, though, is still a good bet to take one of the high average titles, and if he can get his new ball to bending right and if he quits worrying about how brother Jess bowls, he'll get along all right.

Lots of Splinters

Wally Olson of the Hartz Office team turned in a "wood chopping" act Thursday night, for he spilled Oscar Cerny's pins over the alleys for a 268-pin single game score, getting a league record. Wally had eight strikes in a row in posting that score, and with games of 214 and 171, gave him an aggregate of 653. Incidentally, the Hartz office team holds first place in the Commercial League standings.

The Ambitious DeMolays

The city's DeMolays must be given a pat on the back for the manner in which they have gone about organizing their independent basketball program. The boys, and they look resplendent in their new uniforms, opened their schedule by playing Newfolden here last night.

The DeMolays are using the Auditorium floor and the boys put in considerable time and labor in getting the surface ready for play for they had to paint in the lines, put a coat of varnish on the floor and erect baskets and backboards. Let's hope that the fans give Owen "Fast Break" Kormo, Jack Scanlon, Dick Davidson, Wayne Gothe, Jim Powell, Al Hanson, and Hal Ekeren, and the others on the squad, some support by attending the games the boys play.

Just Like Mice

The high school's senior boys surely weren't men when they bowled the high school's senior girls in an informal tournament at the Mint Sunday. Look at these scores: Don LaSalle, 91; Don Engelstad, 130; Chuck Troland, 132; Bob Olson, 100; Larry Hylden, 82; and Arnold Narverud, 102, for a total of 637. While the girls had games like this Marlyce Stenhaug, 109; Lois Steineke, 91; Doris Jorde, 140; Jacky Kierk, 104; Joyce Stadum, 161; and Barb Elofson, 96, for a total of 792.

Apparently the senior girls coaches, Marian Bruflodt and Betty Kircher, have done a better job than the boys tutors, Don Nelson and Babe Paulson.

Brownie Scouts are busy making Thanksgiving favors for the hospitals, old people's home, and the sanatorium.

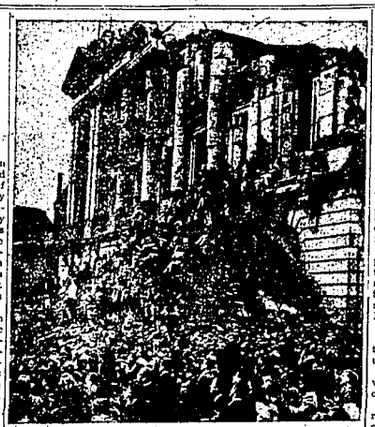
GARDEN VALLEY PHONE CO. SEEKS INCREASED RATES

Railroad and Warehouse Commission Arranges Hearing on Proposal

Of interest to telephone users in St. Hilaire, Goodridge, Grygla and other towns tributary to Thief River Falls which are served by the Garden Valley Telephone Company after operating for exactly 25 years without a change in its rural telephone rates, except those for metallic service, and only minor changes in its rates, the Garden Valley Telephone company has finally reached a point where it becomes necessary to change its rate set-up.



Most of the rural lines have been operated on a dollar-a-month rate for all these years, and considering the small amount of income available for the upkeep of the company's equipment, a tremendous service has been rendered to the communities that have been served. Business and town residence rates have also been very low as compared to the rates asked by other companies. However, the company's plant is becoming old and because of lack of supplies during the last few years, the service has in some points suffered considerably.

According to C. M. Ostby, general manager o fthe company a complete survey has been made of the company equipment and in order that the best service may be rendered it becomes absolutely imperative that extensive rebuilding be done. Another factor entering into the reconditioning of the plant is the "high line hum" that interferes with the voice transmission where ever the power lines parallel the telephone lines. This interference will make it necessary to run two wires instead of one for all rural lines, and to every one of the company's 2000 rural subscribers; besides laying of several thousand feet of underground cable in the town networks.

The company recently employed the firm of Quail & Macoubrey, telephone accountants to work out a financial plan which would take by Telephone company and this care of the rehabilitation of the Garden Valley plant and put the service back on the high plane that the subscribers want and are entitled to. Their findings show that because of the increase in cost of materials, most of which has doubled in the last ten years, because of the increases of wages already granted, and because of the need of a general overhaul of the company property, the telephone rates must of necessity be increased.

With this in mind, the railroad and warehouse commission was asked to hold hearings on an application for increase in the rates, and such hearings are being granted. The commission has asked that formal notice of hearing be published in the newspapers of the territory served by the Garden Val notice, giving the time and place of hearing, as well as a schedule of the present and proposed rates, is published elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

Mr. Ostby states further that the hearings scheduled are open to the public, in fact are held with the understanding that the Railroad and Warehouse Commission will listen to any complaints, requests or suggestions that may be made by subscribers with regard to the telephone service being rendered, or with regard to the proposed rate schedule.

ESCAPE IN FRANKFURT . . . Although it must seem unusually tame to people who have looked aloft in terror as Allied bombers showered down their loads of death and destruction, the aerial show in battered Frankfurt proved a main attraction for war-weary citizens who tried to forget a multitude of troubles that beset them.

LOCAL JOB OFFICE NOW RUN BY STATE

U. S. Government Turns Back Control of Agency

Now, it's the State Employment Service. The 37 field offices in Minnesota including one at Thief River Falls, which during the war and since have been under federal control and have been called, popularly the USES on Monday, Nov. 18, were opened for business under the jurisdiction of the Minnesota division of Employment and security of which Victor Christgau is director.

With this change an important phase of public service gets back to its pre-war status. Christgau is now directing, in the organization, three of the most important public services directly concerned with Minnesota's economic structure:

(1) The Employment Service,

(2) Unemployment compensation which pays weekly benefits to unemployed civilians, and

(3) Readjustment allowances to veterans who do not have suitable employment.

In addition USES has important responsibilities in correction with counseling veterans as to their employment problems.

As the employment service, loaned to the federal government by Minnesota authorities in 1942, came back to the state, payments to jobless persons were the lowest they have been since the war ended.

About 3,400 civilians are now drawing unemployment compensation, compared with 24,225 in March. Currently, 10870, veterans are getting weekly benefits compared with 50,090 last April.

Gully Man to Share in Adm. Byrd Expedition

When Admiral Byrd's scientific expedition leaves about Dec. 1 for the Antarctic, a Gully man will be one of the group, says the Poston paper.

He is Motor Machinist's Mate 3/c Winton Knudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Knudson of Gully.

It is expected that about 150 men will be included in the group and preparations are being rushed for leaving in order to take advantage of the warmest season down there. This is spring in the Antarctic.

Although secrecy surrounds the actual details of the expedition, it is believed that numerous phases of scientific study will be undertaken, including radio and aviation observation.

"BY THEIR DOGS YE SHALL KNOW THEM"

Redwood Falls—'Tis said a bad man and a good dog don't associate. So maybe the Redwood Falls lad was on the right track when he told his folks if he was old enough hed vote fo Tom Reed. Asked why, he said, "Because Mr. Reed has the nicest dog in town".

Famous last words: I'd better get the snow cleaned of this wind shield at the next town; I can't see two feet in front of me.

SANDING ICY ROADS NO ACCIDENT CURE

Highway Dept. Issues Warning to Motorists

An augmented program of sanding trunk highways when slippery is planned by the Minnesota highway department. Motorists, however, are cautioned by C. L. Motl, maintenance engineer, not to depend on sanding against accidents.

Sanding icy roads is not a cure for accidents," said Mr. Motl. "Sanding on hills, curves and approaches to stop signs is done to help careful drivers. It will not help careless drivers.

"If Minnesota vehicle owners will look on the back of the envelope in which they receive their 1947 license plates from Mike Holm, secretary of state, they will find a chart issued by the National Safety Council showing the relative distances required for stopping on various road surfaces. This chart, based on actual tests, shows that it takes four times as far to stop on a sanded icy road as it does on a dry road surface. Save this envelope and study it.

"The best rule is to control your speed at all times according to conditions so that you can stop safely whenever necessary. Slow down at curves and intersections. Slow down some distance back when you approach a stop sign. Don't follow other vehicles too closely."

Park Rapids Farmer to be Presented with Skelly Award Nov. 30

"Hogging" the agricultural limelight this week is the 160-acre farm of Fred Cochran of Park Rapids in Hubbard County, Minn. Production of pork, butterfat and eggs have contributed to the selection of Fred Cochrun as recipient of the W. C. Skelly Award for Superior achievement in Agriculture on Nov. 30.

The 10 members of the committee of Awards chose this farm as representative of thousands of midwestern farms for outstanding farm production, and soil conservation methods. Production figures include 12,000 pounds of pork, 4,000 pounds of butterfat and 1,100 dozen eggs. Field crops average 50 acres of corn, 70 of oats and 100 of pasture and hay.

A four-year crop rotation and some pasture improvement work contributes to the productiveness of the land. The conservation program of the Triple A has been followed and both gypsum and phosphates are used.

The Cochrans, Fred and Ethel, have maintained the farm during the war years with very little outside help while three of their four sons were in uniform.

SCHOOL BUS LAW BEING ENFORCED

5 Motorists Arrested for Failing to Stop

Five arrests for endangering the lives of children boarding or leaving school busses were conspicuous in the Minnesota highway department's October report of highway patrol activities. Due to the serious hazard involved, the patrol proposes to arrest all drivers found violating the school bus stop law.

The state traffic act requires all vehicles to stop when meeting or overtaking school busses stopping to pick up or discharge school children, and to remain stopped until loading or unloading is completed. This rule applies on all roads outside business or residential districts.

Other activities reported showed that the patrolmen continued their policy of making arrests for only the more serious accident-producing types of traffic law violations. For each arrest in October, four motorists were given warning tickets, oral warning, or "must repair" tickets.

Warnings tickets were issued to 712 violators. These tickets are entered on drivers license records and repeated offenses may bring arrest or license suspension. Oral warnings were given to 2,555 persons, including 102 pedestrians. Tickets requiring prompt repair of bad brakes and other unsafe equipment were issued to 1,592 drivers, covering a toal of 2,415 equipment deficiencies.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Child's Social Relations with Adults

What aims for the child do we seek in the adult-child social relationship?

1. Friendliness without overdependence.

2. An opportunity to develop initiative.

3. Acceptance of necessary and proper guidance.

4. A chance to try out methods of response and an acceptance of the consequences.

How can we achieve such aims? Provide many social experiences for the child; include companions of his own age and level of development so he can complete successfully with his contemporaries. Furnish opportunities for meeting adults other than parents or immediate family. Set a good example for the child to follow. Be tolerant and sympathetic, point out the good characteristics in one's neighbors, not their faults. Explain why adults act as they do. Mrs. Smith is growing old; he is a trifle forgetful now, and busy. He used to be a fine baseball player, and he wants you boys to play a skillful game. That's why he tells you about the good players he knew, and gives you advice on how to play. He doesn't mean to interfere—he really trying to help. He likes young people and wants to see them succeed."

Children no longer are expected to be seen and not heard. Give them a chance to meet and talk to adults. Children may be encouraged to take part in the entertainment of guests. On some occasions parents should let children carry the burden of the entertainment. In giving children such opportunities, parents should be careful to teach children to show a lively interest in the adult guests and not just parade their own exploits and interests.

Practice the same courtesy to get ward your child and his friends that you expect him to show toward your friends. Be reasonable in your requests, and willing on occasion to adjust yourself to your child's requests. You will find him generally more cooperative with you. Above all, make the child's social relationship with adults pleasant.

He doesn't like THANKSGIVING

You occasionally find people like this. They say, "What is there to be thankful for? There is a shortage of food... we can't build a home or buy a car, there are controls on everything... even controls on controls. Thanksgiving? Phooey!!!"

We Americans are people-lovers; fight, bite, telephones, radios... they get better—use any people in the world... they travel with greater convenience and faster... they have the privilege of expressing their opinions—good or bad... their children have the opportunity for educating regardless of race or creed ...they enjoy a standard of living that is unequaled in history... these diverse a land where opportunity still exists. We Americans... every day should be a day of Thanksgiving.

And now... let's get personal! Here at the Union State Bank, we are thankful for the privilege of serving you. And ... for your understanding during the war years; for your patience in this readjustment period; and for giving us your business, which tells us you like our service, we say

THANK YOU!

VA-Minnesota Medical Service Arrangement Now in Effect in State

There is now effective in Minnesota a new program known as the VA—state medical plan for eligible veterans. This program will enable any eligible veteran to get medical treatment from a physician of his own choice and then have his prescriptions filled at any participating pharmacy in his community, without cost to himself.

This procedure is a major step in decentralizing veterans' medical care and was brought about under the direction of General Hawley, who was assigned the stupendous job of providing better medical care for the 14 million veterans of this last War than had been possible for the 2 million veterans of the first World War.

The plan is now effective in practically every state of the Union. It will greatly ease the overcrowding of veterans' hospitals, and, at the same time, lessen the need for building additional hospitals for veterans. Local hospitals and community physicians will be given a dominant part in its operation and community pharmacies authorized to supply, without cost to the veteran his requirements for prescription medicines and other medical requisites.

DEPARTMENT OF WHO-KNOWS-WHEN

A postcard mailed at Hedgesville, Mont., Sept. 3, 1945, was delivered to the correct address in Duluth November 15, 1946. The present resident is now looking for the folks who lived there 31 years ago. When Harold Severson and Frank Callister worked on The Kenyon, Minn., Leader back in 1936, the British king renounced his throne to marry a commoner. One said he did the courageous thing, the other accused him of cowardice. They made a wager as to history's appraisal of the incident, to be settled in ten years by Dr. A. C. Krey, chairman of the history department of the University of Minnesota. Severson is now the editor of the Southern Agriculturist in Nashville, Tenn., Callister is still on the staff of the Kenyon newspaper. December 7 is the date for the decision, and Dr. Krey probably wishes they had made it 100 years hence instead of only 10.

Symbols have always been inspiringly helpful. This is because the association of ideas is an instinctive process of thinking. We smell a flower, taste a pie, hear music, see a sunset, a rocking chair or a pair of baby shoes and we recall tender associations with a personality each symbol brings to mind.

This is true with individuals and in the composite thinking of millions. Plymouth Rock; The Liberty Bell; The Statue of Liberty; Lincoln's Memorial and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. These are national symbols which will always have tremendous power in keeping the minds of Americans fixed upon our way of life, making us always mindful of the blessings and the responsibilities of LIBERTY.

A family monument is a symbol of affection, of unity and high character. To remember and honor our forebears is to champion freedom and other American doctrines so dear to them and to us. It brings to us the understanding that the history of EACH FAMILY is an inseparable part of the history of the country, state and nation . . . for, lest we forget, America is a democracy, great only because of the composite character of its citizens. Each has a personal responsibility to maintain the high average of American ideals. We must hold fast to the pride and faith of our fathers in this Sweet Land of Liberty.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Lesson In Conservation

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, chatting over a glass of beer—when the talk turns to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Judge Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far bigger problem when it comes to conservation—and that's preserving our democratic way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

From where I sit, the Judge is right. All America's great resources, our abundant natural wealth, are lost the minute we lose the right to work them as free people in a free land!

Whenever you see or hear of an encroachment on our rights—whether it's the right to free speech, or the right to vote as we see fit, or the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer in licensed, law-abiding places . . . watch out!

Simple, Isn't It?

"It's surprising," remarked the professor to his wife at breakfast, "to think how ignorant we all are. Nearly every man is a specialist in his own particular line and in consequence we are all narrow minded."

"Yes, dear," said his wife.

"I, for instance," he continued, "am ashamed of my failure to keep abreast of modern science. Take the electric light, for instance. I haven't the least idea how it works."

His wife gave him a patronizing look, and smiled.

"Why, Herbert! I'm ashamed of you too. It's simple! You just press a switch, that's all!"

POOR CRAFTSMAN

A professor, in a genial mood, met a friend of his and said to him, "Do you know, Jim? This is a strange life. This morning I was shaved by a man who really is, I suppose, a cut above being a barber. I know of my own knowledge that he has contributed scientific articles to some of our best magazines and journals, and has numbered among his intimate friends men of the highest social and intellectual standing in Europe and America. And yet he can't shave a man decently."

"Is, friend was astounded. "But why," he asked, "with all those accomplishments—why is he a barber?"

The professor smiled. "He isn't. You see, Jim, this morning I shaved myself."

SUGAR DIRECTOR NAMED AT FARGO

Rationing Procedure Outlined by Agency

Appointment of William J. Hunter, Fargo, as branch sugar director, was announced today by James S. Lamb, director of the Fargo—Moorhead OPA district.

Hunter, who has been district price executive for the OPA, will head the new branch sugar office, Universal Building, Fargo, which takes over the sugar rationing functions of the district office in the reorganizational set up of the Office of Price Administration.

Specific information as to how consumers will obtain sugar rations under the new sugar branch office was released today by Lamb.

"With elimination of the district OPA office in Fargo by Dec. 1st, the sugar branch office will receive all but three types of consumer applications for sugar, Lamb explained.

"Although application forms will be available at the office in Fargo, the following consumer applications should be mailed to the regional issuance unit, 503 East Illinois street, Chicago, which now is handling issuances of family ration books and other consumer ration evidence:

1. Application for sugar ration book (Form R-146).

2. Application for replacement of family ration book (Form R-104).

3. Application for furlough or temporary rations (Form-353)

"Special sugar requirements, such as those for illness cases and for bee-feeders and sheepherders will be handled by the Fargo office," Lamb stated.

Institutional and industrial users will continue to send their applications to the Fargo sugar branch office, as they sent them to the OPA district office, according to Lamb.

THE CASE OF THE MISSING ANIMALS

Some hunters stopped at the Atwater home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lund, then drove on to Minneapolis. When they opened the trunk of their car Lund's dog "Sport" was comfortably curled up enjoying his trip. When Leo Milow drove into Fairmont to attend a meeting he couldn't understand why people looked so curiously at his car until he discovered a rooster crouched on a front fender. Not knowing where the passenger was picked up and not finding a willing recipient for a gift, Mr. Milow left the visitor to get acquainted with the city on his own.

NEW VARIETIES OF GRAIN INTRODUCED

Clinton Oats Not Yet Generally Available

Considerable interest has been around in Clinton oats, a new variety that has recently been developed at the Iowa experiment station. This variety according to O. C. Solne, Agronomist at the Northwest School and Station, Crookston, will not be available for general distribution this coming year because the Iowa Station is not releasing any seed stocks. For this reason a warning has been issued by the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association against buying Clinton oats unless it is properly certified and can be traced back to the foundation seed stock.

There are two new varieties of oats, Mindo and Bonda, that will be available in limited amounts this coming year. These varieties were increased this past season by several approved growers under contract to the experiment station. This contract has been lifted and these growers are being asked to release at least fifty per cent of their crop to other growers.

Mindo and Bonda were developed by the Minnesota experiment station and are superior to the present Minnesota varieties. Both are early maturing, resistant to the smuts, crown rust, stem rust including race 8, and a new disease (Helminthosprolum 96). Both have very stiff straws and have yielded more than either Vicland or Tapa.

There are a few other varieties of oats that should be mentioned. Ajax is not a new variety, but there seems to be a renewed interest in it. It was developed in Canada and is an early, white, high yielding variety. It is susceptible to crown rust, smuts and halo blight. It has yielded very good for the past two years because rust has not been severe. Benton is another variety that has been developed at Iowa and is a sister-selection of Clinton. It is very similar to Clinton and it has a slightly larger straw than the former. In yield, it is slightly lower than Clinton. Forvic is a new variety which has been developed at the Wisconsin Experiment Station and is very similar to Vicland in yield and resistance to diseases. It is susceptible to Race 8 stem rust and Helminthosporium 96. The limiting factor with all these new varieties will be the small amount of seed available.

There are a few new varieties of flax that may be available in limited amounts this coming spring. Dakota is a brown-seeded variety developed by the North Dakota Experiment Station. It has good yielding ability, rust resistant, and oil of good quality but the oil percentage is somewhat low. Cheyenne is an early, brown-seeded variety of flax developed at the North Dakota Experimnet Station. It has good resistance to rust and moderately good resistance to pasmo and wilt diseases. It has only a moderate yielding ability.

A Bunch of Lilies

Monty Woolley, the man with the razorless beard and the razor-edged tongue, looked as if he had suffered a change of heart as he came beaming into a hotel with a stunning bouquet of flowers. He said to the manager:

"These flowers are for the phone girls."

Overcome by such graciousness, the manager burst out: "Oh, thank you, sir. You compliment our service."

Woolley's eye transfixed him on an icy dagger.

"Compliment, nothing!" he bawled. "I thought they were all dead."

Quick Thinking

A film actor and his wife were seated in a secluded corner of their club. The wife had a tongue like a shrew and was berating her husband in no uncertain terms.

Unnoticed by her, a party of acquaintances approached within earshot, just as she delivered herself of this: "You mean skunk! Of all the slimy snakes I think you are the worst. You're just a cheap skate!"

Noticing the people who had just arrived, the husband, who deserves a medal for tact, said: "Quite right, my dear; and what else did you say to him?"

STATE FARMERS UNION ELECTS

New York Mills Man Again Named President

Elnar Kuivinen, New York Mills farmer, and former president of Minnesota Farmers union, was returned to that office at closing sessions of the fifth annual FU convention at Willmar Saturday.

Kuivinen won over incumbent Franklin Clough, Lake Lillian, by a 3,782 to 2,304 vote.

Instrumental in reforming the state organization five years ago, Kuivinen was its first president and served three years before resigning.

Edwin Christianson, Gully, incumbent vice president, was unopposed.

Elected to the board of directors for two-year terms were Wendell Miller, Hanley Falls and Freda Eisert, Euclid. Roy Lindahl, Madison, was named to fill the unexpired term of O. E. Reimnitz, Worthington, who had resigned. Hold-over director is William Cassavant, Red Lake Falls.

Resolutions designed to improve federal agricultural programs and give the individual farmer more voice in their application were prominent in the 1947 program adopted Saturday. They included:

National production goals should be set with support prices figured on a new basis, so that such prices will cover all commonly accepted farm costs including payment of all labor and costs of proper soil conservation practices.

The national farm program should be placed on a self-financing basis so that the farmers may fully control the marketing of their products by giving farmers the right to bargain collectively.

"Let's have a glass of Friendly".

When folks speak of Grain Belt, more and more of them simply call it "a glass of Friendly." That's the natural thing to do, because Grain Belt is so widely known as the drink of friends, a companion to good fellowship. So next time say, "Let's have a Friendly."

RADIO STATIONS START 26TH YEAR OF BROADCASTING

Stations and Dealers Noting Anniversary During Current Week

Radio stations and radio dealers are making all-out plans to participate in National Radio Week, November 24-30, Henry K. Arneson, owner of Station KTRF, now under construction at Thief River Falls, announced today. November is the 26th anniversary of the inaugration of broadcasting.

"Radio broadcasting was born in 1920", Mr. Arneson said, "In that time it has come a long way. We all remember that it started with inconvient and not always successful headphone battery, crystal sets, and then graduated to battery powered table models requiring 3-dial tuning—more successful but hardly more convenient. And we all remember the early programs, limited pretty largely to dance bands, whispering pianists, and records. "Today we have high-fidelity, push-button, all-wave sets selling for a fraction of the price of the old battery sets, and we have the greatest programs the world can offer—the best symphonies and operas, top-flight drama, up-to-the minute, sermons, debates, quizzes, and the freshest, cleverest, funniest comedians in the business.

"And better things are on the threshold. Statiicless FM radio will be here tomorow, Television the next day, and the Facsimile home-printed radio newspaper the day after, and in the meantime program experimentation goes on.

"Radio is fully conscious of its responsibility to serve the public interest, and is determined to follow this principle without deviation. Station KTRF will soon be completed and on the air and will be happy to have the privilege of serving the people of the Thief River Falls area with the earnest desire to give its prospective listeners nothoing but the best in radio listening."

Civic & Commerce Plans Next Meeting Dec. 12th

SOCIAL ITEMS

Nuptial Vows Spoken by Elfie Hanson and Ernest Erickson Sunday

Miss Elfie Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Syvert Hanson, became the bride of Ernest Erickson, son of John Erickson, at a single ring ceremony performed at the Silverton Lutheran Church at 4:30 Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24, Rev. E. O. Grasss officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with tall baskets of assorted mums, lighted candelabra, yellow ribbon rosettes marking each pew, and a white carpeted aisle.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Wilhelm Hanson, sister-in-law of the bride, wearing a gray silk dress & a corsage of lavender and white mums, presented a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Berdie Wade, of Hillsboro, N. D., gowned in pale green faille, with a corsage of yellow and white mums, sang "Dieg Elsker Dig" by Grieg and, while the bridal couple were kneeling at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Hanson was lovely in a white gown fashioned by herself, with a fitted bodice of brocaded satin, sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The full skirt of slipper satin extended into a gown train, as did the full-length veil, which fell from a halo of ruffled net and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and white roses entwined by a corsage of gardenias, and wore a double-strand pearl necklace, the groom's gift.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was a close friend, Mrs. Ray Wengeler and Miss Marjorie Ofstedahl was bridesmaid. Both attendants were attired in floor length gowns of white net with full ruffled skirts, fitted bodices, and sweetheart necklines. In their hair they wore tiara of white chrysanthemums ending in shoulder-length chapel veils and wore short white gloves with net ruffles. They carried colonial bouquets of white mums and yellow roses with yellow ribbon streamers and wore gold crosses and the brides gifts, gold earrings.

Three-year-old Susan Bakke, the groom's little niece, was flower girl in a floor-length dress of organdy, which carried out the yellow in the color scheme. Her colonial bouquet was a tiny replica of the bridesmaid's.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hanson wore an aqua wool dress with brown accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

Bjarne Aune of Gatzke, a friend of the groom, was best man and the bride's brothers, Silas Hanson and Wilhelm Hanson, were the other gentlemen attendents.

Mr and Mrs. Hanson were hosts at a reception for 150 guests in the church parlors following the ceremony. The tables were in the church parlors following the ceremony. The tables were decorated with yellow and green streamers, and black suit, a black fitted coat, black accessories, and a gardenia corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school, 1941, and was employed as county 4-H club agent. Mr. Erickson is a graduate of Lincoln high school, 1939, and since his release from the armed forces, has been majoring in art at the University of Southern California.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Norval Falland and Mrs. Lena Haugen of Karlstad, Mr. and Mrs. Ingvald Hanson of Twin Valley, and Mrs. Elmer H. Anderson of Blair, Wisc.

Saturday, December 7, will be the fifth anniversary of Pearl Harbor. Five eventful years have passed since the sneak attack that put us into the war officially, a war that was not much more than two years old at that time, dating it back to the attack on Poland. By all odds they have been the most eventful seven years of recorded history. Considering what has happened, it isn't strange that there still is confusion in the world. On the contrary it is remarkable that there is not more disorder. There are many things we have reason to be concerned about today, but dark as the present outlook may be, that outlook is bright compared with the possibilities we looked forward to in the days and weeks and months of five years ago. The struggle to win the war was not always encouraging. We have little reason to be dismayed because our progress to win the peace is not as rapid as we would like it to be.

Big question before the country now is how will we get coal if the miners refuse to go back to work. The answer is that we will get it somehow. A nation will not suffer from cold very long when fuel is available for those who are willing to work. Citizens of Thief River Falls would not go through the winter without electricity merely because a few individuals decided that the power plant should not be operated, and that is a good parallel to the problems we now face as a nation. The government will see to it that coal is mined, or we will cease to have government in its present form. The real problem is not the pain that John L. Lewis is causing us. This pain is merely another symptom. We will continue to have these pains until we find a way to settle labor problems by orderly methods. In the interests of the country as a whole and in the interests of labor itself we must establish a procedure for settling these differences without going to war. The problem here is largely one of figuring out how to limit the authority of the nobility and still protect the rights of the rank and file. It isn't an easy problem to solve and it can't be solved by prejudice and intolerance. Better we don't try to solve it all in a day.

It is our intention next week to tell readers of the great family journal that there are only ten shopping days left, etc.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved wife, mother, and grandmother, who went to be with her Saviour, Dec. 2, 1945.
She always learned to watch for us,
Anxious if we are late—
In winter, by the window,
In summer by the gate.
Her thoughts were all so full of us,
She never could forget!
And so we think that where she is,
She must be watching yet.
Waiting till we come home to her,
Anxious if we are late—
Watching from Heaven's window,
Leaning from Heaven's gate.
—John Larson and family. 49c

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Arthur Thompson who died one year ago Dec. 5, 1946.
Our lips cannot tell how we miss him,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say
God alone knows how we miss him
In a home that is lonesome today.
Sadly missed by wife and children, father and mother, brothers and sisters. 49c

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this means of extending to all friends and neighbors my sincere gratitude and appreciation for the kindness and sympathy in the recent loss of my dear husband. I want to thank Rev. Halmrast for his word of comfort and Mr. and Mrs. Neseth for the beautiful song and to all those who so generously contributed towards flowers and memorials, and I also want to thank the pastor, friends and neighbors who visited my husband during his long illness. God bless you all.—Mrs. Emma Larson. 49c

Prowlers Defeated by Fosston Quint 19 to 15 in First Tilt

The luckless Prowlers, failing to score a field goal in the first half, dropped a 19 to 15 decision to Dick Seebach's Fosston Greyhounds here Friday night in the opening game of the basketball schedule. In a preliminary game, the Prowler 'B' team rallied in the second half to edge out the Goodridge high school five, 23 to 10. This week the Prowler varsity will engage in a pair of contests, playing the Red Lake Falls team here on Friday night, and then traveling to Bemidji for an encounter with the Lumberjacks on Saturday night.

Glen Magnuson's free throw accounted for the first point Friday night, and gave the Prowlers a short-lived lead, but Roy Bjornerud, the game's high scorer, drove in for a Fosston field goal to erase that lead, and from then on the Greyhounds had control of the score. Bjornerud added another field goal and a free throw to the Fosston total in the period, while Davidson counted a Prowler free throw, giving the Greyhounds a 5 to 2 advantage at the end of the first period.

Both teams continued to miss shots in the second period, but the Greyhounds picked up five points on Glen Whaley's field goal, a pair of gift shots by Bjornerud, and a free throw by Chuck Aakhus. The Prowlers solo point was credited when Don Engelstad looped in a free throw.

After three minutes of play, and with the score 14 to 3 for Fosston, Don Engelstad lifted a one-handed field goal into the east goal for the Prowlers, and seconds later Marlo Davidson popped in a left-handed shot. Bjornerud, hitting the basket from all angles, tossed in four Fosston field goals in the period, giving the Greyhounds an 18 to 7 lead as the teams began the final period.

The Prowlers made a strong rally in the fourth period, scoring eight points, with Williamson, Magnuson and Keith Jorde tallying field goals, and Magnuson and Jorde adding free throws. Fosston's Bjornerud was forced out of the game on personal fouls early in the period, and his loss stopped the Greyhound scoring. Fosston played an effective "stall" game during the final minutes of play.

Roy Bjornerud, with six field goals and three free throws, was the game's high scorer with fifteen points. The Prowler scoring was evenly divided, with Glen Magnuson having four points, Marlo Davidson, Don Engelstad and Keith Jorde having three points apiece.

"Mouse" Higinbotham and Lon Hurst, with six and seven points,

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

Plenty of Hard Work.

A first look at the Prowlers, against Fosston last Friday night reveals that the boys and coach John Lindenmeyer have a lot of hard work in store before the team will develop into a threat for Crookston and East Grand Forks in district play. Of course that 19 to 15 loss perhaps wasn't a true indication of the Prowlers ability, for it was their first game and that fact injects considerable nervousness into an inexperienced team, and the locals had a majority of newcomers on the squad Friday evening.

And being held without a field goal throughout the first half and three minutes into the second half, either proves that Fosston had a spectacular defense or that the locals were "cold". Fosston's coach, Dick Seebach, admitted that the Prowlers were having hard luck with their shots, for the Greyhounds, with a young and developing team, too, aren't capable of throwing up a shut-out defense. A couple or three Prowler field goals would have made the difference between a win or a loss.

Tomorrow night against the Eagles of Red Lake Falls high school, and it's a district contest, the Prowlers will attempt to break into the win column, and they have a fair chance of doing so. Lindenmeyer is undecided as to the make-up of the starting five Friday night, and the week's practice sessions haven't made the decision any easier. In a practice game early this week, the so-called "second" five out-scored the "first" team.

A Boost for Roseau.

Roseau, and northwest high school hockey, has been given quite a boost by the activities of a group of former Roseau players who are now members of the University of Minnesota varsity squad. Six of the boys—Bob Harris, Rudy Meyer, Jim Alley, Bill Anderson, Ed Broughton, and Ken Austin—are wearing Maroon and Gold equipment, and if he wished, Gopher coach Larry Armstrong could put an all-Roseau sextet on the ice, with Harris, Alley, and Anderson on the front line, Meyer and Broughton on defense, and Austin in the goal.

At present, Anderson and Harris are skating on the third Minnesota line; Alley and Meyer are on the fourth line; Broughton as a spare defenseman, and Austin has been alternating in the Gopher nets.

Incidentally, Richie Roberts, of Warroad, is one one of the co-captains of this year's Gopher hockey team.

And the Prowler's Bob Baker haasn't come to a decision as to whether or not he intends to enter the "U" on Jan. 10th. Bob, who would be given a place on the varsity squad by Coach Armstrong, has been thinking strongly of going to school and he would be fine addition to the northwest contingent.

For a Worthy Cause.

Don't forget the WDAY Hay Loft Jamboree at the Auditorium on Saturday night. It will provide an evening of first-rate entertainment, and in addition the net profits will be utilized by the Athletic Association, which is sponsoring the attraction, for the promotion of recreational activities.

SEED LABORATORY ASKS SUBMISSION OF SAMPLES EARLY

State Agency Offers Its Facilities to Pennington Farmers

Pennington county farmers who plan to have seed tested for germination and purity by the state seed laboratory at University Farm, should forward samples of seed as soon as possible. That's the advise of County Agent Ernest Palmer, who points out that the laboratory is swamped with seed testing later in the winter.

Up to five samples will be tested free, according to C. H. Schrader, chief of the division of weed and seed control, at University Farm. Schrader gives these suggestions to farmers who plan to have seed tested.

First, clean the whole lot of seed thoroughly. Usually small grain can be cleaned satisfactorily on the farm, but it may be necessary to have a custom cleaner clean small legume and grass seeds.

Second, take the sample from different sacks or from different parts of the bin.

Third, be sure to send in enough seed for testing. For grass seed, white and alsike clover or similar size seed a level cupful is sufficient. For red or crimson clover, alfalfa, bromegrasses, millet, flax, rape or seeds of similar size a heaping cupful is necessary. For small grains a quart is needed.

Fourth, indicate the kind of seed and the type of test wanted on the envelope or bag. The seed laboratory will test for purity and germination or both. If the seed is to be sold, both tests are required by state law.

Fifth, send the seed to State Seed Laboratory University Farm, St. Paul 1. Envelopes for small seed can be obtained from the county agent's office.

Schrader points out that state law requires that seed for sale must be properly labeled. Sample tags or information on what the label must contain can be obtained from the county agent's office, seed dealers and elevators.

Land O'Lakes 4-H Banner Awarded to Steiner Club

As part of 4-H activities sponsored by Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., outstanding 4-H clubs from 66 counties of Minnesota and Wisconsin have been chosen by county extension workers to receive banners awarded by Land O'Lakes to "most typical" middlewest clubs. Included in the list is the Steiner 4-H club of Pennington County. "The middlewest is proud of its 4-H boys and girls", said John Brandt, president and general manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, in announcing the awards. "They represent the future, and they are preparing to make that future brighter than ever."

FOREIGNERS VISIT UNIVERSITY FARM

Projects Studied by People Throut World

Foreign visitors, in a steady stream, are beating a path to University Farm to study the work of the University of Minnesota's department of agriculture and to observe the close ties between farm people and the University. During the past year 30 foreign officials and leaders from 25 countries have visited University Farm, according to C. H. Bailey, dean and director of the University's department of agriculture.

The foreign visitors interest in agriculture is not confined to the University by any means, Dr. Bailey points out. Those who want to see how Minnesota farmers operate rely on the University's agricultural extension workers to show them farms throughout the state.

A few of the countries represented by visitors to University Farm include China, India, Poland, Colombia, Egypt, Union of South Africa, Greece, Sweden, Yugoslavia, the Netherlands, and Java.

Dr. J. M. Amschler, professor of dairying at the University of Vienna, Austria, came to the University under the sponsorship of UNRRA and spent most of his time studying Minnesota methods of making silage.

Another visitor, Jean Mengue, an agricultural extension worker at Chartres, France, spent three days with S. B. Cleland, extension economist, visiting creameries, REA plants and farms in southern Minnesota. Mengue hopes to adapt some of Minnesota's mechanization methods to French farming.

Dr. K. C. Sen, director of dairy research for the government of India with headquarters at Bangalore was keenly interested in the University's experiments in dairy production and research.

In cold weather laying pullets need extra grain. Feed the birds enough about an hour before they go to roost so there will be a little grain left in the feeders in the morning, advises H. J. Sloan, head of the poultry division at University Farm.

EAVESDROPPING ON FAMILY AFFAIRS

From Illinois, Virginia, Kansas, and other scattered states, seven Holmsten brothers celebrated a reunion by attending a U of M football game—not new to six of them, who were on various Ski-U-Mah squads. Way back in 1911 Mrs. E. Bower of Mound was given several heirlooms to keep for the Peterson children of Woodlake, who were being sent to a childrens home. Through the years they became separated and Mrs. Bower lost track of them until recently one of the girls turned up as Mrs. Wilbert Mohwinkel, near Woodlake, and the heirlooms are back in the family.

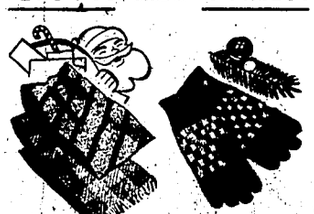
PEDESTRIAN DEATH TOLL INCREASING

Forty Deaths Reported in the Past Two Months



An alarming increase in pedestrian traffic deaths is revealed by the Minnesota highway department's recent accident reports. Forty deaths due to collisions of motor vehicles and pedestrians have been reported in the last two months, compared to a total of 33 in the four preceding months.

Hit-run drivers, usually going at excess speed, have been responsible for several of the fatalities. Failure of drivers to control speed so that they can stop within the area illuminated by their headlights was another contributing factor. In some cases the driver of the car which hit the pedestrian was blinded by the undimmed lights of another approaching car.

Pedestrians, however, have also been guilty of carelessness. In several cases pedestrians walked into the path of approaching vehicles, between intersections, or they darted out from between parked cars. They walked around the front or rear of buses or street cars without waiting to see that the way was clear. Some were hit while walking in the center or on the right side of rural highways—the law, for safety's sake, requires walking on the left side and yielding to oncoming traffic.

There are 65 dairy herd improvement associations operating in Minnesota, reports Hamer Lehton, extension dairy specialist at University Farm.

WILL THIS GO ON ALL WINTER LONG?

At White Bear Lake a crab apple tree was in bloom in mid-November. And when Mr. and Mrs. Howard Grimes cleaned the basement of their Dundas home, near Northfield, earlier in the fall, they threw out what they thought were old and useless garden seeds. November 16 Mrs. Grimes pulled lovely red and icicle radishes and cut crisp leaf lettuce, while carrots and beets were bustling right along.

Americans today consume 17 per cent more dairy products than before the war.

Boil the clothesline in strong salt water to keep it from freezing in winter.

Painting a porch ceiling white will give added light to an adjoining room.

PROVED BY 66 BILLION MILES OF SATISFACTORY SERVICE

TORGERSON OIL COMPANY
E. A. TORGERSON, Mgr.

What six years have done to your telephone company

We handled far more business, took in a lot more money—but the dollars paid out to provide telephone service in Minnesota increased more rapidly than the dollars paid to us.

We added 3031 more employees (they now total 7,950). Much higher wages and more workers increased our Minnesota payroll 123%.

Materials to provide service—poles, switchboards, wire, telephones—all rose sharply in cost. For example, poles cost 85% more, cable 45%, copper wire 63%.

Because of increased expenses, earnings went steadily downward and have now reached an all-time low—less than 2 cents annually on each dollar of plant investment in Minnesota.

What your telephone company has been able to do

Our switchboards, limited by war shortages, were crowded with calls. Local calls went up 36%.

A tremendous increase in important long distance calls strained our facilities to the utmost. Somehow we got them through.

In spite of shortages, we installed 160,000 more telephones. But many who wanted telephones had to wait.

With all materials scarce, we managed to add $19,000,000 in needed facilities—a step in the right direction.

What your telephone company wants to do now

During the next few years our building and construction program will require the expenditure of more than 50 million dollars in Minnesota to provide good telephone service and keep pace with the growing telephone needs of the communities we serve. This is a tremendous amount of money, a huge job.

The money needed for this purpose must come from thousands of people willing to invest their savings in the telephone business. The present critically low earnings are not sufficient to attract the large sums needed to make service improvements and additions already planned. Under the circumstances, it will soon be necessary for us to ask increased rates for our services in Minnesota.

Christmas Tree Cutting Now Under Way in State

With a considerable portion of the Minnesota Christmas tree cutting completed, freight-car shipments have been rolling east and south to supply outstate markets and truck loads have been moving into the Twin Cities and southern Minnesota.

Checking of the cutting operations, tree shipments and sales are being made by division of forestry officers for law violations. Dealers and operators must comply with laws regulating the industry and trees destined for Minnesota homes must carry an official Christmas tree tag.

Every tree sold within the state must carry an official two-cent tag, issued by the division. Under the law, however, an individual may transport up to three trees for his own use without the tags, but such trees must be legally secured from the owner.

SHEEP PARASITE CONTROL OUTLINED

County Agent Palmer Suggests Starting Now

A good time to launch a year-around program of parasite control in sheep by means of phenothiazine is when the ewe flock goes into winter, says County Agent Ernest Palmer. Cleaning up the flock with a dose of the drug will curb both stomach worms and the nodular worm and insure better thrift in the flock during the critical period of winter feeding and pregnancy.

W. E. Morris, extension animal husbandman at University Farm, recommends a dose of an ounce of powder for each sheep in the flock. The dose can be administered either with the feed or as a drench. While phenothiazine is available as a complete drench or as a capsule, it is cheaper to buy the powder. The powder may be fed with grain at the rate of an ounce per head if flock owner is sure to see that each sheep gets its share.

One way to insure a reasonably even dose is to divide the flock into the more aggressive and less aggressive sheep and give each lot the required amount, supplying plenty of feeding space. The powder may also be mixed with water and given as a drench.

In a year-around program the second dose is given just before sheep are turned on pasture in the spring. This dose is especially important because it reduces contamination of the pasture for the new grazing season.

The parasite prevention program will be most effective if rounded out by feeding a salt and phenothiazine mixture to sheep while on pasture.

MUNICIPALITIES LEAGUE MEETS IN ST. PAUL DEC. 18

Proposed New Laws to be Discussed at Parley on Legislative Issues

Municipal officials throughout the state will meet in St. Paul, December 18, for their biennial discussion of legislature problems, according to an announcement just made by Frank C. McGovern, City Attorney of Staples, and President of the League of Minnesota Municipalities. This Legislative Conference of the League culminates a long period of study by ten different committees in various fields of municipal government and gives delegates of the cities and villages of the state opportunity to discuss and either approve or disapprove the legislative recommendations of the committees.

Decisions reached at the conference will supplement earlier commitments already voted by the League in favor of city and township sharing in (1) a doubled state liquor tax; (2) gross earnings taxes, including rates on railroads and (3) a new state cigarette tax.

Most important discussion at the December 18 conference will undoubtedly center around an additional recommendation of the Revenues Committee in favor of a tax enabling act. This proposal has been studied for several years, but a difference of opinion among the first-class cities has prevented the committee recommendation until this year. This proposal, if approved, would ask the legislature to extend to all classes of municipalities the right to levy any type of tax other than the property tax not specifically prohibited or restricted by the state, subject to the right of popular referendum. The committee suggests this authority, not as a substitute for but as an addition to the tax sharing program and points out that many communities in the state, particularly the larger ones, need this authority to place their municipal finances on a sound basis.

Clarkfield—A letter from a Lutheran missionary in China, Edward Sovik, to Rev. J. E. Akre of Clarkfield, must have approached an all-time high for postage costs. 75c in back of the envelope was covered with stamps valued in inflated Chinese currency at $850.00.

Cornelia Otis Skinner of New York to Share in 1947 Polio Campaign

Cornelia Otis Skinner of New York City has been named as 1947 March of Dimes chairman of women's activities, it was announced today by Basil O'Conner president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The distinguished actress and author has been associated with the National Foundation program for some time. Personally interested in the fight against infantile paralysis, she served last year as vice-chairman of the women's division, Greater New York Chapter.

"This humanitarian cause, dedicated to helping all who are stricken with infantile paralysis has particular appeal to women," said Miss Skinner in accepting her appointment. "As wives and mothers we somehow respond more personally to the challenge, and fear, of polio.

"We recognize that our best protection lies in the defense we build for our children through the March of Dimes, assuring full medical care and assistance for all who might need it."

Prospective Nurses to Be Interviewed Dec. 11

The Minnesota Nurses' association announced today that applications would be taken this month from young girls qualified to enter schools of nursing in Minnesota. Ruth Johnston, personnel consultant of the MNA counseling and placement service, will tour the state to discuss vocation plans with those who desire to enter the nursing profession. She will be available for consultation at the Crookston Chamber of Commerce building, Wednesday, December 11, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

"Not all schools will have classes beginning the first part of the year," Miss Johnston said, "and those who will, have limited the number students they will accept. Therefore, it is important that those who wish to enter this exciting field make application as soon as possible."

PLAN TO CONSERVE FLAX SEED SUPPLY

Flax Crushing Plant Group Reveals Details

A plan to conserve fast dwindling supplies of seed flax on Northwest farms has been announced by the newly formed seed flax committee, of which Philip S. Duff of Minneapolis, is chairman.

This committee, made up of several of the flax crushers, offer a plan which permits the grower to sell at the present high price but instead of shipping to retain the seed on his farm. The grower may then repurchase this seed at any time up to May 15, 1947, by paying the current Minneapolis commercial price at the time. He may however, repurchase only if he agrees to use or sell it for seed. If this is not done, the flaxseed must be shipped not later than May 31, 1947. This offer, Mr. Duff points out, is made up to the limits of the committee's resources.

Farmers tempted by present high prices are thus protected against any possibility of loss in the event that a drop in the price of flaxseed occurs before seeding time. At the same time the seed is withheld from the crusher until the owner has decided whether it will be required for seed purposes on his farm or within his community. This will serve to prevent badly needed seed flax from being crushed an thus help avoid a shortage which would restrict acreage in 1947 when the demand for linseed oil is expected to reach an all-time high.

Further information on this arrangement may be secured by writing directly to the Seed flax Committee, 600 Roanoke Building, Minneapolis 2, attention Mr. Duff.

Another function of the committee is to purchase cars of flaxseed arriving at Minneapolis and Duluth which are found suitable for seed. These will be segregated, cleaned and made available next spring as the demand for seed arises.

BUTTON, BUTTON, WHO WROTE THE SONG?

Some people do things, others just past the time. Through the years Fred Kling has filled his Owatonna home with two imposing collections—one of more than 100 clocks that hourly create a melodious bedlam; the other a vast mosaic of old celluloid slogan buttons or pins. He throws in a few pencils, bedsteads, and other items for variety.

Cancer Research Fund Established at U of M.

Establishment of a Malignant Disease Reasearch Fund to support a long-range study of cancer and allied diseases at the University of Minnesota was announced this week by Dr. H. S. Diehl, University dean of the medical sciences.

The endowment fund has been initiated through a $25,000 gift from an anonymous donor. According to Dr. Diehl, this anonymous donor, desirous of encouraging other gifts for cancer research, has advised University officials that he stands ready to make an additional contribution of $25,000 in the event that other contributions bring the fund up to $100,000. The donor, Dr. Diehl added, also proposes to give additional financial support to the cancer study "based on further contributions."

"Additions to this fund," the dean of the University's medical school asserted, "may well be considered investments in the health of our children and our children's children."

N. W. COAL STOCKS MAY BE DIVERTED

Stockpiles at Head of Lakes Menaced, Says Clark

Northwest coal stocks may have to be shared with other parts of the country, J. W. Clark, Minnesota coal conservator, was advised Tuesday.

Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, the solid fuels administrator, wired that besides the likilhood of further restrictions on coal deliveries, " it may become necessary to hold all coal in retail dealer yards and commercial docks for emergency distribution in territories not normally served by such yards or docks even though this would necessitate considerable back haul."

Clark, who had wired Krug for relaxed restrictions as they apply to small gas companies in some Minnesota communities, said he would call his special advisory committee into session probably late this week.

"The coal situation as it applies to Minnesota," said Clark, "grows more precarious daily. It had been the previous assumption that the stock piles at the head of the lakes would hold us over until warm weather, if necessary.

"These stock piles contain over four million tons of coal, which with the coal already delivered to dealers and consumers' bins, was confidently assumed to be sufficient to avoid any real suffering in this area.

John Brandt Speaks at Milk Plant Dedication at Fosston December 11

Preliminary plans were made last week for formal dedication of the Land O'Lakes milk dehydrating plant in Fosston Wednesday, Dec. 11.

A meeting of about 40 Land O'Lakes directors and members from three states is planned for 10 a. m. in the Fosston school auditorium. At noon a banquet of Fosston business men together with the visiting directors and members is planned in the village hall sponsored by the Fosston Community club.

Speaker for the dedication program, set for 1:30 in the school auditorium, will be John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes.

Following the program, coffee and doughnuts and ice cream will be served free and visitors may then attend "open house" at the milk drying plant.

Start 1947 right by keeping accurate records of all farm transactions, advises J. B. McNulty, extension economist at University Farm.

A normal enrollment of 22,000 students is anticipated at the University of Minnesota after the peak of veteran attendance has passed.

MINNESOTA'S 4-H state winners in the 1946 Better Methods Electric, Canning, Girls' Record and Dress Revue award programs who will each receive a trip to the 25th Anniversary National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and brief outlines of their records follow:

Delphine Kaster — Anita Erickson

Eileen M. Howard — Raymond Reed

Delphine Kaster, 19, of Sauk Rapids, will be one of the state's delegates to the 1946 Club Congress as a reward for having the highest rating record in the National 4-H Canning Activity this year. Her trip award is provided by the Kerr Glass Corp. During 10 years in club work the girl canned 4,620 jars of vegetables, meats, fruits, jams and jellies. She won many placings on her canning exhibits, including $89.65 in cash prizes. Delphine raised a 5½-acre garden. Her family is large, and she has done most of the canning for the last ten years.

Anita Mae Erickson, 15, of Goodhue, receives the Chicago trip award provided by the American Viscose Corp. for making and modeling the top rating outfit in the State 1946 4-H Dress Revue. Her winning outfit is a brown wool, gabardine two-place suit made using tailored lines, with revers and collar. Her skirt has a kick pleat front. She also made a yellow rayon blouse to wear with her suit. To complete her costume Anita wears a brown hat, shoes, bag and yellow gloves. Total cost of her outfit was $36.35, including all accessories. State winners who participate in the National 4-H Dress Revue Presentation at the Chicago Club Congress will receive a $25.00 U. S. Among his work simplification accomplishments on his farm is that of improving the job of washing milkers by using an electric immersion heater, and constructing a modern milk house. Other better methods he has put into practice are establishing contours, repairing washouts, proper tractor care and the use of many electrically-powered home and labor-saving appliances and machines. He takes an active part in church, school, 4-H and community affairs. Raymond has served as assistant leader of his local club for the past six years.

All of these activities were conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

Thanksgiving festivities being all over for another whole year, our chief gripe now is still such as longtime to wait for Christmas.

Another fine bouquet of flowers were brought in last week after the Mrs. Ed Evenson funeral.

Miss Viola Bredeson's group of singers again paid us a visit Monday of last week and on that occasion presented the home with a beautiful plaque that has been placed in the lobby. We are thankful to the ladies for their visits and the gift.

Our whole family shared in a big fat goose on Saturday's supper which E. O. Hagge had received from his daughter in Plainview. It was tasty and we are appreciative of Hagens generosity.

Jon Berent spent Thanksgiving day with his daughter and family the Berrigens.

Among the numerous considerations shown us by organizations as well as individuals during the past season by no means the least was the visit on Tuesday of last week by Troop 20 and 21 of the Brownies from the Northrop school led by the Mmes. Carlson, Peterson, and Gausen respectively affording our home the enjoyment of a number of songs and a presentation of table decorations for our Thanksgiving dinner consisting of a miniature Pilgrim attached to a box of candy and nuts for each plate at the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hoverstad were guests of the former's sister Miss Carie Hoverstad Sunday.

The Christian Crusaders organization of young people held their regular Friday evening meeting meeting here again last week rendering a varied program of songs and readings with Rev. Rabine as principal speaker.

Callers here last week were Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, former operators of this home.

Mrs. Anna Mork visited here Saturday.

Dinner guests here on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Langness and boys, Marvin and Clifford.

Following a three week's absence spent in southern Minnesota and Hemidji Mrs. Selma Moe returned here Saturday evening to resume her duties in the home.

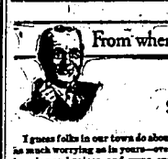
On the event of her third anniversary as a guest in this home Mrs. Mollie Northome treated our entire family to a helping of ice cream with our Sunday dinner. Many thanks.

Rev. and Mrs. Larson spent Sunday in the Argyle community where the former conducted the services in the Alma Baptist church. They returned here in the evening bringing back with them their son Adrian, who had been visiting over his Thanksgiving vacation from school with friends at Karlstad.

A new member of our family this week is Mrs. Hilda Flann being admitted to the home Tuesday.

We acknowledge with thanks at this time a number of cash donations to the home following memorial gifts: from L. P. Poppenhagen given in memory of Alfred Bugge through the Evangelical Free church of this city by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bugge and another from Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Peterson of Warren in memory of Mrs. Moden.

Other cash donations from Baptist church at Lancaster and from Mr. and Mrs. Albin Johnson also of Lancaster.



From the ladies aid of the Covenant Mission church of Viking and from Mrs. Selma Moe.

It would have been fun to throw a little atomic bomb at the auto Sunday morning and see it start moving if only one could have known where to go and pick it up again.

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it, he sets aside a "worrying hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find . . . right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.

Coal Lack May Require Closing Minnesota 'U' after Christmas Recess

The University of Minnesota probably will be forced to close after Christmas vacation if the coal strike continues, L. L. Wood, senior mechanical engineer, said Monday.

He said that rigid conservation measures are necessary to enable the university to continue normal operations even for another three weeks.

Educational institutions are not priority coal users and must apply to the solid fuels administration for allotments.

W. T. Middlebrook, university business vice president, said the university had not yet decided whether it would make such an appeal.

The General Alumni association of the University of Minnesota was founded in 1901.

PHONE COMPANY SEEKS RATE BOOST

Cites Huge Increase in Operating Costs

With plans completed for a $50,000,000 Expansion and improvement program to carried out during the next few years, officials of Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. today outlined increased demands which have made the program necessary.

At the same time they announced that the company plans soon to ask the railroad and warehouse commission to permit increased rates throughout the state as a means of increasing income and making investments in the firm more attractive.

The company pointed to the increase in local calls in the state from 2,450,000 daily in 1940 to 3,321,000 in 1946; the jump in long distance calls from 35,000 daily in 1940 to 73,000 this year, the jump in telephones in service from 370,000 in 1940 to 550,000 now, and plant investment, which went up from $78,000,000 in 1940 to $97,000,000.

How the expense of operation has climbed in detail, payrolls showing the biggest increase, 123 per cent.

Material costs also have gained considerably. With expenses rising about 86 per cent in the six-year period, income has gone up 55 per cent, company officials said.

HERE'S WHY MOST MOTHERS DO THIS
When Children Catch Cold
Warming, soothing relief from distress of colds starts in a hurry when you rub on Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. Because VapoRub penetrates to upper bronchial tubes with its special medicinal vapors . . . and stimulates skin surfaces like a warming poultice. Then it works for hours to bring relief while the child sleeps! Try it tonight!
AT BEDTIME rub throat, chest and back with Vicks VapoRub. Its relief-bringing action starts instantly to relieve distress . . .
WORKS WHILE CHILD SLEEPS to bring relief during the night. Often by morning most misery of the cold is gone!

TECHNOCRACY is the only program for a transition to a new social state on this Continent. Do not look elsewhere for guidance to the New America; you will find none.
The change is coming; you can escape it only by dying. It is to your advantage and to the advantage of your Continent for you to find out what that change is and prepare yourself for leadership in it.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

PAY INCREASE VOTED SCHOOL FACULTY HERE

Tax Levy Raised 7 Mills by School Board at Session on Monday

At its December session Monday evening, the Thief River Falls board of education approved a cost of living increase for the 66 public school faculty members in the amount of $15 per month for a period of eight months, the increase being retroactive to October.

To provide the $7,640 additional school funds required to finance the increase, the board acted to raise the school maintenance levy four mills, bringing it up to fifty mills, while the total school levy on which taxes will be paid in 1947 went up to 57 mills.

The board voted to renew with local agencies $123,300 in insurance policies protecting the school plant from loss by fire windstorm and other contingencies. The policies, one-fifth of the total amount carried, expire early in 1947.

Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted stated that he would bring up for consideration of the board at its January meeting a proposal requiring that children entering kindergarten be five years old by November 1 of the school year, instead of by January 1 as at present. He added that Minnesota school authorities have recommended that attendance be restricted to children who have reached their fifth birthday by September 1.

Also to be brought up for discussion at the January session is a proposal to rearrange the areas served by each grade school to conform more closely to the school census figures.

It is suggested that pupils be transported by bus to the Knox school from that part of the present Northrop school territory including the fair grounds area and the area extending east from the Soo Line tracks north as far as the roundhouse. Both of these areas, it was pointed out, are a considerable distance from the Northrop school.

Telephone Company Lists Its Proposed Increase in Rates

In order to meet greatly increased costs of providing service and enable it to carry on an extensive program of service improvement, the Northwestern Bell Telephone company has asked the state regulatory commission for increased rates in the Minnesota communities it serves. According to A. J. Rau, manager for the telephone company, this would be the first increase in local service rates for Thief River Falls in 27 years.

The company states that while it has handled record volumes of business and has had a 55 per cent increase in revenues compared with 1940, expenses of providing service have risen 86 per cent over this period.

Since 1940, the company's payroll in Minnesota has gone up 123 per cent due to higher wages and to an increase of 62 per cent in the number of people employed. Payrolls for the 7,950 Northwestern Bell workers in the state amount to about two-thirds of the cost of providing telephone service.

Cost of materials necessary to provide service have also increased greatly. Typical of these higher costs are telephone poles, which have gone up 85 per cent, copper wire 68 percent and switchboards 35 per cent.

The company points out that its earnings have been inadequate for many years. Even with the tremendous amount of business during the war, earnings have dropped steadily and were lower than for any previous period. Since the war earnings have declined still further and are now at the lowest level in the Company's history—less than two cents annually on each dollar of plant investment in Minnesota.

Mr. Rau explains that everything possible is being done to expand facilities so that service can be improved and the needs of all telephone customers fully met. Shortages of raw materials needed for telephone equipment manufacture have limited the speed with which it has been possible to make additions. Since V-J Day, however, the company has spent $11,000,000 on new construction in Minnesota and service improvements now programmed will require the expenditure of more than 60 million dollars throughout the state in the next few years.

These plans provide for replacement of older type service facilities in many communities, a large increase in private, or individual line service, widespread modernization of farm telephone service, adoption of telephone equipment developments gained through research in the Bell Laboratories. Many of these service improvement features are scheduled for Thief River Falls telephone system, according to Manager Rau.

Addition of three switchboard positions to the Thief River Falls facilities has already been completed. This installation was completed two weeks ago, and the result is a marked improvement in the telephone service.

On the rural service improvement and development program, conversion from magneto to common battery service has already been started.

Mr. Rau states that a large sum of money will be spent rebuilding and expanding the present rural lines whereby a greater number of farm families can be served, and a considerably larger amount of money will be spent within the city of Thief River Falls to keep pace with the expansion and the growing demand for better telephone service.

Mr. Rau states that the proposed new telephone rates are the minimum necessary to meet the increased costs of furnishing service, and provide earnings sufficient to enable the company to obtain at reasonable terms the large amounts of money required to improve service and meet telephone needs in the communities it serves.

Following are the present and proposed rates for principal classes of business and residential service in Thief River Falls:

	Present Rate	Proposed Rate
Residence (Private line)	1.75	2.50
Residence (Four party line)	1.50	2.00
Business (Private line)	3.50	4.00
Business (Two party line)	3.00	3.75
Farm Telephone Service	1.75	2.25

Income Tax School for Farmers Is Set for Next Thursday

How much of the money from the farm business is taxable income?

This is one of many questions on the income tax to be answered at the farm accounting school for income tax purposes which will be held in the Civic and Commerce room at Thief River Falls on Thursday, December 19, at 1:15 p. m. County Agent Ernest Palmer announced that the meeting will be open to anyone interested.

The kind of account book best suited to farmers, how to keep and use the information recorded for income tax and other purposes, as well as latest federal and state income tax rulings will be discussed by J. B. McNulty, extension farm management specialist.

Unless the farm accounts are complete and accurate and the taxpayer understands how to keep and use farm records, an accurate income tax return cannot be made.

Mr. McNulty points out that the most recent amendments to the state income tax law made in 1945 will require most farmers who file federal returns to file state income tax returns also. Important changes make the method of calculation income for state returns more similar to the federal returns than heretofore. Changes in both the state and federal law, including the change in regulations with regard to calculating net farm profit will be explained by Mr. McNulty at the school.

RESIDENT OF HOLT VICINITY DIES IN HIGHWAY MISHAP

Constantine Hoffman Loses Life in Collision North of City Tuesday

Constantine Hoffman, 78, living northeast of Steiner, died Tuesday evening in a local hospital from injuries sustained when his car collided with a truck that day at 6 p. m. two and one-half miles north of Thief River Falls on Highway 32.

At the time of the accident Hoffman was traveling north while the truck, driven by Matt Hraven of this city, was proceeding south. Officials who investigated the mishap reported that Hoffman had apparently edged over onto the wrong side of the road, and started to move into his own lane too late to avert the collision.

After the crash Hoffman was able to get out of his car, which was thrown into the ditch. He was then taken to the hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries, which included a gash in his chest.

Hoffman was born in Friedland, Germany, April 21, 1868, and came in 1888 to Crookston, where he was married to Magdalena Weiss in 1890. In that year they moved to Excel township, where they and nine more their home.

Surviving his death are two daughters, Mrs. M. J. Gorman, Grand Forks, and Sister Mary Borgia, O. S. B., Crookston; and three sons, Constantine J. Hoffman Jr. of Larimore, N. D.; Fridolin, Kempton, N. D.; and August, Fergus Falls. His wife, two sisters and three brothers preceded him in death. He was a member of St. Bernards church and of the Holy Name society.

Funeral rites will be conducted from St. Bernards church Friday morning, December 13, at 9 o'clock, with Rev. A. I. Merth officiating, and interment will be in St. Bernards cemetery.

Property Owners Due for Jolt When They Pay '46 Taxes

Property owners of Thief River Falls next year will pay taxes on the basis of a total rate of 116.04 mills on homestead-exempt property and 122.64 on non-homestead property, it is revealed in a tabulation completed this week in the office of County Auditor A. M. Senstad. The rates compare with 107.12 mills and 113.66 mills respectively levied in 1945, reflecting an increase of approximately nine mills.

The jolt to local taxpayers will be augmented by the fact that the county board of equalization in reviewing real property valuations this fall as turned in by the assessors, made a blanket increase of twenty per cent in valuations in Thief River Falls, as well as making upward revisions in the rural sections of the county. In consequence, it is estimated, city taxpayers will be called on to pay approximately thirty per cent more real estate taxes in 1947 than in 1946.

The total tax rates for this city for 1946 and 1947 are made up of the following levies by subdivisions:

	1947	1946
State	8.05	8.10
County	47.33	47.33
City of T. R. F.	10.26	8.23
School Dist. 18	57.	50.
Total non-homestead	122.64	113.66
Less Homestead exempt.	6.60	6.54
Total homstead rate	116.04	107.12

Due in a major part to upward revisions made by the county board of emualization, total taxable assessed valuations in Pennington county increased from $3,641,594 in 1945 to $4,141,084 this year.

Disposition of 102 disputed ballots by Judge Oscar R. Knutson and a two vote lead, but Sheriff Warren will determine the final outcome in the Marshall County Sheriff contest between incumbent O. C. Toftner and Ed. Landreville.

MANY MATTERS COME BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Approves Building Permits; Calls for Bids on Sewer Lift

At a lengthy December session Tuesday evening, the city council discussed a number of matters brought to their attention, but deferred definite action on several of them until an adjourned meeting to be held next Thursday evening, December 19.

After being told by the merchants committee of the Civic and Commerce association of a serious problem created by the activities of shoplifters in local stores, the council suggested that the committee confer with the mayor and police chief in an effort to work out a solution of the matter.

Chief of a half-dozen applications for business permits approved was that of the Western Oil & Fuel company, which plans to remodel its service station at Atlantic av. and Eighth st. at a cost of $4,000. Laid over to the next meeting was the application of Edward Belland for a permit to erect a service station and cabins.

A hearing was scheduled for December 19 on the application of Neil McKechnie for a special permit to erect a service station at a cost of $10,000 at the intersection of the east side of Main av. and south of Sixth st. The dwelling now on the site will be removed.

The council authorized the advertisement for bids for the construction of a new type of sewer lift at the corner of Horace av. and Seventh st. to replace the present unsightly structure; and also to call for bids on sewer pipe and water mains needed for 1947 construction. The bids will be opened at the January session.

Action also was taken to increase cigaret license fees from $10 a year as at present to $12 a year.

A. C. Tiedeman, who Tuesday was appointed commanding officer of the national guard company here in process of organization here, requested the council to grant the use of the room on the second floor of the arena by the local guard unit. Definite action on the request was deffered, as was action on the plea by officers of the county farm bureau that the county agent be given the use of the room in the basement of the Auditorium vacated today by the local OPA office.

Anton Hall, member of the library board, was present to seek the council's approval of a proposal to install new electric lighting equipment in the public library at an estimated cost of slightly more than $1,500. Hall added that the library's budget is not sufficiently large to finance the transaction without assistance. The council took the matter under advisement.

INCREASE MADE IN ASSISTANCE FUNDS

Public Aid Recipients to Get Raise in 1947

County recipients of public assistance will be given a 15 per cent increase in their food allowance effective January 1, 1947, it was announced today by William H. Mulry, vice-chairman of the Pennington county welfare board.

This increase is the result of new food standards issued by the State Director because of rising food prices. The amount of increase will average $3.00 a person, and about 450 Pennington county persons will be included.

The new schedule applies to recipient of old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind, but will have no effect on those already receiving the maximum.

The December OAA average payment in this county was $34.00 as contrasted to $29.76 in May, 1941. It is expected that the new food allowance will bring the average for January, 1947, to $36.00.

Taxes are going to be higher next year. Valuation for tax purposes will be up and in Thief River Falls there will be substantial increase in the mill rate. That isn't good news but the good angle to this bad news is the fact that local officials are spreading sufficient levies to meet increasing costs and at the same time are providing for substantial debt reduction. The county, the school district and the city are now in good condition financially. If we do go into an economic slump within the next few years taxes can be reduced and that is something to feel good about. Better we pay the high taxes now while the paying is comparatively easy.

Of the $4,141,.84 taxable valuation in Pennington County, $2,193,915 is within the city of Thief River Falls. We are one of the few cities in the state that have more than half the valuation of the county in which they are located. This valuation figure represents an increase of half a million dollars over last year's figure and of this half a million, $368,000 was added to Thief River Falls and $132,000 to the rest of the county. We gradually are growing richer at least on paper.

Economists are concerned about the large increase in private debts. People are buying too many things on time, they tell us, and maybe they are right. It is a problem each one must figure out for himself of course. The fellow who doesn't buy until he can pay cash buys less, but he probably will have more when the rainy day comes. One good way to prepare for a depression is to have the bills paid.

Freight rate increases have been approved and now the telephone company is asking for permission to raise the charges for phone service. This request too will probably be granted. Such increases are the inevitable result of higher costs. These increases in turn add to the cost of living which induces demands for still higher wages and we take another swing around the inflation spiral. The end of the road is too high prices, reduced production, unemployment and another depression. And the next depression will find us with a bankrupt Uncle Sam, too poor to be very useful as a Santa Claus.

It is too late to do your Christmas shopping early, but there still are ten days according to our calendar. Keep in mind that the stores close early on Christmas eve.

In Memoriam

Of our beloved son and brother Eric Antenson. Who gave his life in France, two sad years ago. Companionships, at closing, yield to lonely days and nights.
And hearts bereft will linger more
Before those window lights;
And, lingering, through hope-filled tears
Will talk with God in prayer
To see the windows open wide
And loved ones smiling there.
Mr. and Mrs. Birger Antenson,
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson family. 50c

PAZANDAK MEETS BILL BARTUSH IN MAT CARD TONIGHT

Promoter Bill LaFave Arranges Attractive Wrestling Program

Joe Pazandak, former army sergeant, and Minneapolis' own contender for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, will headline the wrestling card that promoter Bill LaFave is showing in the Auditorium ring this evening. Pazandak, weighing 236 pounds, will meet Chicago's massive 280-pound Bill Bartush.

In the preliminary match, Mike Burnell, former Oklahoma A. & M. college wrestling champion will tangle with Bozeman Montana's Tommy Rice, and opening the feature matches, will be an engagement between Charles Harbin and Johnny Marrs. Promoter LaFave has also arranged three preliminary matches with local wrestlers participating.

Pazandak, who like the other "name" wrestlers on the card, is new to the local fans making his first appearance here tonight, has a splendid war record. He enlisted with the 84th division in 1941, and was assigned to the 176th Field Artillery. Sgt Joe was overseas for more than three years and during that time spent more than 600 actual days in combat.

Pazandak's battery set two worthwhile records. They were the first American unit to open fire on the Germans in World War II, the action taking place in November, 1942, in Tunisia, and when the war was over, the battery had fired more than 300,000 rounds through the muzzles of the 12 guns.

From the time he first reported at Camp Claybourne, La., until he was discharged, he had a standing and permanent forfeit of $500.00 to wrestle any man in the Allied Forces. That wager was never accepted.

Tommy Rice, former tackle on the University of San Francisco, and who was tutored in wrestling by Joe Malcewicz, will meet Mike Burnell in the semi-windup. Rice, 6 feet 2½ inches tall, weighs 228 pounds, and has been wrestling since 1939. During the war, Rice was aboard a patrol frigate and active during the D-day operations at Hollandia, Atapi, Waktee, Biak, Morotai, and Leyte Gulf, being overseas 26 months. In his wrestling career, Rice has wins over Willie Davis, Vincent Lopez, Red Russell and Bill Longson, and has a draw with Sandor Szabo.

Tonight's program is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. Wally Karbo of Minneapolis will refree the main event, the semi-windup, and preliminary match.

Performs Here Tonight

MIKE BURNELL

Oklahoma A & M college has been famed for the many college wrestling champions it has produced, and this evening one of those former champions, Mike Burnell, will perform in a local ring. Burnell, weighing 220 pounds will meet lanky Tommy Rice the Bozeman, Mont. cowboy in a semi-finals match.

JAYCEES ENJOY WILD GAME DINNER

Annual Event Held Last Thursday in Palm Garden

More than 100 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and their ladies enjoyed their annual wild game dinner last Thursday evening in the Palm Garen Cafe.

Lawrence Caplstran presided over the program, which included Christmas carols by Mrs. Donald Olson; piano selections by Jerry Joringdal and Harold Kelly and songs by Kenton Mullen. Norman Peterson presented motion pictures of the 1946 Jaycee water carnival, and Game Warden Wm. H. Borchert briefly discussed the wild life situation in Minnesota.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing.

SIX TEAMS TO PLAY IN EIGHTH REGION HOCKEY SCHEDULE

Regional Tourney Set for Thief River Falls to Open February 5th

The eighth region's hockey committee, at a meeting at Greenbush last week completed arrangements for the season's play and the regional hockey tournament. Six teams—Roseau, Thief River Falls, Warroad, Williams, Hallock, and Greenbush—were certified as being eligible for the tournament, and the drawings for positions in the tourney were made.

The tournament, which again will be played here, will open on Feb. 5th and, after an open date on the 6th, will conclude on the 7th and 8th. The tournament pairings will depend on the teams standings at the close of the regular season, with each team having engaged in ten games.

Teams finishing number one and number two in the standings will be giving a first game, with the Feb. 5th being played between number three team vs. number five and four vs six. On Feb 7th, team number one plays the winner of four vs. six encounter, and team number two meets the winner of the three vs. five game. The finals will be played on Feb. 8th. In the event that some of the teams should be deadlocked in the standings at the close of the schedule, their position in the regional tournament will be decided by lot. Don Norman of Crookston and Bernie Broderick of Warroad have been engaged as tourney officials, with the provision that in case Warroad should play Roseau, Connie Stanbridge of Thief River Falls would replace Broderick; and if Warroad should meet Thief River Falls in a game, L. Salpacka of Roseau would assist Norman. W. G. Claffy of Thief River Falls was named tournament manager.

Admission prices for the tournament games was set at 40 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Larson and family left Tuesday for Fargo, where Mr. Larson will serve as manager of the wholesale electric appliance distribution agency of the Larson company. Their residence here will be occupied shortly by Mr. Larson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Larson.

Rassling Night

It's "rassling" night at the Auditorium this evening and Bill LaFave has arranged an entertaining program. Bill absorbs a lot of grief trouble, and hard work in promoting these wrestling cards, and the only profit that he gets out of it is the satisfaction of knowing that the fans have gotten their money's worth, for the net profits go into the treasury of the city's Athletic Association, with tonight's funds being earmarked for the senior hockey project.

Bill is showing six new wrestlers this evening, with Joe Pazandak and Bill Bartush meeting in the main event. They, together with Mike Burnell and Tommy Rice, the semi-finalists, and Johnny Marrs and Charles Harben, the preliminary bout contestants, have all wrestled in the Twin Cities and are well-known in wrestling circles, but it's the first time that they have appeared here. Pazandak, an army veteran, is reputed to the best wrestler in the group, and he is being primed for a title match.

Wally Karbo, of Minneapolis, who has refereed a number of matches up here, and who can usually handle the wrestlers when they try to get rambunctious, will be the third man in the ring for the "big" matches.

Crappie Anglers

Harold Olson, Carl Kretzschmar, Ole Nere, and Carl Green returned Saturday from a crappie fishing expedition to Blackduck, and they had a near-limit catch. They would n't name the lake where they made their catch, but Harold admitted that it was necessary to chop a number of holes in the ice before they located the crappie bed. It was hook-and-line fishing, and the crappies were of fine size.

That's about the only ice fishing luck that has been reported, although some of the boys in the fish houses on the river south of town have been spearing some northerns.

Here's an Idea Boys

The high school's senior boys made another attempt at beating the senior girls in bowling on Sunday, but when the two game match was concluded, the girls, by a two-pin margin, were the total-pin winners. Here's an idea that Don LaSalle, Lary Hylden, Don Engelstad, Chuck Troland, Bob Olson, and Curly Narverud could use—it would be a cinch for you to defeat the girls if you would put handcuffs and shackles on Joyce Stadum and Doris Jorde. I'm sure that they wouldn't be able to bowl those 180-pin games if they were bundled up like that, and then you poor fellows would have a chance.

Dr. Ed Getting Results

Indications are that the State Conservation Department is going to proceed with the job of converting that vast Greenbush bog area into a duck breeding ground and public shooting project. And it's largely through the efforts of Dr. Ed Bratrud that this work is moving ahead, for it was Doc who recognized the possibilities in that swamp and he was diligent in bringing the project before the proper authorities.

It will take considerable time before all the details are ironed out and the funds allotted. The state will earmark money due from the federal government under the Pittman-Robertson act, but it is hoped that the preliminary work will be started this spring. Well, when the job is done, and we get better and more duck hunting, we'll have Doc Ed to thank for many of those duck dinners.

Mixed Doubles Tournament

Don't forget that the mixed doubles bowling tournament is scheduled for the Mint alleys on Saturday and Sunday. Registration has been closed and the pairings made, and bowlers wishing to bowl when and with whom they are to bowl, should call the Mint alleys.

SOFT COAL STRIKE ENDED SATURDAY BY JOHN L. LEWIS

Passenger and Freight Service on Railroads Now Back to Normal

The soft coal strike that had threatened to bring American industry to a halt ended dramatically Saturday afternoon when John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, ordered his 400,000 men to end the 17-day walkout and return to work. Production was back on a normal basis yesterday.

In calling off the strike Lewis announced his readiness to negotiate with the private mine owners for new wage and other demands; a step which could clear the way for the government to get out of the coal business.

For this startling step Lewis gave two reasons, that the supreme court in considering the case might be "free from public pressure superinduced by the hysteria and frenzy of an economic crisis", and that "public necessity requires the quantitative production of coal during such period."

As a result of the ending of the strike, the Office of Defense Transportation withdrew its order restricting passenger train service, and the embargoes on freight and express shipments were canceled. The Thief River Falls-Duluth-Soo Line passenger train has resumed its daily run, and the Minneapolis-Winnipeg trains, Nos. 109 and 110, are operating seven days a week as usual.

When washing collars and cuffs of shirts scrub lightly with a small brush. This quickly removes the soil and saves time.

October Highway Traffic Exceeds Prewar Volume

Traffic on Minnesota trunk highways in October was 101.7 per cent of the volume in October, 1941, according to data assembled by the automatic photo-electric traffic recorders operated by the State Highway Department at various points throughout the state. Previous months have shown traffic varying from 90.6 per cent in May to 105.7 per cent of the 1491 volume in March. Average volume from January to October was 95.5 per cent of the 1941 figure.

GOV. THYE BACKS CHRISTMAS SEALS

Governor's Statement Endorses Annual Sale

Pointing out that great gains have been made in the control of tuberculosis in Minnesota, Governor Edward J. Thye urges generous support of the Christmas seal campaign. This statement just received is as follows:

"Funds raised in the annual Christmas seal campaign have been an useful in local, state, and national programs against tuberculosis and in the interest of good health that it is a special pleasure for me as governor to give my cordial endorsement to the current Christmas seal effort. I know that the people of Minnesota will generously respond, as they have alway done in the past to this meritorious project.

I realize that 95% of all funds raised here in our state through the sale of Christmas seals remains in Minnesota for the program of education and helpful care in the fight against tuberculosis.

In the forty years that the Minnesota Public Health association, our state Christmas Seal organization, has been functioning, great gains have been made in control and treatment of this disease. There has been a sharp drop in the tuberculosis death rate from 105 deaths per 100,000 in 1905, to only 25 last year.

Christmas Holidays Are Most Hazardous Season of the Year

Statistics prove the Christmas-New Year's holiday season is the most hazardous single period of the year. More than three times as many deaths occur during the actual Christmas holidays than on the same days of the week the remainder of the year, according to the National Safety Council.

The normal winter hazards, such as bad weather, slippery roads, and longer period of darkness, are increased by heavier travel and the festive spirit of the holiday season.

The council's campaign has been joined by more than 130 national organizations, city and state public officials and civic leaders. It seeks to create in the public mind an awareness of the special holiday hazards, and to enlist voluntary cooperation on the part of every individual to hold accidents to a minimum this Christmas.

The council emphasized that the campaign is the final effort of the year to bring the 1946 traffic death toll down nearer to the 1945 total of 28,600. Such deaths, which increased alarmingly after V-J Day brought an end of the first nine months of 1946.

GRADE CROSSINGS TAKE TRAGIC TOLL

Nine Deaths Occur in Minnesota in November

Nine deaths due to railroad grade crossing accidents, eight of them in two crashes in one day, were conspicuous in the Minnesota highway department's summary of November motor vehicle traffic fatalities. Other deaths in motor vehicle traffic-traffic accidents, less notable because they occured one or two at a time, brought the month's total to 53.

Each one of these 53 deaths could have been prevented if someone had been more careful. In the case of grade crossing accidents, the only sure preventive is to make certain that no train is coming from either direction, before starting across.

Sixteen pedestrians were included in the month"s total. Two of the victims were children 4 and 12 years old. All the others were adults, from 47 to 82 years old. Poor visibility in the longer hours of darkness was a big factor in the autumnal increase in pedestrian deaths.

Thirteen persons were killed in collisions of motor vehicles. Driving on the left side, too great speed in going around curves, fog, and parked or stalled vehicles, were some of the causes shown in reports.

Fourteen were killed in vehicles that ran off the road and overturned or struck trees, poles or other fixed objects. Excess speed, particularly on curves and on icy and slippery places, and driving while under influence of intoxicants, were among the causes of these accidents.

The November total is 7 less than the November, 1945, record, but this gain may be upset by later reports of deaths due to November accidents. The total for the year now stands at 467, compared to 403 in the same months in 1945, 244 in 1943, and 664 in 1941.

Local Holstein Herd Is Inspected Recently

Carl E. Torgerson, Thief River Falls, has recently had his herd inspected and classified for type, the Holstein-Friesau Association of America announces today. The inspection was conducted by Clair I. Miller, Medina, Ohio, one of the nine officials appointed by the Association to do this work in the United States.

Among the animals classified in this herd, one was designated "very good"— the second highest score an animal can receive; and two scored "good plus".

The type classification, combined with a production testing program, is used as a means of proving sires and locating outstanding brood cow families in an owner's herd.

Higher costs make increase in telephone rates necessary
This Company has asked the state regulatory commission for increased telephone rates in the Minnesota communities it serves. The increase is necessary to meet much higher expense of providing service and to enable the Company to carry out an extensive program of service improvement. This is an important step and we want our customers to know fully the reasons for it.

OUR EXPENSES ARE HIGHEST IN HISTORY
Payroll costs are now 123% higher than in 1940. The increase comes both from higher wage levels, and because we have added 3031 more employees—bringing our total Minnesota force to 7950. This is the most important factor in the cost of furnishing telephone service, as wages represent about two-thirds of our operating expense.
Payrolls up 123%
1940 1946
Materials to provide service are much higher in cost and we need more of them. For example, telephone poles cost 85% more than in 1940. Cable is up 45%, copper wire 63%, switchboards 35%. Buildings to house facilities must be built at today's higher costs. In addition to these expenses, taxes also are far higher than in 1940.

COSTS HAVE RISEN MUCH FASTER THAN INCOME
We are handling a far greater volume of business and taking in more money than ever before. But the money we must pay out to provide telephone service has gone up much faster than the money coming in.
To put it another way, for each $1 we took in in 1940, we are taking in $1.55 today; but for each $1 paid out in 1940, we must pay out $1.86 today.
Expenses up 86%. Income up 55%
EXPENSES
INCOME

EARNINGS DANGEROUSLY LOW
The effect of rising costs has been to reduce our earnings to the point where they are not enough to assure continued improvement and expansion of telephone service. Earnings are now less than 2 cents annually for each dollar of plant investment in Minnesota.
Earnings going down
1940 1941 1942 1943 1944 1945 1946

WHY GOOD SERVICE DEPENDS ON REASONABLE EARNINGS
During the next few years, our improvement and construction program will require more than $50,000,000 to provide good telephone service in Minnesota and keep pace with the growing needs of the communities we serve.
The money for this purpose must come from thousands of people willing to invest their savings in the telephone business. It can be obtained only if the telephone business offers a rate of return comparing favorably with what invested savings can earn elsewhere.

Increase is minimum required to assure good service
Much study has been devoted to our problem of making both ends meet. Every method of keeping costs down without impairing service has been—and will be—adopted. We are still face to face with this hard fact: good service can be provided and needed improvements made only if costs can be adequately met.
We regret that it is necessary to increase rates, but in the interest of good service there is no alternative.
If you wish additional information or have any questions, we will appreciate your calling our business office.

Legion Entertained by Auxiliary

On Thursday evening of last week members of the American Legion held their first meeting in the new clubhouse. Although the house is not finished on the inside, it is a warm, cozy building and the boys are well satisfied with their work.

At this meeting it was decided to erect a community Christmas Tree in Newfolden and also to donate $25 toward a public skating rink. Meeting night for both Legion and Auxiliary was also changed from the first Thursday to the last Thursday in the month.

Much interest was shown in the G. I. Agricultural Course and all veterans interested are asked to put in their applications with Adjutant Irwin Tvedt as soon as they can so as to get the school started in a short time.

Several new members joined at this meeting and it looks like a banner year for our Post.

Following the meeting at the clubhouse the boys were invited to the schoolhouse where the Auxiliary was holding their meeting and Christmas party. Upon arriving they were ushered into the auditorium, where the ladies gave a short Christmas program. This was followed by a big free feed in the kitchens. Needless to say that the boys were delightfully surprised and voted the Auxiliary "Tops".

LEGISLATIVE POLL REVEALS OPINIONS

Survey Suggests Solons Must Find New Revenue

A program of taxation which would yield sufficient revenue to meet increasing costs of state government was cited as the No. 1 problem facing the next legislature.

Public housing ranked second in importance, according to a poll of legislators, while strong sentiment was registered by many for:

Payment of bonus to veterans.

New methods of allocating school aids.

Increased appropriations for educational institutions.

Higher iron ore taxes.

"Balancing the state budget" was the recommendation of many oldtimers in the legislature in response to an inquiry on what they consider the most important legislation. Others called it "taxation" while some specified "an equitable tax program."

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1947

Interstate Commerce Commission Approves Request for Increase

Freight rate increases for rail and water carriers of nearly $1,000,000,000 a year were authorized Friday by the Interstate commerce commission.

It also permitted the railroad to make permanent a 10 per cent hike in passenger fares granted on Feb. 10, 1942. This increase was scheduled to expire six months after the legal termination of the war.

The average overall freight rate boost amounts to about 17.6 per cent. For eastern carriers, the aggregate increase will approximate 17.9 per cent of the basic rates, compared with 17.4 per cent for the remainder of the country.

The new rates will go into effect on Jan. 1. They compare with an average 19.6 per cent rate hike requested by the class I railroads on all traffic.

In applying for the increases, the carriers contend that the combination of prewar freight rates and postwar costs would almost wipe out all net railway operating revenue.

They said this would produce "an enormous deficit" in net income this year.

GRAIN TERMINAL GROUP CONVENES

Farmers Union Assn. Session in St. Paul

Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association made net patronage savings of $3,649,000, for the past crop year, General Manager M. W. Thatcher reported at the ninth annual stockholders' meeting of the cooperative in the Lowry Hotel, St. Paul, this week.

The savings, which are allocated to patrons in preferred stock include the 10 percent permanent reserve required by law, and cover the 1945-46 season, he stated. The savings brought the net worth of the cooperative to more than $10,000,000.

In making his report to more than 3,000 farmers, who were in for the three-day meeting beginning Dec. 10, Thatcher said that the association now operates cooperative properties in eight states. These properties consist of grain elevators including terminal, subminal country type, lumber yards and a durum wheat mill.

Thatcher, in commenting on the political and economic trends that appear to be ahead, declared that despite the change in Congress, no drastic change appears in sight for agriculture, except for the emphasis on tax cuts and economy.

"A change in weather," he said, "conceivably could have a greater effect on agriculture than the new faces in Congress."

Employment Service Managers Return from Conference in St. Paul

Admonished to become, in 1947, the state's most courteous agency, managers and VETs of the 37 local offices of the division of employment and security were back on the job Monday after having spent three days last week in St. Paul being schooled in steps necessary to integrate the public employment service into the framework of the Division.

The employment service, for five years under federal administration as the USES, has been, since Nov. 16, a responsibility of the state, as the SES.

The division is now responsible for three activities that affect the daily lives of most of the people in the state—workers and employers. It is now administering the employment service, the readjustment alowance program under which benefits are paid jobless veterans, and unemployment compensation which pays benefits to civilians as job insurance.

ECONOMIST TELLS OF SHEEP OUTLOOK

1946 Lamb Crop Was Smallest in 20 Years

With breeding stock prices high and with meat likely to be lower in another year, now is a poor time to go into the sheep business from scratch. On the other hand, this is no time for farmers with well established sheep business to sell out, according to D. C. Dvoracek, extension economist at University Farm.

Dvoracek believes that the trend away from sheep should be stopped and that sheep will be in just as good or better position than hogs and beef when prices level off.

The number of sheep in the United States has been declining steadily since 1942 when there were 57 million head. This year there were 44 million sheep.

In addition, the 1946 lamb crop was the smallest in 20 years, and the 1947 crop will be even smaller, as a result of selling off breeding flocks and have not saved ewe lambs.

The demand and prices from sheep will hold up well until at least next fall when a large 1947 spring pig crop and a continued large supply of beef may force meat prices down, Dvoracek believes.

Taking into consideration the small number of sheep, the plentiful feed supply and continued high demand for meat, the sheep producer should feed for a high finish. Good and choice grades will continue to command relatively higher prices than lower grades.

The outlook for wool depends greatly on weather or not wool prices will continue to be supported at 42 cents per pound after April 15, 1947.

Great Northern To Put New Empire Builders in Use Early in January

America's first post war fleet of transcontinental streamlined trains, Great Northern Railway's new Empire Builders, will go into daily service soon after January 1.

The diesel-powered streamliners will clip 13½ hours from the present schedules of passenger trains over lines between Chicago and Pacific Northwest cities, said F. J. Gavin, Great Northern president. The new Empire Builders will make the 2,214-mile run from Chicago to Seattle in 45-hours. The streamliner will leave Chicago's Union Station at 1 p. m. daily. The new train's schedule has not been completed.

The new 7-million-dollar Empire Builder will consist of five 12 car trains and a large amount of the equipment has been delivered. Each train will include a mail-baggage car, a 60-seat coach, three 48-seat coaches, a coffee shop car, diner, four sleeping cars and an observation lounge.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Grand American Tradition

The Cuppers had a grand old family reunion last week—for the first time since the war.

Big and little Cuppers came, by car and train, from as far west as Nebraska and as far east as Vermont. They crowded Dee and Jane's house, set up quarters in the barns, or stopped with neighbors—and a jollier gathering you couldn't have imagined!

I was asked to their final Saturday night supper, when they sang old songs, drank beer and cider, reminisced. Dark Cuppers and blonde ones—Vermont accents and Alabama drawls—scholars and farmers . . . all with their differences of taste and politics, yet as close and harmonious in spirit as a group could be.

From where I sit, it's a great American tradition—not just family reunions, but the ability to get along as one harmonious family, regardless of differences of taste—whether it's taste for politics or farming, beer or cider.

SUGAR SUPPLY IS STILL INADEQUATE

Fargo Rationing Chief Explains Situation

The world sugar supply is not yet sufficient to permit its removal from rationing and price control, William J. Hunter, director of the Sugar Branch office in Fargo, stated today.

The critical shortage of sugar, according to Hunter, is a direct result of the war. In normal years, he pointed out, the United States got a large part of its sugar from the Philippines, Hawaii, and Cuba. Since 1941, Hunter stated, we have received no sugar from the Philippines, and the Hawaiian supply has dropped from 903,000 tons to 852,000 tons and the supply from Cuba has dropped from 2,699,000 tons to 2,000,000 tons.

A somewhat larger U. S. beet sugar crop this year will add to the supply, according to Hunter. But, until we can import more sugar, even our expanded beet sugar production cannot bring our supplies back to normal, he pointed out.

The sugar director stated that until all sugar-producing areas in all parts of the world can get back into full production, sugar will continue to be in short supply.

CASH REGISTERS FEATURE
PRE-INDICATION

An outstanding achievement of Ohmer engineers—What does PRE-INDICATION mean? It means that the amount for each sale appears at the top of the register before the sale is actually recorded.... How does that help you? First, it makes possible faster operation. Secondly, it stops mistakes by preventing incorrect registrations because both salesperson and customer check the amount before the sale is recorded and not afterward.

More and more merchants are asking for this feature. Customers appreciate PRE-INDICATION, too! Saves time, prevents confusion. Purchases can be made more quickly. PRE-INDICATION is profit insurance and protection for the owner.

The minutes, with the foregoing corrections were declared approved and adopted.

Paul Hamilton, representative of the City Planning Board, appeared before the Council, together with other members of the Board, and suggested and recommended that the Council give serious consideration to the sale of remaining Blocks 32 and 37 of the Original Townsite into Civic Center and that no further construction be permitted on such premises, and that the Council give a close consideration to the plan of Park and Playground development in accordance with plans submitted by the firm of Nichols, Mason and Dorsett, architects, Minneapolis, Minnesota. It was indicated that the Council would discuss and consider the matter further at a later date.

Harley Leonard Lindholm and David Potts, Chairman of the Mission Covenant Church, appeared before the Council as representatives of the homeless of Lots 1-32 Block 37 of the Original Townsite and presented and read a communication in which was outlined their reasons for purchasing such lots at public sale and asked that they be not denied the right to construct thereon a church. It was originally intended. Their request was supported by a communication of the Evangelical Free Church Fellowship Committee, Acting Secretary and by the First Baptist Church, by J. Blaine, Pastor. No action was taken by the City Council at this time.

Walter Ekeren and Gordon Reierson, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce appeared before the Council and requested and recommended that the Council take steps to acquire a tract of land bordering the Red Lake River, lying west of the extension of Horsen Avenue across the Hill land North of Nora Street, to be utilized as a Park area on which suggested no action was taken by the Council. Arthur Christianson, who also represented the Junior Chamber of Commerce urged that the administration arrange to service the marshy condition of the east bank across Red Lake River between Tinsdale Park and the Third Street Bridge by a dredging project and the Council referred the matter to the City Engineer and Alderman Simons for consideration.

Mrs. Beatrice Welch, administrator of the Estate of Phillip Cote, appeared before the Council with regard to certain property proposed to be taken over by the City in connection with the highway and bridge project and offered such property to the City for the sum of $6000.00, on which matter no action was taken.

A large delegation of women also were present and renewed their request for the continuation of the Juvenile Recreation Play Time program, which had previously been operated under the supervision of Camille Dostal and which had been closed since August 15th and stated that the members of the Council state their reasons for non-continuation of the project. Given as such reasons was the cost and also an order from the Fire Marshall's Office of the State, requiring the installation of a fire escape and other changes as a matter of public safety. The President then called for a ballot vote on the further continuation of the project. The result of the ballot indicated a vote of four in favor of continuation and two votes in favor of discontinuation. Motion was made by Alderman Anderson that the services of the Supervisor of Juvenile Recreation Project be terminated as of December 14, 1946, which motion was seconded by Alderman Berge and the motion was declared adopted and carried.

Mrs. Joseph Holmes appeared before the Council with a renewal of claims for alleged damages to his property by reason of high water in Thief River, property being located in Bothun's Addition to Fairchild and the Council indicated that the matter should be investigated.

The Council then listened to representatives of Nordberg Manufacturing Company and McIntosh & Seymour Diesel Engine Company who discussed details of proposed specifications to be used by the Council to determine to proceed with the installation of additional Diesel Generating Equipment and also listened to representatives of Mackenzie Mfg. Company, Tulsa, Oklahoma and H. H. Rhodes, Hartford, Conn. manufacturers of Parking Meters and representatives of the Park Board were present and stated that they had on hand approximately 50 cords of mixed stove wood, which had been cut into stove lengths and which had been purchased for the use of the summer's storm damage and subsequent fire at the Legion Arena and stated that the Clerk be directed to cause notice to be published calling for proposals for the purchase of such wood, bids to be opened on December 10, 1946. The motion was seconded by Alderman Nelson and the motion was thereupon adopted.

BEMIDJI SWAMPS PROWLERS 50-21 SATURDAY NIGHT

Lumberjacks Lead 17-3 at Intermission Time in One-sided Contest

The Bemidji Lumberjacks, perennial champions of district 29, trounced the Prowlers, 50 to 21, in a game played on the B. S. T. C. floor at Bemidji on Saturday night. The local cagers played erratic basketball against Coach Mike Lagather's club, were held to one field goal and a free throw during the first half.

The Prowlers tallied the game's first point when Palmer Ronholm converted on Chuck Grover's foul; but Don Seivek knotted the cunt at 1-all when he made a free throw after being fouled by Harley Wagner. Smerud's pair of free throw moved the Jacks into the lead, and field goals by Seivek, Grover and Calhoun boosted the Bemidji margin to 10 to 1 at the end of the period.

Chuck Erickson's field goal was the only Prowler points marked up for Coach Lindenmeyrer's squad in the second period, while Bemidji added seven points to give the Jacks a 17 to 3 lead at the intermisio n.

The Prowlers played their best basketball in the third period, with Mario Davidson sparking the locals attack. Davidson notched a pair of field goals and Williamson and Engelstad counted from the field, lifting the Prowler point total to 16 points. Bemidji, with several reserves in the lineup, totaled 16 points in the period, giving the Lumberjacks a lead of 32 to 16 going into the final period.

Seivek, Grover, and LaDue led the Bemidji fourth period drive which netted eighteen points and carried the Jack total to 50. The Powlers tacked five points to their string giving them a 21-point score.

For the Lumberjacks, Sievek, with 11 points, and Grover, with 10 points, were the high scorers, with Chase doing strong work in covering rebounds. Mario 'Davidson's seven points paced the Prowler scorer, the red-headed forward coming up with three field goals and a free throw and playing an aggressive game until forced out of the contest on personals in the fourth period.

Prowlers Take R. L. Falls Friday 29-21

Piling up a 10 to 2 lead at the end of the first period, and holding a 19 to 8 advantage at the half, the Prowlers defeated Red Lake Falls 29 to 21, in a rough encounter here Friday night. In an exciting and entertaining preliminary game the Prowler 'B' team, trailing by six points at the intermission, rolled up sixteen points in the third period to edge out the Red Lake Falls 'B' team, 34 to 30. The Prowlers move out of town this week, playing the Detroit Lakes team at Detroit Lakes on Friday night.

Coach Lindenmeyer, dividing his lettermen, utilized two teams during the first half. The first period five, consisting of Glen Magnuson and Al Williamson at the forwards, Chuch Troland at center, and Frank Dopp and Chuck Erickson at the guards, pulled away to a 10 to 2 lead. Williamson, after a half-minute of play, opened the scoring by sinking a overhand hook shot from close in, and then, on a pass from Magnuson, Al notched another hook shot, giving the Prowlers a 4 to 0 lead. A pair of field goals by Magnuson, a long shot by Dopp, carried the prowler total to 10 points, while Red Lake Falls' two points were recorded on free throws by Don Schmidt and Jim Benton.

In the second period, Mario Davidson and Keith Jorde took over the forward spots, Dick Borreson moved into center, and Don Engelstad and Palmer Ronholm were at guards. The scoring on this five was done by Borreson, who dopped in a pair of field goals, Davidson, who lofted in a left-handed shot, and Don Engelstad, who scored a field goal an a free throw. Red Lake broke into the field goal scoring column in the period, with Ken Cartier and Benton getting two-pointers.

The Prowlers continued to add to their lead in the third period, with Jorde slipping through for a pair of field goals and Davidson driving in for an under-hand shot from close in, and giving the locals a 25 to 12 lead.

In the final peiod, the game became eratic and rough an Coach Lindenmeyer gave all of his reserves an opportunity to play. The only points tallied by the Prowlers were chalked up on a field goal by Magnuson and a field goal by Johnny Winters. Red Lake Falls outscored the Prowlers in the period, getting three field goals and three free throws.

The Prowler scoring was evenly divided, Glen Magnuson being the locals high point man with six points. Williamson, Borreson, Davidson, and Jorde followed with four points apiece. Red Lake's Jim Benton was the game's high scorer, having eight points on three field goals and a pair of free throws.

In the nip-and-tuck preliminary game, "Mouse" Higginbotham and Don Stadum led the Prowler 'B' scorers, each of whom tallied eight points. Red Lake Falls' Dick Baril though, proved to be the game's out-standing scorer, with the freshman guard racking up seven field goals and three free throws.

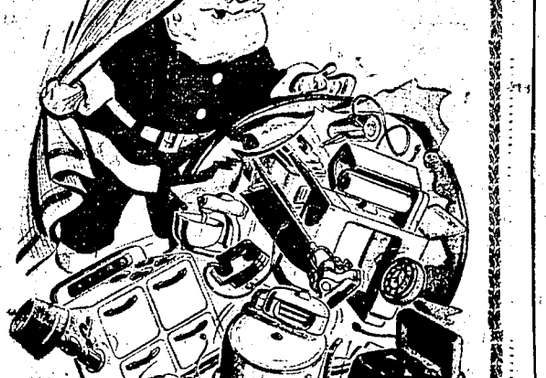
TECHNOCRACY
Our Country, Right or Wrong

IN August 1946, one year had passed since the surrender of Japan and the cessation of military warfare of World War II. European fascism surrendered on May 9, 1945, to be followed by the Japanese capitulation on August 14, 1945, and now over a year later let us review the war, the Allies then and now.



Prior to World War II the Axis nations formed the Fascist Anti-Comintern Pact. Germany, Italy, Hungary, Spain and Japan were the members of this Anti-Cumintern Axis, which was formed by the fascist powers to oppose and combat bolshevism and social changes. Great Britain, France and, to a somewhat lesser extent, the United States lent tacit support and material help to the Axis crusade against the U. S. S. R. and social change everywhere.

After World War I, Great Britain supported economic rehabilitation in Germany in order to revive her own world trade. The tory conservatives of Britain and their governments of Baldwin and Chamberlain indulged in a surreptitious economic and political support of Hitler, and did their best to further the rise of German Fascism in order to create a bulwark in eastern Europe against the westward spread of Russian Bolshevism.

In 1938 Czechoslovakia stood as the only obstacle to a fascist war on Russia. Fascist governments existed in Poland, Hungary and Rumania, providing the springboard for an attack by the Germans, but Czechoslovakia remained an ally of Russia, with formidable armored divisions and geographically natural defenses. France was bound by the treaty of 1925 to go to the aid of Czechoslovakia if attacked. Russia was pledged to aid France in the protection of the Czech state.

In the spring of 1938 France under the Popular Front was ready to come to the help of Czechoslovakia if assured of British support. The British Prime Minister on March 24 refused to give any pledge to that effect. The French Popular Front government of Leon Blum fell and was replaced by the reactionary government of Edouard Daladier. Soviet Russia again and again declared her determination to honor her legal obligations toward France and to come to her aid if attacked, provided France did likewise. Russia terminated her non-aggression treaty with Poland and notified that country that Russian troops would be forced to cross Polish territory to come to the aid of Czechoslovakia.

A meeting of all school board members from both rural and dependant districts will be held Saturday afternoon, December 21, at 2 o'clock in the court house, it was announced today by Mrs. A. C. Matheson, county superintendent of schools.

The proposed bill for revising state school aids to be submitted at the 1947 session of the state legislature will be the principal topic for discussion. Copies of the bill will be distributed at the meeting, and features of the bill will be explained in detail.

Mrs. Matheson stated that an effort will be made to determine how the bill will affect each district as to cost and amount of aid that would be received.

Dr. A. E. Jacobson, member of the board of directors of the Minnesota School Board association and legislative chairman for this region, will lead the discussion.

Mrs. Matheson urged all school officers to attend the meeting.

CHRISTMAS MAIL AT PEAK THIS WEEK

Six Extra Employes on Duty at Postoffice

The season for holiday mailing, which got under way earlier than usual this year, reached its peak early this week, so far as outgoing mail is concerned, with the crest of incoming mail due within the next few days, Postmaster Andrew Anderson stated today.

The regular staff of postoffice workers has been augmented by the addition of six temporary workers. Indications are, Mr. Anderson said, that it will be necessary to make one extra delivery of mail next Sunday, in addition to which belated gift packages will be delivered on Christmas Day.

Mr. Anderson reminded patrons that greeting cards bearing one-half cents postage, when deposited in the mailbox at the Soo depot will not be taken on the train but will be retirned to the postoffice for handling, the same rules applying to packages.

Mr. Anderson also asked the the cooperation of householders in clearing snow off their front walks to facilitate the work of the mail carriers.

Legislative Session Rotary Topic Tuesday

Members of the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel heard a discussion by W. E. Dahlquist of financial problems that will confront the state legislature when it convenes next month. One bright spot in the picture, he stated, is the fact that the state debt has been greatly reduced during the past half-dozen years.

Two veterans of World War II, both residents of the Plummer community, were instantly killed Monday morning at about 2 o'clock when the car in which they were riding was struck by a northbound Soo Line freight train at the crossing adjoining the Soo depot at Plummer.

The dead are Walter Gerardy, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Gerardy, and Joseph Jaeger, also 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jaeger, farm families living near Plummer.

Red Lake county authorities reported that the car, owned by Gerardy, was struck with such force that it was sent crashing into the depot, damaging the structure and almost demolishing the automobile. The car was proceeding east at the time of the accident.

Rene Lizotte, Red Lake county coroner, informed the Times that an inquest to investigate the circumstances surrounding the fatal crash had been called for next Monday morning, December 23, in Red Lake Falls.

ASK PAYMENT OF CHRISTMAS SEALS

Mrs. C. M. Adkins, Local Chairman, Makes Appeal

Some time ago, back in November most residents of Thief River Falls received a letter from the Christmas seal organization. The letter carried an account of the work carried on by the association during the past year. It also contained an invitation to residents to participate in that work by purchasing Christmas seals enclosed with the letter.

"Many of us", says Mrs. C. M. Adkins, local chairman, "pretended to accept that invitation by tearing open the seals. A few of us intend to accept, but somehow we forget to send in money for our seals. Our negligence did not mean that we were not interested in the association, that we did not want it to continue its excellent work in preventing the spread of tuberculosis in our community. Far from it, we want the work to go ahead. We simply forgot that the association cannot function unless we purchase the seals, the sale of which is the sole support of the association.

"It still is not too late to answer the invitation of the tuberculosis association. We can still show our interests in its work, we can still participate in its work, we can still participate in its community health program by sending in the money for our seals today."

Vary Flavor Color To Set Off Meal

Home economists say we can avoid dull meals—the key to their suggestions on ways to give menus appetite-appeal-plus lying in "variety." A meal in which the flavors, the colors, the textures of different foods are very much alike can be a dreary meal. On the other hand, one with some contrasts can often pique the dullest appetite.

Take the flavors first. A bland food can be set off by a stronger flavored one. For example, an omelet or souffle may be appreciated more when it's served with a vegetable like cabbage or broccoli or onions. Fish may taste all the better when served with cole slaw or pickle or sliced tomatoes. A touch of sour flavor in one dish may improve the sweet flavor in another.

As for "color," the term can be applied to meals as well as anything else. We can get the bright green of quick-cooked vegetables, the fresh colors of raw ones, the brown of potatoes baked in their skins, the reds of beets, tomatoes, the orange of carrots, and the deep colors of ripe fruit.

Rural Health

In rural counties the per capita expenditure for public health work is hardly 50 cents annually, Dr. F. O. Mott, formerly a senior surgeon in the U. S. Public Health service and chief medical officer of the Farm Security administration, has said. A minimum of $2 is necessary, he added. Total expenditures by local health agencies in our most rural states in 1942 were at only about half the rate of those in the most urban states. Mott asserted. A study of farm security borrower families in 1940 showed that only 37 per cent of children up to eight years of age had been vaccinated against smallpox either at public health clinics or by private practitioners. In contrast, 69 per cent of children in this age group had been vaccinated in 20 large cities studied in the national health survey. The same story holds true for tuberculosis control, venereal disease control, health education, or almost any other accepted function of a local health department.

Fat Flavor

To keep its good flavor and prevent rancidity, fat should be kept cold, covered and dark. Heat especially, but also air and light, hasten the chemical change that causes fat to become rancid and inedible. Kept near the stove—the hottest place in the kitchen—and open to air and light, and also to dust and even insects, fat soon becomes unfit to eat. The jar or can in which leftover fat and drippings are kept should be given a permanent location in the refrigerator and always be covered.

What is Light?

Light is an energy radiation caused by a disturbance of the electrons revolving about the nucleus of an atom, says Better Vision Institute. A light ray is not continuous, but consists of an ack-ack of energy bullets, called photons. These bullets, so small as to be almost beyond belief, can move in space without losing energy. When they strike an object and are not reflected, they are converted into heat. The photons in blue and violet light rays have more energy than those making up the red rays.

Storage Hazard

"Mothproof" containers alone do not eliminate the pest hazard. If they're tightly enough sealed, with no cracks, they keep moths from getting in from the outside but they don't prevent any moth larvae already lurking in the clothes from doing their dirty work. Hence the necessity for having the woolens thoroughly cleaned. As an added protection, use a spray or flakes of naphthalene, or paradichlorobenzene, or moth balls—a pound for a small chest, 3 pounds for an average closet. The flakes or balls are put in a pan which diffuses the vapors and kills them. If the concentration is high enough. As the gas is heavier than air and rises, the flakes should be put high in the closet and renewed, if necessary.

WHICH WAY PROGRESS

Production of bituminous coal for this year is estimated at 625 million tons, the labor of 344,000 miners. In 1920 it required 630,000 miners to produce the 568 million tons turned out that year. This year, in spite of two strikes which have reduced production, we have mined nearly as much bituminous coal as we did in 1920, with little more than half the miners.

The reason for this big increase in the per man production of course is mechanization. It is mechanization that makes possible the higher wages and the better working conditions of the miners now employed. The interesting question is what has happened to the 300,000 additional miners who would have been necessary to maintain this production if there had been no mechanization. Is the net result good or bad?

The answer is found in what has happened in other fields. Not much more than a hundred years ago most of our people were employed in the production of food. It required the labor of three-fourths of the people to provide food for the nation. Now less than one-fourth are able to supply all of us with more food than we need and the labor of three-fourths is released for other forms of production and services. This is the result of mechanization in the production of goods. It is the reason for our higher standard of living.

Mechanization of the mines may have caused hardship for some individuals, but the net result certainly is good. It is the machine that we have to thank for the progress we have made. It will be better machinery and more efficient methods of production that will raise our standards of living to still higher levels. The period of adjustment is sometimes painful, but never would we want to go back to the slower, more laborious and more costly way of doing things.

In the spirit of the season—may you be at peace with yourself and with your fellow man thruout the Christmas Holiday. May you overcome the bitterness that is in your heart and be forgiving toward those who have injured you. May you have the patience and tolerance that comes with understanding. May you have happiness.

A few days after the shortest day of the year will come the longest day of the year for a lot of kids, the day before Christmas.

Opening of the hockey season this week without any fears of soft ice reminds us of other seasons when skating didn't get under way this early. Not so many years ago golf was played on Christmas day and a few of the fellows paraded the street in straw hats. Apparently this isn't one of those years. But hockey fans are not complaining.

Snow removal equipment is simplifying the problems of keeping the streets open for traffic. This is a service, like inside plumbing and electricity, that people don't want to get along without once they have had it. City streets and country roads must now be kept open for automobile traffic the year around, and that costs money. It is the kind of service people do not object to paying for however.

Blubber Helps Eskimos Withstand Arctic Cold

Eskimos had no laboratories, no test tubes and no microscopes, but long ago they learned the secret of diet to protect them from the intense cold.

For centuries, no one knows exactly how long, the Eskimos have depended on whale blubber as their principal food and they could not have made a better choice to insure their survival in a climate which would destroy a less hardy race. For blubber is a fat and is months of experiments at the University of Illinois research hospital have proven that a high fat diet provides the best resistance to sub-zero temperatures because of its heat-producing qualities.

Conscientious objectors, assigned to the hospital for the experiments during the war, spent countless days in a room mechanically refrigerated to a temperature of 40 degrees below zero to determine what foods would be best suited for combat troops in frigid zones.

Eggs Perishable

Heat plays an important part in reducing egg quality. Eggs are a very perishable product and will start deteriorating within a few hours after they are laid if temperature is not controlled. Eggs should be gathered at least two times each day during hot weather and cooled immediately. Gathering the eggs in a wire basket permits circulation of air through the eggs to reduce temperature caused by the body heat of the hen. Eggs should be stored in the coolest part of the house until they can be marketed, but do not store them near onions, kerosene, apples or other materials that have strong odors or flavors.

Detroit Lakes Five Noses out Prowlers; Devils Lake Coming

Keith Jorde's field goal, which would have evened the score and forced an over-time came a second after the game-ending buzzer sounded and the result was that the Lakers won a 37 to 35 verdict from the Prowlers in an exciting basketball game played at Detroit Lakes Friday night. In a preliminary game, the Detroit Lakes 'B' team, scoring their winning margin in the second and third periods, defeated the local 'B' squad, 31 to 26. This week the Prowlers open their North Valley Conference scheule, playing the rangy Devils Lake Satans on the local floor Friday evening.

Coach JakeHoffs' Lakers, utilizing a criss-cross offense and with their big center, Chuck Modisette, setting up the plays, pulled away to a 16 to 7 lead in the first period of the game Friday night. And Detroit Lakes held that eight points margin through the second period, with the two teams playing on even terms, giving the Lakers a 21 to 13 advantage at the intermission.

Detroit Lakes, with Modisette scoring a pair of field goals and doing strong work in covering the backboards, increased their point margin over the Prowlers in the third period tallying, thirteen points while the locals were coming up with nine points.

Trailing by a 34 to 22 score, the Prowlers made their rally in the fourth period, and which came within a second or two of carrying the game into an extra period. Al Williamson droped in a field goal; and Frank Dopp, who had scored three straight free throws the third period, looped in a field goal from the free throw circle. Mario Davidson grabbed a rebound and flipped a left-handed shot into the net, boosting the Prowler score to 28 and forcing the Lakers to take time out. Palmer Ronholm pumped a long shot into the basket, and then came through with a free throw. Dick Towson scored a Detroit Lakes field goal on a one-handed toss from the court, and then added a point on a free throw.

Glen Magnuson, taking a pass from Williamson, shoved in a field goal for the Prowlers, and a moment later, Ronholm, breaking up a play in mid-court, dribbled in for a set-up bringing the score to 37 to 35 for the Lakers with a minute and a half to play. Detroit Lakes played a stalling game to control the ball, and when fouled a couple of times by the Prowlers, exercised the option of taking the ball out of bounds. But with a couple of seconds of play remaining, a scramble occured in mid-court, with the ball bouncing loose, and just as Keith Jorde dashed in to recover and take a first dribble the buzzer sounded. Keith took another dribble and then from the left side of the court, flipped a shot into the nets. The officials were agreed that the game had ended before Jorde had made his basket try, giving Detroit Lakes a two point win, 37 to 35.

For the winners, Modisette, at was the high-point man and the outstanding player, with guard Bruce Barret also turning in alst rate performance. For the Prowlers, Palmer Ronholm, with nine points, and Mario Davidson, with eight points, were the high scorers. Al Williamson came up with seven points, and Frank Dopp had five points on a field goal and three free throws.

BEMIDJI HOCKEY SIX TO VIE WITH LOCALS TONIGHT

Paul Bunyan All-stars Meets Thief River Falls Senior Team in Arena

Senior hockey will open here tonight when the Thieves meet the Bemidji State Teachers College Paul Bunyan all-stars on the Arena rink. Booking manager Russ Embury announced yesterday that he had made arrangements for the B. S. T. C. club to play here, and that he is endeavoring to schedule a game for Sunday afternoon.

The States-Dominion hockey league, with seven teams in prospect, is completing its schedule, and when the game dates have been acknowledged by the various teams the circuit will begin its play. It is hoped that the league will open its schedule within a week or ten days.

Thief River Falls, Hallock, Crookston, Warrood, Roseau, in Minnesota, Grand Forks in North Dakota, and Emerson in Manitoba, are the teams that are preparing for senior hockey. Roseau, Thief River Falls, Warroad, and Emerson have been installed as the early season favorites. Emerson is reported as having the two Beaulieu brothers in their lineup, while Warroad is being strengthened by the addition of Bill and Ken Zippel.

In order to accommodate Minnesota students, the University of Minnesota rejected 13,700 applicants from outside the state in the fall of 1946.

PROWLER SEXTET IN ONE-SIDED WIN OVER GREENBUSH

Coach Paulson's Boys Win over Visitors by Score of 14-2 Tuesday

Coach Harold Paulson's hockey Prowlers opened their season with an easy 14 to 2 win over a young and inexperienced Greenbush high school sextet here Tuesday night. The game gave Coach Paulson an opportunity to use all his squad members and watch their performance in competition. The Prowlers will be idle for two weeks, but will return to their schedule on Dec. 31st when the state champion Roseau high school team plays here.

The Prowlers, with their veterans in the lineup, racked up three goals in the opening minutes of play Tuesday night, with Don LaSalle, Rob Amundson, and Ronnie Ness punching home counters. The Prowlers out-skated and out-passed Coach Hastings' youngsters, and with a 7 to 0 first period lead, Coach Paulson sent the Prowler seniors to the showers and began inserting the 'B' squad boys into the lineup.

Greenbush averted a shutout by scoring a pair of goals in the third period, with Hector Reese, on a couple of solo rushes, skating on goalie Ralph Engelstad and tallying from the goal-mouth.

The Prowlers' hockey schedule:
Dec. 31st. Roseau, here.
Jan. 4th. Williams, here.
Jan. 9th. Greenbush, there.

Keeping Score

. . . . With BUCK OLSON

Local hockey fans got their first look at the Prowler hockey squad Tuesday night, when Coach Babe Paulson's team swamped Greenbush, 14-2; and this evening the fans will get their first glimpse of the city's senior hockey club, when the Thieves meet the Bemidji State Teachers College six on the Arena rink.

Tuesday night's encounter with the Greenbush team wasn't much of a test for the Prowlers-that test will come on Dec. 31st when the locals meet Oscar Almquist's all-veteran Roseau team—but it appears that Coach Paulson will have a strong first team, with the problem being to find a scoring "second" line and a pair of capable reserve defensemen. Babe shuffled his lineup considerably Tuesday night, moving Les Vigness back to defense spot, where he believes the speedy Prowler will be able to set up some breakaway plays. And he shifted Swede Lund to center from a wing position, with Swede teaming with Elroy Skjerping and Don LaSalle. Don Hagg, a veteran letterman, has been plagued by a back injury, but the red-head was out on the ice Tuesday night and it is hoped and expected that he will be okay in a week or two. His experience is needed on that Amundson-Ripley line.

And the senior fans will get an eyeful when they see the Thieves against the B. S. T. C. team tonight. The locals haven't had too many practice sessions, but with Babe Paulson, Tony Dorn, Bob Baker, Mouse Efteland, Pug Lund, Connie Stanbridge, Bob Protz, Lloyd Johnson, Bob Bell, Irv Wilson, and Kenny Jaranson on the roster, the Thieves should be able to take Bemidji boys quite handily.

There are a lot of hockey "names" in that list: Babe Paulson is a former University of Minnesota hockey captain and played with the St. Paul Saints; Tony Dorn has had a year with the New York Rovers and Washington Lions in the Eastern Amateur league; Bob Baker was a unanimous all-state high school player for the Prowlers in 1945; and "Mouse" Efteland was an all-stater in 1941, the year the locals upset the favored Eveleth high team. Those boys should provide plenty of entertainment.

Fourth is First

At least that is the way it has turned out in the Straightaway league, for the Poppler's Furniture bowling team, holding fourth place in the standings, was the first team to roll a 1000-pin total, and that event took place last Friday night. The Poppler' tacked up a 1001 score, with the following individual scores: Nicky Carlson, 213; Fred Lorentson, 187; Ed Karwand, 181; Owen Scramstad, 231; and Merle Carlson, 189.

There have been a number of teams that have rolled up 900-pin games, and several of the clubs have been within a strike or a spare of reaching the 1000-pin mark, but to the Poppler's goes the honor of being the first to break that mark, and I'll wager that they will reach that mark again, especially if strike-ball Nicky Carlson gets his left handed curve hitting just right.

"Tooney" Did It

According to present plans the city basketball league, with six teams will begin play on the Auditorium court after the holidays, and when the boys get together they should give a round of cheers to Glenn "Tooney" Carlson, for it was largely through his efforts that the funds for organizing and equipping the league was made. It was "Tooney" who engaged and promoted the WDAY Jamboree to the success it was, and the net profits and they were considerable, has been transferred to the city Athletic Association and pledged for basketball and softball use.

The largest expenditure by the University for the year was $8,836,061.74 for instruction and research. This item included the expenses of college instruction and research, agricultural schools and experiment stations, the University Hospitals, the summer session and agricultural and general extension work.

Second largest outlay for the period was that for operating and capital expenditures for self-supporting service enterprises and revolving funds, $5,859,187.20. Among these service enterprises are dormitories and dining halls cafeterias, the University printing department and Army and Navy housing and feeding.

Trust fund expenditures for teaching and research, care of the sick and so on, scholarships, fellowships and prizes drained $2,047,254.88 from University funds, and physical plant operations, the expenses of maintaining and operating the buildings and other improvements on the land of Main campus and Farm campus, cost $1,170,024.44.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT ERSKINE FRIDAY

Costly Blaze Damages Berger Lumber Company

A fire starting in the Berger Lumber yards at Erskine, Friday destroyed most of the company's office building and an adjoining hardware store and routed two families from apartments above the stores.

George C. Berger, founder and president of Berger Manufacturing Co. and Berger-Patent Lumber Co., said his company lost seven new machines for designing grooved lumber, machine tools and lathes. He estimated the fire loss for his firm and other building in excess of $100,000, partly covered by insurance.

Fire departments from Fertile McIntosh, Winger, Bagley, Mentor, Red Lake Falls and Fosston were summoned to help fight the blaze in below zero temperatures.

Lumber and machinery stored in the Berger office building was destroyed, and the adjoining Coast-to-Coast store was swept by flame.

The Ray Brown and Lloyd Davis families were forced to flee from their apartments over the store.

Strikes are not an innovation of recent times. They are merely better organized, more effective and more crippling now than ever before. — Springfield Advance-Press.

A HUNTING WE WILL GO

When a frightened doe crashed his windshield, Sylvester Fogel of Morton lost two teeth but was able to keep his car right side up on the highway. A big buck crashed into the side of E. A. Johnson's car near Zimmerman, denting it and breaking a door handle. Next day he decided to trail the deer, located it, shot it, and found the door handle embedded in the animal's side. Isaac Lassilly trails a wounded deer until he got lost in swamps near Roseau, and had to spend the night defending himself from bobcats.

LIFE WITH Schmidt's CITY CLUB

Engineer in the use of diesel locomotives, Great Northern will have 117 of these modern engines in service by January 1. Above is the cab of one of the 6,000-horsepower passenger diesels, which will pull the fleet of new, streamlined Empire Builders which will be in daily service soon after January 1.

Continuing Progress

What makes a railway? Physically, it consists of the land over which the steel rails extend, freight and passenger cars, locomotives, stations, yards, shops, stores, office buildings and a large, skilled corps of men and women.

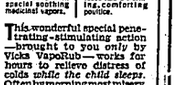
There is another ingredient, without which the physical plant of a railway would be as inefficient and unproductive as an automobile or tractor without a steering gear. It is policy—management's established plan for the conduct of the railway's operations and services.

Great Northern Railway's policy is older than its line from Lake Superior to Puget Sound. The policy of continuing progress and consistent adherence to it have earned for Great Northern world-wide recognition as a leader in railway transportation.

Within a short time, the people who work and live along Great Northern will see and hear about the newest product of the railway's program for the continuing progress of its services. A fleet of new Empire Builders soon will be running between Chicago and the Pacific Northwest.

Even during the war, while helping to perform the greatest transportation job in history, Great Northern stuck to policy and ordered the new Empire Builders. The sleek, diesel-powered streamliners will be the first, new transcontinental sleeping car and coach trains of the post-war period. They also will be first to establish daily, 45-hour service over the northern route from Seattle and Portland to Chicago.

A 45-hour schedule for a 2,214-mile run, which involves crossing two major mountain ranges at safe, comfortable speeds, will not permit stops at many stations on Great Northern's main lines. Towns the streamliner must "highball" in order to make that schedule will be afforded the services of other fine trains. These supporting services will be maintained as long as public patronage justifies their operation.



Additional improvements in passenger services are in Great Northern's 1947 program. Nearing construction are three smaller, modern, diesel-drawn trains. One—the Red River Limited—will be operated on a daily, round-trip schedule between St. Paul and Grand Forks, N. D. Two others—the Puget Sounders—will provide faster daily service between Seattle and Vancouver, B. C.

The company's policy is responsible for the many improvements in the railway's freight services in the past several years. Largely because of shortages of serviceable equipment, plus lack of materials for repairing and construction of cars, freight service does not now always measure up to Great Northern standards. But, these war-born obstacles, which are confronting almost every American industry and business, eventually will be surmounted.

Continuing progress in providing transportation services to and from its territory, and the fullest possible encouragement for the development and welfare of that territory are basic elements of Great Northern's policy.

The youngsters know it — the oldsters sometimes forget it... but there IS a Santa Claus. He's you, he's your neighbor, he's the fellow down the street, he's the small merchant, the big business man, the farmer... he's the best part of everybody rolled up into one swell little fat fellow. You may call him a state of mind, a viewpoint, a feeling, a spirit of Christmas — but he's real. There IS a Santa Claus... you know it and we know it. The only sad thing is that his stay is so brief. After Christmas, some folks forget all about him for another year. Let's keep the Christmas spirit of cheerfulness all through 1947. And now... our officers, staff and directors join with Santa Claus in extending sincere wishes to you and your family for a...

PLANS BEING MADE FOR 1947 MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE

Glen Carlson Named Chairman of January Campaign in Pennington

County directors for the 1947 March of Dimes campaign were announced today by Charles Bolles Rogers, state chairman of the fund campaign for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Glen Carlson will head the drive in Pennington county.

Purpose of the drive in Minnesota is two-fold.

1. The National Foundation's polio epidemic emergency fund was completely wiped out by last summer's nationwide scourge. It must be rebuilt as insurance against the next outbreak, wherever it occurs.

2. Minnesota, which has raised much less than $900,000 for the National Foundation since the first March of Dimes in 1938 will have received from the National Foundation about two million dollars before the last polio case of the 1946 epidemic can be written off as closed. Half of the entire amount raised during previous years was spent in Minnesota. All but $100,000 of that amount had been spent before the 1946 epidemic broke out.

The money to be raised in the coming drive from January 15 to January 30, will be spent in four ways.

1. Part of it will go to finance research into the root causes of polio. The University of Minnesota research department alone has received more than $715,000 for this purpose.

2. Part will go for the training of doctors and nurses in methods of fighting the disease.

3. A third part will go to pay doctor, nurse, and hospital bills of individual patients who may be stricken next year. The average polio case costs $1,200. Hundreds of these bills were paid by the National Foundation this year without question as to race, color, creed or preference of treatment. No ability-to-pay test was applied to the families who asked for help.

4. A fourth part will be put into an emergency pool to meet the unexpected expenses of mobilizing community help wherever the next epidemic may strike. This is the fund which was wiped out during the past year. Before last summer's epidemic it amounted to $4,000,000.

Mr Rogers emphasized that the National Foundation is not in competition with the Kenny Institute. Next to Minneapolis General Hospital the Kenny Institute received by far the largest contribution of any of the six Minneapolis hospitals to which patients were brought from all over the state. The Kenny Institute received more than $46,000, besides money spent for the application of the Kenny treatment to patients in General Hospital, Michael Dowling school and the Fort Snelling emergency polio hospital.

HOLIDAY SEASON FREE OF MISHAPS IS PATROL'S WISH

13 Persons Killed in Traffic Accidents in Minnesota Last Season

Best wishes for a happy holiday season were extended to readers of the Times in a message from Earl Larimer, chief patrol officer of the Minnesota highway department. All members of the force, said Mr. Larimer, join in the hope that the people of this community will escape the tragedies which all too often mar holiday happiness.

"Holidays are always a matter of great concern to all traffic officers," said Mr. Larimer. "Last year thirteen persons were killed, and more than 200 injured in motor vehicle traffic accidents in Minnesota in the nine day period from Christmas eve to New Year's Day.

The year-round motor vehicle hazards are accentuated at this season of the year by icy surfaces, and poor visibility. Add to this the usual rush of holiday travel and you have a combination that calls for extreme caution.

"Icy and slippery surfaces call for reduced speed and greater caution in stopping and in meeting and passing other vehicles. Good drivers get the feel of the road surfaces when they start out. They try their brakes lightly while driving slowly and when no car is near. They slow down well in advance of intersections, turns and stop signs. They do not follow other vehicles closely.

"Take it easy when driving. Arriving a few minutes late won't spoil your holiday happiness, but too great haste might bring disaster."

American Federation of Labor Men in State Lose Little Time for Strikes

American Federation of Labor employees in Minnesota were on the job 99.72% of the available working time during the first ten months of 1946, according to a tabulation by the Minnesota State Federation of Labor from the official records of the state labor conciliation division.

Just made public by Robert A. Olson of Duluth, MFL president, the figures show that of 20,885 employees on strike in Minnesota since January 1, only 3,207 were AFL members. Of a total of 1,232,336 man-days lost by strikes in the state, only 95,156 man-days could be charged to AFL strikes. With 33,540,000 man-days available to AFL employees, the time lost in strikes was only .283%, only slightly more than one-quarter of one percent of the total, Mr. Olson pointed out.

"The reason for this," Olson said, "is the good contracts at the highest possible levels of pay and conditions in prevailing AFL agreements, respected by both employers are thrashed out at the conference table before reaching a picket line."

Wedding Service in Texas for Elizabeth Hatch — Alfred Knott

On Thanksgiving afternoon, November 28, at 4 o'clock, Elizabeth Engle Hatch, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuart Engle of this city and Beeville, Texas, and Alfred Hayden Knott, Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Knott of Lakeland, Florida, spoke their marriage vows in First Presbyterian church, Beeville, Texas, in the presence of close friends and relatives. Rev. W. J. Coleman officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Giant white chrysanthemums and white pompon chrysanthemums with greenery and white cathedral tapers in white candelabra decorated the church. At the base of the center arrangement was a banking of croton leaves from the groom's home.

Before the ceremony S. J. Baxter, Jr., of Houston, cousin of the bride, gave a program of wedding music on the organ, including "Liebestraum", "Serenade", and "Eventide". He played the traditional marches and accompanied his father, S. J. Baxter, Sr., of Houston, who sang Grieg's "I Love Thee" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple were kneeling.

The bride entered the church with her father. She wore a smoke-white suit, the jacket caught at the throat and wrists with silver clasps. Her large brown hat was adorned with pink feathers. For "something borrowed" she wore a pair of silver earrings belonging to the groom's mother. Her accessories were brown and her shoulder corsage was a purple orchid. The matron of honor, Mrs. James D. Loveless of Corpus Christi, Texas, wore a blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Miss D. Loveless attended the bride as best man, and Russell Pittrich and Welch Kuhlmann were ushers. All are from N. A. S., Corpus Christi.

The bride's mother wore a brown ensemble with a brown feather trimmed hat. Her gloves were yellow and her corsage was of yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the home. The table was overlaid with a hand drawn work Irish linen cloth. The centerpiece of white pompon chrysanthemums was surrounded by croton leaves, as was the tiered cake. Mrs. Frank Hutchinson served the cake and Mrs. George Engle, Jr. poured. Miss Kathleen Knight was in charge of the guest register.

The couple are at home at 1314 Chaparral, Apt. 9, Corpus Christi. Mr. Knott, stationed at N. A. S., has served four years in the navy, twenty months of this time overseas.

At a brief business meeting Mrs. Leon Lendobeja was elected to serve as president of the group; Mrs. Jorgen Austad, vice-president; and Mrs. Dayton Silk, secretary-treasurer.

Oregon Ceremony for Ardith Marion Hoard and Philip W. Coyner

Miss Ardith Marion Hoard, daughter of Minton Hoard of this city, and Philip Wesley Coyner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Craig Coyner of Bend, Oregon were united in marriage at services at the First Methodist church in Bend Nov. 29. The Rev. Clark J. Wood of Bend and Dr. Charles Edwards of Roseburg, Ore., officiated at 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Thomas E. Logan of Seattle, her sister's matron of honor, led the wedding procession in a bouffant puff-sleeved frock of blue lace and net over satin, and carried a nosegay of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

The bride came down the aisle on the arm of her uncle, Dean Hollinshead. Her gown of white slipper satin, made with full court train, was tightly fitted and trimmed with a row of buttons down the back. The bodice was detailed with long sleeves and a net yoke with dropped shoulder effect. Her lace-edged fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible with orchids, showered with satin sweetheart bows.

Craig Coyner, Jr., of Salem was his brother's best man and ushers were Omer Taylor and Roland Harnes.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hollinshead were hosts at a reception at the home of the groom's parents, and the bridal couple left on a wedding trip to British Columbia. They are at home at 406 Wall St., Bend, Ore.

The bride attended the University of Washington following her graduation from Bend high school in 1942. Coyner was graduated from Bend high school in 1941, attended the Oregon state college, and served as an ensign in the naval air corps. He is now associated with his father in the Coyner collection agency.

Minnesota Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan Leads in Rural Members

According to a survey on Blue Cross rural enrollment just completed by the Blue Cross commission of the American Hospitalized Association in Chicago, Minnesota leads in the United States and Canada with better than 150,000 rural residents enrolled in its Blue Cross plan.

The survey reports that rural enrollment in Blue Cross plans has increased more than 200 per cent since 1944, and comprehensive programs for reaching still more rural residents are on the way in the majority of plans.

The Minnesota Blue Cross plan embarked on its rural enrollment program at the instigation of the Minnesota Farm Bureau in 1938 when a group of 150 persons became Blue Cross subscribers through a Hennepin county Farm Bureau unit.

Today, 53,000 of the 150,000 rural Blue Cross subscribers are members of Farm Bureau units. In addition to the Farm Bureau, rural residents in the state can subscribe to Blue Cross through the Grange, farm clubs, community groups, bank groups and other farmers' organizations.

MANY PROBLEMS CONFRONT SOLONS

John Brandt Outlines Some of Current Issues

With state legislatures and the United States congress soon to assemble for law-making decisions five important problems coming before these legislators will require a common-sense approach on their part and a cooperative viewpoint on the part of agriculture, industry and labor that shows consideration for each other's needs in an inter-dependent society.

So declared John Brandt, president and general manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., today, in a discussion of coming legislation affecting parity, taxation, labor, agricultural surpluses, and international peace.

He brought out these points on:

Labor—"We must have studied legislation, not punitive but corrective, of an equalizing nature, which defines labor's responsibilities as well as its rights."

Parity—"A new definition of parity prices is needed. A rapid decline in agricultural prices would have a serious affect on non-agricultural groups, because the farmer is an important buyer of goods. This fact forms the basis of an aproach to parity, which is another problem in equalization."

Surpluses — "When agricultural goods are produced in quantities sufficient to meet demand, we immediately get temporary surpluses, which govern prices and cause disastrous declines. In other words, the moment we have enough food, we have too much. Legislation on this matter must be positive in nature, aimed at finding a home for the surplus so it may be disposed of without ruinous affect on agriculture."

Taxation—"Reduction of taxes or even maintenance of taxes at present levels, depends on maintaining a high national income for agriculture, industry and labor. This requires a positive, not a negative approach. Each group must consider the other group, because no one of them can exist without the others."

Peace—"In our international relations, we must be cooperative but firm. Peace must be based on an understanding of the problems of each nation, not on paternalism of one nation for another. We must recognize differences in standards that exist.

LAND O'LAKES ADDS TO ITS ICE CREAM FACILITIES IN CITY

$50,000 Is Invested in Expansion Program, Says Stuart McLeod, Manager

Expanded facilities and better service will characterize the ice cream operations of Land O'Lakes Creameries in the Thief River Falls area, according to Robert Ackermann, manager of the ice cream division of the organization.

Mr. Ackermann recently announced the purchase of a new refrigerated "sharp freeze" truck to deliver ice cream to dealers and creameries in the Thief River Falls area. The truck will carry 1,500 gallons of ice cream and has a self contained refrigerating unit built in the trailer body.

According to Stuart McLeod, manager in charge of all Land O'Lakes operations in this area, the new ice cream plant, constructed of glazed tile and glass block bricks, is one of the most modern and sanitary ice cream plants in the northwest. Mr. McLeod stated that approximately $50,000 has been invested in this expansion program.

ASSERTS FLAX IS DEPENDABLE CROP

New Varieties Help to Eliminate Risks

Flax has proven a more dependable crop in Northwest farms than wheat, according to an extensive survey recently completed by Weber H. Peterson, for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Professor Peterson, a native of Montana and a graduate of the University of Minnesota, points out that while the margin is not great enough to be significant, it can be definitely stated that flax is no more of a risk than other small grains.

To explode one of the most persistent myths in modern agriculture, Prof. Peterson analyzed yield data for the period 1929-1943 in North Dakota, Minnesota, So. Dakota, Montana, and Kansas. It is in these states that the major portion of the nation's flax is grown.

This important study, the first of its kind to be undertaken, shows that flax yields have varied less from year to year than wheat yields. Farmers who have long considered flax-to-be a gamble are assured that over a period of years it will prove as dependable as wheat, its main competitor, over most of the region. New varities and growing methods are given much credit for olliminating the supposed risk.

This fact was revealed at a time when highseed costs have caused many farmers to hesitate in taking advantage of high profits offered by flax during the next few years.

FAIR CROWD SEES WRESTLING BOUTS

Bartush Disqualified For His Rough Tactics

A fair-sized crowd was in attendance at the Auditorium Thursday night to witness the wrestling program sponsored by the athletic association. After twenty-two minutes of hit-and-run grappling in the main event, referee Wally Karbo stopped the match and awarded the event to young Tom Bradley, disqualifying big Bill Bartush because of his foul tactics. Bradley, from Colorado Springs, Colo, had been substituted in the main event for Joe Pazandak, who had been injured in a bout at Minneapolis and was unable to fulfill his local contract.

In the semi-windup, stocky Mike Burnell and lanky Tommy Ilice wrestled a thirty-minute draw, and in a slam-bang opener, Johnny Marx defeated Charles Harben after fifteen minutes of wrestling. Marrs subdued the Atlanta wrestler with a series of body slams, and then pinned Harben to the mat.

The crowd derived considerable entertainment from the preliminary matches put on by the local wrestlers, with all three of the matches being called draws. Johnny Nelson and Marvin Koop opened the card, with Art Tharaldson and Kerf Miller following, and Harold Baker and Bucky Arneson in the final. A "battle royal" with all six wrestlers participating, concluded the amateur's show, and Johnny Nelson was declared the winner.

Harry Johnson refereed the amateur bouts, with Wally Karbo officiating for the professionals. Bill Dahlquist announced the events.

JOB OPENINGS IN DOWNWARD TREND

Employment Office Here Makes November Report

Seasonal employment continued its downward swing during November, altho employment in general continued at a high level, according to the monthly report of the Thief River Falls employment office serving five Northwest counties. Farm and construction workers swelled the total number of unemployed. Applications for work increased from 407 as of October 31 to 732 on November 30, an increase of 325.

The supply of unskilled and semi-skilled workers is now considerably in excess of demand. There is however, only a small over-supply of skilled workers, and the supply of qualified clerical and sales personnel is still limited. In the service occupations the supply is short.

The demand for laborers and semi-skilled workers is practically zero. In the clerical, sales, and service occupations there is a continued steady demand. In areas where timber products are being manufactured jobs hav currently been available for unskilled workers.

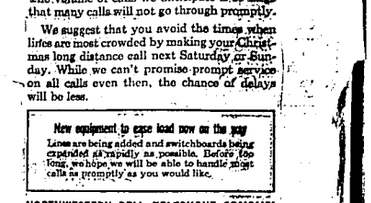
TECHNOCRACY
Diplomatic Treachery

Neville Chamberlain, the Prime Minister of Great Britain, and Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax journeyed to Munich accompanied by the Premier of France, M. Daladier, where they on behalf of their respective governments signed the Pact of Munich with Hitler and Mussolini, selling out the Republic of Czechoslovakia. The agreement to the Pact of Munich was demanded by Hitler and Mussolini in order that Germany and Italy could eliminate Czechoslovakia, the last fighting ally of Russia, so that they could declare war on the Soviet Union. This is stated quite openly in the documents of the Munich discussions as a prerequisite to a fascist war on Russia.



The world now has documentary proof that when the representatives of Great Britain and France signed the Pact of Munich they agreed not to "peace in our time" but to a war of fascist Europe on Soviet Russia. Small wonder that Russia was not invited to take part in the Munich conference! The diplomatic treachery of 1938 became so involved and so confused that by September 1939 we find Great Britain and France, who had refused to protect democratic Czechoslovakia, declaring war on Germany for the protection of Fascist Poland. Then followed the "sitzkrieg" war through the winter of '39 and '40. Then came the debacle. The fascist powers overran Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, France and the Balkans.

Make that Christmas call
this weekend

Everything points to an extra heavy flood of calls on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. The volume of calls we anticipate is so large that many calls will not go through promptly.

We suggest that you avoid the times when lines are most crowded by making your Christmas long distance call next Saturday or Sunday. While we can't promise prompt service on all calls even then, the chance of delays will be less.

New equipment to ease load now on the way
Lines are being added and switchboards being expanded as rapidly as possible. Before too long, we hope we will be able to handle most calls as promptly as you would like.

Half-Pint "BRIDGET"

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

A week of comparative quiet and marked by few events of general interest have just been completed. But all is well with our family and we have moved another week nearer to Christmas.

A stack of dix towels was brought in last week by Mrs. Edwin Anderson of Hazel from the Covenant Missionary Aid of St. Hilaire. Things like that are useful in our business and are very much appreciated. And the same language goes also for the creamed chicken and corn brought in from the Community church and a box of sandwiches from the Zion church.

Joe Rustvold was out on a trip to Greyge on Wednesday.

Mrs. O. N. Strandquist and son from Strandquist visited here at the home and with their former neighbor Emil Johnson Wednesday.

Trygve Roland accompanied by Mrs. Selma Bayanko of Argyle Argyle were callers here, Wednesday, Mr. Roland bringing with him a goodly supply of provisions and Mrs. Bayanko favoring the home with a donation in cash.

Carl F. Lindholm from east of the city called Saturday evening to see his uncle Carl Edman, who has been ill the last few days.

While in this city during the week-end Pearl Klaven visited with friends here at the home during Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Alf Larson drove up to Drayton, N. D., Sunday where Rev. Larson conducted services in the Baptist church.

Also this week we were supplied with fresh cut flowers, coming this time from the Swanson funeral.

One of our three men more than ninety years of age, Carl Edman, passed away Monday evening after a brief illness. He has made his home here these last two and one half years, coming here from Stephen and Warren. His ninetieth birthday anniversary was in April 19th last year.

Again on Monday evening we had the pleasure of a visit by Viola Bredeson's group of young ladies rendering a program of well executed scriptures reading and testimonials and also in the spirit of the coming yuletide season presenting the home with a set of placement cards for the holiday tables. We are thankful to the good ladies for it all.

The Home for the Aged board of directors held a business meeting here Tuesday, called to deal with routine matters with regard to the home and also matters concerning the forth coming term of Bible school scheduled to be held here this winter opening some time next month. In attendance at these meetings were the local pastors Larson, Rabine and Peterson Rev. Chisholm and Mr. Struck of Kneistad Rev. Dunckle of Lake Bronson, Rev. Larson of Alvarado, Rev. Swan and Alfred Nelson of Palmville and Rev. V. L. Peterson of St. Paul.

For the past week we are in receipt of a gift from the Clearwater Congregation given in memory of Mrs. Geo. Hell, Oklee and from the First Lutheran church of Mid dle River given in memory of Mrs. Carl F. Anderson and also to be acknowledged is a cash donation from Trinity ladies aid by Mrs. M. E. Kaye.

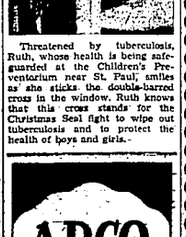
ASKS TAXPAYERS TO STUDY PLANS FOR TAX BOOSTS

Citizens Tax Relief Assn. Cites Demands on State Legislature

Warning that the coming legislative session will see the biggest drive for additional expenditures in Minnesota's history, officials of the Citizens' Tax Relief association in St. Paul this week estimated that appropriations which the legislatures will be pressed to make easily would take a minimum of $40,000,000 in new revenue for the next biennium.



The association, headed by John F. Scott of St. Paul, urged that taxpayers and other citizens begin at once a study of the needs facing the state and be prepared to express their opinion to their legislators on the various proposals for increased spending. Pressure for increased appropriations will be so great, the association warned, that unless those who see the dangers in unwise spending express themselves forcefully appropriation totals may run far beyond ability of the people to pay.

"The Minnesota legislature was impelled during the 1946 session in spending, officials of the Tax Relief association said in their report. "It spent $28,000,000 more than any previous session. The effect went largely unnoticed for it could draw on big balances accumulated during the inflated income of the war years. It spent the balance in the general revenue fund, amounting to around $7,500,000, and took $12,000,000 of the balance in the income tax school fund to augment the general revenue fund by payment of school costs hitherto financed from that fund. . .

"Now, with balances reduced, the next legislature must levy additional taxes even to maintain the present level of spending. The day of reckoning has come. It has come at a time moreover, when tax receipts are falling off and demands on the state are growing.

Receipts from the gross earnings taxes, up at an all-time peak during the war years, are declining. Other revenues may be expected to drop."

Double-Crossing TB

Threatened by tuberculosis, Ruth, whose health is being safeguarded at the Children's Preventorium near St. Paul, smiles as she sticks the double-barred cross in the window. Ruth knows that this cross stands for the Christmas Seal fight to wipe out tuberculosis and to protect the health of boys and girls.

Farm Productivity Must Be Increased

Soil Treatment Need Be Given Consideration

Warning that farmers are "selling their soil fertility capital and calling it a profit," Dr. George H. Hoffer, agronomist at LaFayette, Ind., urged greater application of scientific knowledge and research as a means of maintaining farm productivity.

"Successful farming requires the closest understanding and co-operation with nature," he pointed out. "Agricultural research is directed constantly toward learning more and more of the unchanging biological principles governing production of crops as well as animals.

"Better crops and animals are produced by applying those principles and helping the unaided handiwork of nature.

"Soil tests indicate the available nutrients already in the soil. They point to the need of supplementary applications of fertilizers for maximum yields of nutritious crops.

"Growers are also becoming acquainted with the symptoms of plant-nutriment deficiencies, not only of potash, but of nitrogen, phosphorus, boron and other nutrients which are appearing in many crops in various soils.

"A deficiency of any one of these nutrients may limit profits and lead toward bankruptcy unless remedial measures are applied.

"Due to the constant losses of soil fertility caused by erosion, crop removals, leaching, loss of organic matter, and the failure of some growers to fertilize their crops adequately, practically all crops respond to soil treatment."

Beans as well as all other crops will respond to proper soil management.

LOCAL CITIZENS ASKED TO AID IN STASSEN EFFORT

State Group Formed to Raise Funds to Campaign for U. S. Presidency

Citizens here asked this week to participate in an intensive, state-wide campaign to raise funds and win support for a campaign to elect Harold E. Stassen, Minnesota's former governor, as president of the United States.

Republican county officers here received communications from state Republican leaders announcing the formation of a new organization, "Stassen for President Volunteers, Minnesota Division," and asking the co-operation of local citizens in making the drive a success. Meanwhile word came from St. Paul that similar requests were going out to other counties throughout the state and the thirst of many thousands of letters asking for contributions had gone into the mail.

Heads of the new organization, as honorary chairman, are Senator elect Edward J. Thye and Governor elect Luther W. Youngdahl. Active officers of the Stassen Volunteers, as chairman and chairwoman, are Bernhard W. Levander, Republican state chairman, and Mrs. M. L. Spencer, Republican state chairwoman. Paul D. Schreiber of St. Paul is treasurer.

LeVander said in the communications announcing the plan that the goal is, to get contributions ranging from $1 to $100.

"As you know," he said, "there is an excellent chance of electing Harold E. Stassen as the next president. He is one of the two top choices in nationwide polls for the Republican nomination; these same polls show that he would win over President Truman if the election were now; and we know he has great strength with Republicans, with independent voters, with veterans and with rank and file of labor."

New Form of National Service Life Insurance Covers Total Disability

Veterans holding national service life insurance today were reminded by Paul T. Gray, in charge of the veterans administration office here, that they now may be insured against total disability.

Total disability income benefits, authorized by recent legislation, may be added to any plan of National service life insurance upon application, proof of good health and payment of an extra premium, Mr. Gray said.

Premium rates for the disability coverage range from 16 cents to 94 cents a month per $1,000 of G. I. Insurance depending on the insured's age and type of policy.

The disability benefits are at the rate of $5 a month for each $1,000 of insurance and are payable after the veteran has been totally disabled continuously for six months or more. Monthly benefits will continue to be paid as long as the insured remains totally disabled.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

COUNCIL GOING AHEAD ON CIVIC CENTER PLANS

Takes Preliminary Action on Project at Session Thursday

At an adjourned session last Thursday evening, the city council took action to proceed with preliminary plans looking toward the acquisition of the privately held unimproved lots in the block on which the postoffice and public library are located.

The action, designed to create a civic center in this block as well as the adjoining block containing the Auditorium and court house, was taken at the request of several local civic groups, and is based on a plan submitted in 1930 by the engineering firm of Morrell and Nichols of Minneapolis. It was indicated that the two privately held establishments now located in the postoffice block will not be interfered with in the use of their quarters.

The council instructed City Attorney Theodore Quale to prepare an amendment to the zoning ordinance restricting use of the two blocks in question to municipal and quasi-municipal purposes, and to submit a draft to the council for consideration.

Alfred Bredeson, council president, was directed to appoint a committee to investigate the costs of acquiring privately owned properties in the block including the postoffice. It also was pointed out that the block would provide an excellent location for the proposed national guard armory in this city.

Neil McKechnie was granted a special permit to erect a service station at an estimated cost of $10,000 at the intersection of Main av. and Sixth st., no objections being registered at a hearing set for that evening.

Favorable action was taken on the request of C. Tiedeman, commanding officer of the local national guard company now in process of organization, for the use of selected floor space in the arena by the local unit. The room will be made available January 6, following arrangements made with the office of the state fire marshal.

The council also appointed Geo. Gagnon to the office of street department foreman, filling a vacancy in that post.

60 County 4-H Club Members Joining in 1947 Beef Project

Pennington county 4-H club members will again put on a good showing in 1947 with 60 enrollments to date in the beef club project according to an announcement by County Agent Ernest Palmer. This enrollment is the same as in 1946 when the Pennington county 4-H beef project was one of the most outstanding livestock projects in the northern part of the state.

Of the 60 enrollments in the project, Mr. Palmer says that 27 are Herefords, 24 Aberdeen Angus, and 9 are Shorthorns. Forty-three of these calves were purchased from local livestock feeders and 17 were shipped in from North Dakota.

The quality of these calves is superior to a year ago in that the 4-H club members have been buying calves of better type and with the experience of a year ago will be taking better care of them. This livestock will be on exhibit at the county fair next summer and at the second annual 4-H livestock show in the fall.

County 4-H club leader, Robert Hayes states that the 4-H enrollments in Pennington county are nearing completion with 482 members signed up for 1947. This is an increase of more than 40 members over the past year with some possibility of there being a few more later enrollments. The projects showing the largest enrollments are clothing, gardening, lamb, and baby beef.

BOOST IN CITY TAX VALUES IS TOPIC MONDAY

County Board, Council and Local School Board Conduct Joint Meeting

The action this fall of the county board of equalization in making a flat twenty per cent increase in assessed valuations of real property in the city of Thief River Falls was discussed Monday evening at a joint meeting of the city council and local board of education with members of the county board.

Speaking for the board of education, L. W. Rullen pointed out that the higher valuations would entail a loss to the local district of approximately $11,000 in state aids, in addition to which a number of other school districts in the county might be similarly affected. It also was asserted that tax valuations on property in this city are out of line on a per capita basis with those in comparable cities such as Crookston and Bemidji, as well as with the remainder of Pennington county.

Paul Roy, chairman of the county board, expressed the view that if valuations were to be reduced in the city from their present level, they also should be proportionately reduced in the rural areas. County Auditor A. M. Senstad expressed his opinion that assessed valuations as they now stand are well justified by the actual value of local properties, without taking into consideration the inflated values existing at present.

The discussion brought out the fact that, even if the state tax commissioner should approve a reduction in valuations at this late date, a serious delay would result in re-computing individual taxes and entering them on the books in the auditors' office.

At the close of the session, members of the county board indicated they would agree to make a request to the enactment by the state legislature at its 1947 session of a bill authorizing the state tax commissioner to make an adjustment in assessed valuations in Pennington county on which taxes will be paid in 1948, instead of awaiting the next assessment of real estate two years hence. It also was suggested that the state commissioner be requested to make a spot check to compare valuations in Thief River Falls and other cities of its class in this section of the state.

SURVEYING 1947 POTATO ACREAGE PLANS IN COUNTY

Farmers Are Asked to Notify County Office of AAA Before Jan. 4

Initial steps in the establishment of individual potato acreage goals for 1947 got underway this week with the mailing of acreage cards to potato growers throughout Pennington county.

In announcing the start of goals work, Carl R. Anderson county AAA chairman, said that individual potato goals will be set for each farmer growing three or more acres of potatoes in the county. The goals will be set on the basis of potato acreage during the 1944-46 period based on information in the county AAA office and data from reply cards filled out by farmers.

"The individual goals will be used in connection with the 1947 price support program, and it is important that farmers accurately fill out the cards and return them to the county AAA office within five days after receipt," Anderson emphasized.

Any farmer who intends to grow three or more acres of potatoes next year must fill out a card, Anderson said, pointing out that any farmer who intends to grow potatoes not in receipt of a potato goal application card, should notify the county AAA office as soon as possible but not later than January 4, 1947.

"All farmers planting the vital crop of the potato price support program this year, and their cooperation in returning completed cards to the county AAA office will be of great assistance in assuring a smooth-working potato price support program during 1947", Anderson concluded.

James Lemieux of Long Beach, Calif., son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gabrielson, arrived here Saturday to visit his family over the holidays.

AAA PAYMENTS DUE ON CLOVER

The Pennington county AAA office today reminded farmers who produced red clover, alsike clover and alfalfa seed for sale to commercial dealers, that the Production and Marketing Administration is making payments on the seed at the rate of 9c per pound on red clover and 7c per pound on alsike clover and alfalfa seed.

In order to be eligible to receive this payment, producers must present sale invoices to the AAA office not later than December 31.

C. Matheson, county superintendent, to hear an explanation of the proposed bill to change the system of state school aids, scheduled for introduction at the 1947 session of the legislature.

Dr. Jacobson explained that the primary objective of the bill is to reduce greatly the present total of nearly forty state school aids, to provide additional financial support for the schools and to be fair to all sections of the state.

Cases of typical school districts in this county were worked out, tending to show a saving in local taxes under the proposed measure as compared to the present law. It was explained that aids under the proposed law are based on a nine-months term of school.

The total cost of maintaining the schools, Dr. Jacobson stated, would be somewhat higher under the proposed bill than it is at present, the measure being designed to improve standards as well as to equalize educational opportunities thruout Minnesota.

Novel Way of Removing Ice from Slippery Walk

A "not quite so slight" error in these days of sugar rationing occurred at the University if North Dakota when William Wright of Mandan and Phillip Dahl of Jessie, who works as houseboya at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house, set out to spread salt on the slippery sidewalk leading to the place. Before their mistake was uncovered, all but three pounds of a new 25 pound sack of sugar had been deposited on the walk.

Saving Household Fats Still Ruled Necessary

E. D. White, cotton expert of the U. S. department of agriculture, explains that this year's low grade cotton surplus is being sent to Japan to be manufactured into textiles which, in turn, are exchanged with the Netherlands East Indies for coconut oil.

He points out that the current shortage of fats and oils has made this barter plan necessary and predicts the program will eventually increase this country's soap production.

The department of agriculture can see no immediate relief for the world shortage of fats and oils and joins with the American fat salvage committee to ask women to continue their wartime habit of saving and turning in every drop of used cooking fat.

BEMIDJI TEACHERS BOW TO LOCAL SIX

Thieves Win Opening Game by 15-2 Score

The Thieves opened the city senior hockey season on Thursday night by overwhelming an inexperienced sextet from the Bemidji Teachers College, with the locals winning by a 15 to 2 score. The Thieves coasted away to an 8 to 0 lead in the first period with Bob Protz, Bob Belt, and Lloyd Johnson scoring two goals each, and single goals were recorded by Babe Paulson and Bob Baker.

The Thieves added three goals in the second period, with Baker getting a pair and Protz denting the nets for a single tally. The B. S. T. C. squad tallied their two scores in the period with Ed Estesegh getting the first score when he intercepted a pass at the Thieves blue-line and skated for a set-up shot. Ken Johnson, with goalie Shorty Tripp in the penalty box, registered the second goal with his shot glancing off Baker's stick, and into the net.

"Mouse" Efteland's two goals, and single scores by Bell and Lloyd Johnson concluded the game's scoring in the third period.

Reclaim Garments Marked With Perspiration Stain

Garments that hang unworn in the closet because of underarm perspiration stains can sometimes be reclaimed. These stains will often come out with ordinary washing or dry cleaning, but a little elementary chemistry first will sometimes help restore color.

Body perspiration is usually acid, so counteract fresh stains with an alkali. Dampen the spot with water and hold it for a few minutes over the fumes from a bottle of ammonia water. Or—better yet, for delicate materials that do not water-spot—dilute the ammonia water to half strength, apply a few drops directly to the stain, and rinse thoroughly. Ammonia water affects some dyes, so have white vinegar handy to stop the action of the alkali if the fabric begins to change color.

Perspiration stains that have been allowed to "set" for a few days may become alkaline. So if an old stain fails to respond to the ammonia water treatment, reverse the process and use vinegar—a mild acid. Sponge with vinegar sometimes restores color, though an old stain is more difficult to remove than a fresh one.

New Film Speeds Up Telecasting of Events

A new motion picture film greatly facilitates the telecasting of public events within a few hours of their occurrence and produces improved television images.

Newscasteremen from the National Broadcasting company used the new "Telefilm" to make pictures when President Truman reviewed the 42nd combat team and affixed a Presidential Distinguished Unit Citation banner to the unit's regimental colors. Immediately after the ceremony the exposed stock was developed, flown to New York, and used in negative form with the WNBT television film camera reversing the image electrically to its positive form. Pictures of the event were broadcast just a few hours after coverage had been completed.

Similar telecasts of newsworthy events have not always been feasible, according to television engineers, because lack of time or complications in setting up heavy television equipment did not permit direct broadcast. The new film, used in an ordinary movie camera, is designed to cope with such conditions. It makes a newsreel available for broadcast as soon as it has been developed.

There has been quite a tempest-in-a-teapot in town these last weeks over the 20% increase in valuations of real estate in Thief River Falls ordered by the county board, and there is going to be a lot of complaining among taxpayers during the year when they discover how large an increase this is going to mean for them personally. The increased valuation along with the higher mill rate of levy is going to be felt. At a meeting of county, city and school officials Monday night the problem was discussed at length. It was generally agreed that the increase is too large; that the higher valuations imposed on Thief River Falls taxpayers are out of line with those of other cities. It was also agreed that at this late date nothing can be done about it for this coming year. The one good thing about this disagreeable fact is that suddenly we are becoming tax conscious. We have been careless about public financing too long. Another thought that might reduce the pain in the pocketbook is that the tax money paid need not be wasted. A large chunk of what we pay will go into debt service. At the end of another year Pennington County's net debt will be less than $200,000, a very substantial reduction from the more than $600,000 we paid 6% interest on over a period of far too many years. And, come another year, we can look forward to a big reduction in local taxes. That is something to be cheerful about.

With this issue we complete another volume of the Times, a book of 1,036 pages and in size the largest of the series that have been published. The Times and Pennington County are about of the same age, which isn't very old as the ages of counties and newspapers go. We hope both will remain young for many years to come. Before closing the book on 1946 we would like to use again the thought expressed by Walter Hines Page in reflecting upon what he had written. We will say with him:

"If any reader of what I have written shall find anywhere a single word of bitterness, I pray him rub it out. For I have not meant to write such a word. Sympathy for all, and for all tolerance; pity for many, and for some affection; against ignorance and narrow-mindedness, war to the end; but bitterness toward no human creature.

"Nor have I ever meant to complain, for complaint furthers no man on his way. If the world does not please us, the least we can do is to try with cheerfulness to make it more to our liking, and, the harder the task the more good will we need."

Claim American Spas Equal Those Abroad

American mineral spring resorts are unfairly considered inferior in their healing power to foreign spas, states Dr. Samuel Weiss in a special article in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The article, prepared under the direction of the Committee on American Health Resorts of the American Medical Association, says that "millions of patients have spent small fortunes in hunting health at European spas, when they could have had the same scientific care and considerate attention at home."

Citing a recent report on the subject, the article points out that we have in the United States 2,717 areas with 8,826 known mineral springs, indicating that our spa reserves have scarcely been touched.

Much of the popularity of mineral spring resorts is attributable to the great number of digestive ailments. Dr. Weiss says that most digestive disorders originate in the nervous system and tend to become chronic as the nervous condition continues. Improvement in digestion is usually concurrent with improvement in the nervous condition. Nervous indigestion is usually induced by prolonged emotional strain, anxiety, overwork, lack of exercise and of rest, and above all by dietary abuses, including in some cases overindulgence in alcohol and tobacco.

The mineral waters act as an antacid, and as a cathartic or purgative. They tend to increase the flow of bile into the intestines, restore the mineral elements in the body and raw fluid from the intestinal tract.

Survey Shows 8 Times as Much Money Spent on Liquor as on Churches

Although the U. S. public's church donations have scored a new high by passing the billion-dollar-a-year mark, they still trail behind consumer outlays for movie and theater tickets; they amount to one-third of the nation's annual bill for tobacco, and one-eighth of its outlay for alcoholic beverages, it is reported by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Making public the first available figures since the year 1942, the report shows preliminary estimates on gifts and bequests to religion for the year 1945 to be slightly over one billion dollars ($1,035 millions); total consumer outlays for admissions to movies and theatres, $1.2 billions; for tobacco, $3 billions; for alcoholic beverages, $7.8 billions.

The billion-dollar total for religious donations represents nine-tenths of one per cent of total consumer outlays, which are estimated at $115 billions for 1945, the report shows. In 1929 religious donations totalled an estimated $935 millions, their largest pre-war total, and amounted to 1.2 per cent of total consumer outlays for that year.

Eleven hunted deer in Otter-tail county survived the open season by taking refuge in the town of Henning until the shooting was over—one group of four and another of seven, seen and admired of many for their cunning. The Hansen family near Becker had a bad time during hunting season, because they couldn't keep a pet deer, raised from a fawn, from wandering around while the shooting was hot—but they did fasten a red sweater on it, and the pet came through unscathed.

PUBLIC OPINION

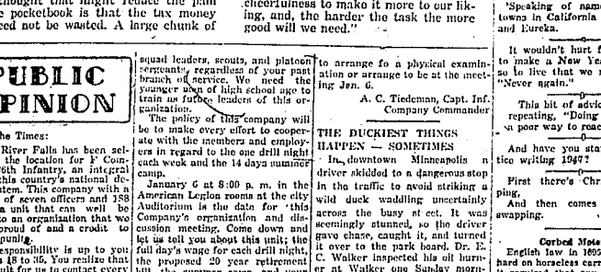
Editor the Times:

Thief River Falls has been selected as the location for F Company, 136th Infantry, an integral part of this country's national defense system. This company with a strength of seven officers and 138 men, is a unit that can well be made into an organization that we will be proud of and a credit to our community.

This responsibility is up to you men ages 18 to 35. You realize that its difficult for us to contact every one of the 1250 experienced servicemen in this community and the hundreds of others in this age group. We need the benefit of your experience as supply men, cooks, administrative men, armorers, squad leaders, scouts, and platoon sergeants, regardless of your past branch of service. We need the younger men of high school age to train as future leaders of this organization.

The policy of this company will be to make every effort to cooperate with the members and employers in regard to the one drill night each week and the 14 days summer camp.

January 6 at 8:00 p. m. in the American Legion rooms at the city Auditorium is the date for this Company's organization and discussion meeting. Come down and let us tell you about this unit; the full day's wage for each drill night, the proposed 20 year retirement bill, the summer camp, and your organization.



Contact Lt. Wm. Harm, Immigration Service, Lt. Jarvis Fjelstad of the Prichard Construction Company, or 1st Sgt. Ivan Bundy to arrange for a physical examination or arrange to be at the meeting Jan. 6.

A. C. Tiedeman, Capt. Inf.
Company Commander

THE DUCKIEST THINGS HAPPEN — SOMETIMES

In downtown Minneapolis a driver skidded to a dangerous stop in the traffic to avoid striking a wild duck waddling uncertainly across the busy street. It was seemingly stunned, so the driver gave chase, caught it, and turned it over to the park board. Dr. E. C. Walker inspected his oil burner at Walker one Sunday morning, to see what made it smoke; finally getting to the flues, he found a bluebill duck lodged in the vent—and is still wondering how it got there.

• MEMO TO ADVERTISERS.

HOW TO MEASURE Advertising Values

WE ASK advertisers to think of the circulation of this newspaper in terms of the distribution of their advertising—the size, quality and interest of the audience to which their advertising is addressed. From that viewpoint our circulation becomes a more direct factor in business plans.

There are well-known standards for circulation values just as there are definite measures of weight and quality as used in the purchase and sale of merchandise.

The standards for evaluating circulation have been established by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a national cooperative association of 2000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers in the United States and Canada. This newspaper is an A.B.C. member.

The Bureau has a large staff of experienced auditors and each year one of these men visits our office and makes an audit of our circulation records. Based on the information thus secured, the Bureau issues official A.B.C. Audit Reports.

These reports tell how much circulation we have, where and how it is distributed, how much people paid (important because paid circulation proves reader interest) and many other facts that make it possible to invest in newspaper advertising on the basis of known values.

For complete and verified information about the distribution of your advertising when it appears in this newspaper ask us for A. B. C. reports.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

In Memoriam

In memory of Peter Lovly who passed away Dec. 29, 1945.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His Wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love has given;
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
Sadly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren. 52p

Card of Thanks

ROSEAU DEFEATS THIEVES IN 1ST LEAGUE CONTEST

Cloverleafs Win Rough Contest Here Sunday by Score of 4 to 2

The Thieves and the Roseau Cloverleafs opened their States-Dominion hockey league schedule here Sunday afternoon, and the northerners, by a 4 to 2 margin, were the winners in a rough and exciting contest. This evening, at eight o'clock, the locals will meet Bill Medved's Crookston Pirates on the Arena rink in a league game. This game was originally scheduled to have been played on Christmas, but it has been postponed until tonight.

The large crowd in attendance here Sunday witnessed a bruising hockey tussle, with Roseau scoring twice in the opening period to build up an early lead. The Cloverleafs, with the highly-touted line of Rudy Meyer-Jom Riley-Bob Harris on the ice, controlled the play throughout the first period. Roseau's Milo Anderson notched the game's first tally when he slammed in a rebound shot off Bill Anderson's stick. A short while later Bob Harris, from close in, slipped a pass to Meyer in front of the nets, and Rudy scored on a drive that goalie Tripp did not have a chance to save.

In the second period, with Roseau short-handed and the Thieves applying the "power", Meyer and Alley got a breakaway, picking up a loose puck and racing in on the Thieves' goalie, with Meyer getting the score.

Holding a 3 to 0 lead as the final period opened, Roseau was forced to resort to defensive hockey to hold off the surging Thieves. The first local score came when Babe Paulson was given a penalty shot, and the blond wingman hit the upper right-hand corner of the net with a shot that beat Roseau's Laurel Benett. A few minutes later Paulson again hit the laces with a scoring shot, taking a rebound, after Bob Bell and Tony Dorn had made goal tries, and beating the Roseau net-minder.

Roseau gained some "insurance" late in the period when Meyer flashed into the corner of the Thieves zone and recovered a loose puck and then passed the rubber to Jimmy Alley in front of the Thieves goal, and the lanky Roseau center drilled the shot home, giving the Cloverleafs a 4 to 0 lead.

For the winners, the play of Meyer, Alley, and Harris was outstanding in the front line, with the veteran Charley Hubstritt playing his usual steady game on defense. The Thieves, who had a tough luck on a number of scoring rushes, were paced by Babe Paulson, Bob Baker, Connie Stadbridge, and "Mouse" Efteland up front, while Tony Dorn and Bob Bell were rugged on defense.

The summary:

Thief River Falls (2)		Roseau (4)

PROWLER QUINTET WINS OVER DEVILS LAKE, SCORE 46-36

Local B Team Noses out Plummer Quint Friday by Count of 20 to 18

The Prowlers varsity and 'B' squads racked up a pair of well-earned victories in the basketball games played here Friday night, with the 'A' team opening their North Valley conference by defeating Devils Lake, 46 to 36, and the 'B' boys edging out Plummer, 20 to 18, in a preliminary game. The Prowlers will be idle until January 3rd when Coach Ambrose Kraucer's Roseau team, the eighth region's champions will play here.

The Prowlers turned in their best game by far on Friday night, playing aggressive basketball, driving in for set-up shots, and doing well in covering the backboards. The Satans grabbed the lead in the first minute of play when Pat Edmonds dropped in a one-handed try, but Al Williamson, on a pivot shot rolled an overhand toss into the west goal, tying the score. Manlo Davidson who played a fine all-round game, added a free throw, and then Williamson bounced in for a pair of field goals, both on one-handed pitches. Devils Lake scrambled back, on free throws by big Mike Kelly, and Kelly's field goal to grab a 9 to 8 lead at the end of the period.

Playing heads-up ball and with Manlo Davidson and Al Williamson setting up the plays, the locals pulled away from the red-shirted Satans in the second quarter. Williamson and Magnuson tallied a pair of field goals apiece and Don Engelstad scored one two-pointer, giving the Prowlers a 22 to 18 lead at the intermission.

The game was knotted up in the score four times in the third period. Dick Nicial and Edmonds brought the score to 22-all early in the period and after Manlo had tallied a free throw and Magnuson registered a field goal, Kelly's field goal and Nicial's gift shot again brought up a tie score. Nicial's one-handed shot moved the Satans into lead, but not for long for Engelstad's long heave found the net for the evener. "Sam" Thorson, on a "sleeper" scored for Devils Lake, only to have Magnuson take a pass from Engelstad and tally from the lane. Harley Wagner's free throw, just before the period's close, gave the locals a 30 to 29 advantage.

It was all-Prowler in the final stanza, with the locals racing through for eight points before Devils Lake tallied a field goal, and giving the blue-and-gold a 38 to 31 lead with four minutes to play. And the boys outscored the Satans 8 to 5 in the last four minutes, to win by a 46 to 36 tally.

The Prowler scoring was evenly divided among Williamson, Magnuson, Engelstad, and Davidson with Al Williamson and Glen Magnuson having 14 and 12 points respectively. Big Mickey Kelly was Coach Reslock's high-point man, the blond center having 14 points on four field goals and six free throws.

In an exciting preliminary game the 'B' squad, with their "sparkplug" Jerry Furuseth scoring four field goals and holding the Plummer team without a point in the fourth period, edged out their opponents, 20 to 18.

Keeping Score

.... with BUCK OLSON

Well ! ! !

The North Valley conference basketball season opened last Friday and couple of surprise wins were put into the records. The upset that caused most the head-shaking and what-do-you-know conversation, was the 41 to 22 lacing that "Smoke" Sullivan's East Grand Forks team handed the Crookston Pirates. And it was in the order of a mild upset to have the locals come through with a 46 to 36 win over Devils Lake here on Friday.

But to get back to that Crookston—East Grand affair. Crookston, so liberally supplied with lettermen veterans from their district championship team, and regional runners-up, of last year that some "regulars" are forced to sit on the bench, had been installed as a district and regional favorite this season, and had been rated as the team capable of pushing Grand Forks for the North Valley title. Coach Ray Flom's Pirates appeared to have everything, having fine height in Milo Hafterson, Gene Helgeson, and Harold Hagen, scoring power in Bill Youngquist and Don Wheelhourse, and a fine play-maker in chunky Andy Carey. It's difficult to understand their collapse against the Green Wave on Friday, but that loss may be just the shaking up that the cocky Pirates need.

Of course "Smoke" had a number of veterans of his East Grand Forks team, too, with Earl Gangeness, Jerry Keller, Bill Rand, and Frank Goodrich having played last year. And those boys have plenty of that typical East Side fighting spirit, and I imagine that spirit was one of the factors that gave the Green Wave victory over the Pirates.

Prowlers Play Good Game

And aggressive and drive was one of the big reason why the Prowlers came up with their well-earned ten-point win over Devils Lake on Friday. It was one of the best games that a Prowler squad has turned in for several years, for the boys were setting up their plays neatly and controlling the majority of the rebounds. And they had to play that style of basketball for the Satans had an edge on the Prowlers as far as weight and height was concerned, particularly in the center position where big Micky Kelly was a constant threat.

I had picked the Devils Lake team to win by twelve points, so you see I'm eating crow this week. That twelve points would have been safe if the boys had played their usual game, but they were "on fire" all during the game and figuratively ran the Satans into the floor.

It Wasn't High for Long

That 1001-pin single game total that the Poppler's rolled in the Straightaway league was a league record for just one week, for on Friday night, the Oen's team, which appears to have a stranglehold on the championship, came up with a 1003-pin game. And it wasn't an easy score for the boys to get for anchor-man Wally Duchamp had to strike out to get the team over the 1000-pin hump, but he did it. So it's congratulations to Jess DuChamp, Berdeen Nornes, Emil Dostal, Heinie Wang, and Wally DuChamp.

What a Mauling.

The players that participated in that Roseau vs. Thief River Falls hockey game here on Sunday now must know what it is like to spend an hour in a concrete mixer that's operating at high speed. For that's the feeling they had when they came off the ice after that mauling game, 4 to 2 for Roseau was the score, and it was a fair result, for the Cloverleafs having the benefit of three of the U of M squad members, had the better combination play. And it was that Gopher line of Rudy Meyer, Jim Alley, and Bob Harris that made the difference between a win and a loss for Roseau, for those boys were credited with three of the four Cloverleaf goals.

Meyer and Harris had played with Minnesota against Fort William on Saturday night and, with Jim Alley, they left Minneapolis by bus one-o'clock Sunday morning, traveling to Fargo. There they made connection for Crookston, and Cal Marvin who had driven down from Warroad to pick up Dick Roberts, who was also in the party, brought the boys to Thief River for the game. They were pretty tired after the rugged contest, but as Rudy Meyer said: "It was more fun than playing in the Minnesota games."

And the fans have some more sturdy hockey coming up tonight, with the Crookston Pirates meeting the Thieves on the Arena ice. The Pirates will have Jimmy Medved, Bill Sullivan, Don Norman, Bill Medved, Johnny Noah, and others in the lineup, and they are coming here fresh from their 5 to 3 win over Grand Forks on Sunday.

POOR BRAKES AND LIGHTS ARE RISKY

Highway Patrol Cites Risk of Winter Driving

Although driving with poor brakes, faulty lights and other unsafe equipment is doubly hazardous in winter months when road surfaces are often slippery and visibility poor, the November report of Earl Larimer, chief patrol officer of the Minnesota highway department, indicates that plenty of motorists are willing to take a chance.

"Must repair" tickets were issued to 1,345 drivers, covering 1,892 violations of the safe equipment provisions of the traffic act. Included were 949 rear lights out, 462 one headlight out, 146 large vehicles with no clearance lamps, 63 had no brakes and 51 no warning device.

Arrests wee made in 178 more serious cases of unsafe equipment. Other arrests in November included 77 driving under influence of intoxicants, 153 careless driving, 147 excess speed, 96 overweight loads, 78 no drivers license and 64 improper passing. Arrests for all causes were 1,077 and fines totaled $10,205.

Warning tickets were given to 629 motorists and oral warnings to to 2,217 others. Aid were given to more than 2,000 motorists in distress. Highway patrolmen traveled 433,329 miles in November in their efforts to make the highways safe law abiding motorists and pedestrians.

University Offering New Variety of Course in Practical Nursing

Registration is now open for a new course in practical nursing at the University of Minnesota, Miss Katharine J. Densford, director of the school of nursing, announced this week.

The four-quarter course was established by the University's Board of Regents at its December meeting to answer the current need for workers in the field of nursing with less technical and prolonged preparation than is required in the University's other nursing programs.

Applicants must be between 18 and 26 years of age, although applicants over 35 will be considered on an individual basis, Miss Densford said. High school graduation is required with recommendation from the high school principal or counselor. Applicants who have been out of school two years or more may obtain recommendation from an employer or other suitable person. Marriage is no bar to taking the course. Preliminary to acceptance, a candidate will be given a physical examination by the University Health service.

A certificate in practical nursing will be granted upon completion of the course. Forty credits will be required for graduation, including 12 credits in general education and 32 credits in nursing practice courses. This includes 20 hours a week of clinical experience.

Inauguration of the course is slated for the opening of the winter quarter at the University, January 6. Queries regarding application for the course should be addressed to Miss Densford.

Accidents at Railroad Crossings Increasing, Safety Council Reports

Railroad grade crossing accidents have taken a heavy toll in Minnesota in 1946, according to figures released by Frank W. Matson, member of the state railroad and warehouse commission and also chairman of the executive committee of the Minnesota Safety Council. There were a total of 204 such accidents in the first eleven months of the year, compared to 233 in the same months in 1945.

The number of persons killed in grade crossing accidents in these months was 37, two more than in same months last year. The number injured was 186, compared to 164 in the same months last year.

In 143 of the grade crossing accidents, the motor vehicle hit the side of the train, while in 161 accidents, the train hit the motor vehicle.

OPPOSES BRITISH PLAN FOR FARMING

John Brandt Criticizes Rule for Agriculture

Newly announced plans of England's present government to boost that nation's farmers, and even to dispossess those who don't grow the crops they are told to grow, were cited today by John Brandt as an example of strict control that follows in the wake of government gratuities and subsidies.

Brandt, president and general manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., pointed out that "these events now in preparation by Britain's leaders are exactly what we have been working to prevent in this country, and what we must continue to guard against."

"English farmers are highly subsidized, and now they are going to be highly controlled, which is the next step on the road to socialization of agriculture," Brandt said.

"Such controls lead to political and boss leadership, and they lead to dictatorship no matter what name is given to a program of that sort. It will mean that farmers will do exactly as the planners at the head of the government dictate. And it is history that most planning of that sort is done by men who don't know the practical side of farming at all.

"Here in America, cooperative enterprise has fought for many years to avoid just what is proposed in England today, and we must continue that fight with all the energy we posses."

EGGSITTING TIMES THROUGHOUT THE STATE

A thousand dollar omelet went to waste near Red Wing when a high wind swept a produce truck off the road. Eighty crates of eggs were smashed, at an estimated cost of $1,000. The rest of the $3,200 load—183 more crates—was undamaged. Up near Kelliher a huge egg which broke before it was measured had another ordinary egg, shell and all, inside. At Young America a youngster in the home of The Eagle editor was fed a scrambled egg that didn't have any yolk, and on display in The Eagle office for several days was a soft-shell egg over seven inches long, with the yolk at one end and the "white" tapering off almost to a point. Furnish your own comment on the hens.

4 DRIVERS PERMIT SUSPENDED HERE

Highway Department Reports for November

No licenses of car drivers in Pennington county were revoked, but licnes of four drivers were suspended in November, according to information from the Minnesota highway department.

State-wide totals show 243 revocations, 602 suspensions under the safety Responsibility Act and 589 suspensions for other causes, a total of 1,234, compared to 1,340 in the same month last year. There was an increase in revocations and suspensions following convictions for traffic law violations and other evidence of inability to drive safely. Suspensions under the safety responsibility act, however, are gradually decreasing as motorists become familiar with its requirements and make provision for settlement of claims arising out of accidents.

Revocations included 214 following conviction for driving while under influence of intoxicants, 10 for repeated speeding, 9 committed as inebriates and 6 hit-run drivers. Suspensions included 148 for speeding, 59 careless driving, 263 failure to renew evidence of financial responsibility and 33 ignoring signs and signals.

St. Paul Winter Carnival Will Open February 1st

One of the most elaborate and entertaining programs in its long history is scheduled for the 1947 St. Paul Winter Carnival to be held Feb. 1-9.

Gorgeous pageantry, parades, dances and musical jamborees will share attention with an outstanding program of winter sports which will attract to St. Paul Olympic and national stars of speed skating and ski jumping.

The grade parade will open the carnival the afternoon of Feb. 1 and will be followed during the week by such brilliant presentations as the crowning of King Boreas, the selection and crowning of the Queen of the Snows, the Grand Ballo of the Order of Boreas, the Torchlight parade, the National Drum Majorette contest, the Musical Jamboree, the Masked Ball of Vulcan and crowning of the Fire Queen and the assault on the Ice Palace by Vulcan.

Avoid overworking your electric washer by soaking the clothes about 20 minutes before putting them in the tub and by using plenty of hot water and good soap. Don't put too many clothes in the tub at once and don't wash them longer than necessary. If an electric washer sits in a cool place, the grease around the shafts and gears gets hard and stiff. Move the machine into a warm place or fill the tub with hot water a few minutes before starting the washer to avoid too much of a starting load on the motor.

Dangerous Symptoms

Overweight, emotional elevations of the blood pressure and acceleration of the heart beat are the forerunners of serious illness, according to investigators writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The authors predict from their study that overweight associated with the temporary elevations of blood pressure and rapid heart beat will lead eventually to the development of high blood pressure and disease involving the heart, blood vessels and kidneys. A group of men who during the period of study showed none of the predisposing factors were observed in comparison. The study reveals that the later development of high blood pressure was 12 times as great in the overweight group as in the comparison group. In the case of retirement from duty because of diseases involving the heart, blood vessels and kidneys, the rate was four times as great.

YOU HAVE MADE Budweiser
TRADE MARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
THE MOST POPULAR BEER IN HISTORY

Inquiries about why enough Budweiser is not yet available have become so numerous that we ask our good friends everywhere in America to remember these facts:

Your demand has made Budweiser the most popular beer the world has ever known—year after year after year. Official government figures prove it!

Our production today is the greatest in the history of brewing. Yet, Budweiser's high standard of quality is maintained at all times.

The constantly expanded Home of Budweiser covering 70 city blocks in St. Louis is the world's largest brewery—as it was when beer returned in 1933.

Each year, beginning in 1933, facilities to increase the production of Budweiser were added... until the war put an end to expansion in the brewing industry.

But, each succeeding year found your increased demand running far ahead of our expanded facilities. Thus, Budweiser had to be rationed to dealers each year for several years before wartime shortages introduced rationing of many products to the country at large. In spite of the fact that grain quotas have been largely restored, Budweiser still is being rationed, because your demand still exceeds the production of our present vast facilities.

So that you will find Budweiser again wherever you ask for it, our post-war expansion program will get under way just as soon as building skills and materials are available.

Meanwhile, each day sees Budweiser arriving in communities everywhere to supply dealers equitably if not abundantly.

When you ask for Budweiser and get it, you are enjoying the quality and the distinctive taste that have made it—sip by sip, drink by drink, bottle by bottle and barrel by barrel, year in and year out, the most popular beer in history.

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

With Christmas so near in the offing the past week has been taken up largely with activities pertaining to the season here at the home as elsewhere, more of which featured by the extra cold of the first days. Among other things conducive to the Christmas spirit we have been remembered by the needed supply of snow, by the weatherman and for a Christmas tree we are indebted to the generosity of Julius Thuvenheer. Also for a large box of apples from the American Legion Auxiliary. And while on the subject of good things that come to us gratis, mention must also be made of a lot of towels from the former Falls 4-H club, Mrs. R. Harris, leader.

Wednesday evening we enjoyed the singing of Christmas Carols by Troop 15 of Girl Scouts, being a company of 5th grade pupils from Knox and Washington schools, directed by the Misses Patricia Lane and Elizabeth King. The singing was very well done as was also their presentation to each member of our home of a coat lapel ornament made up by them of small springs of cedar and little jingle bells.

Other Christmas Carolers by whom we have been remembered this last pre-holiday week have been a company of singers from the Mission Covenant church with Rev. Lindholm and a company of young ladies of the Zion church, consisting of the Misses Grace Ronholm, Marilyn Voldness, Irene Hogard, Dorothy Bottern, Victoria Amiot, Gladys Wigren, Luella Tanberg, Claudette Anderson and Olive Ronholm.

Mrs. Mary Pederson who had made her home here since last spring, except for the last month during which she was confined to the hospital, passed away Monday morning and was buried in Greenwood cemetery Sunday. Rev. Rahine officiating at rites at the Gulbranson funeral home and at graveside.

Quite a number of our folks attended funeral rites for Carl Eidman, who died here last week. Rev. Rahine officiated at rites in the Gulbranson Funeral Home, interment being made near New Solum.

Our whole family responded to an invitation to a special treat of cake and coffee Saturday for the event of Mrs. Olive Sortland's 67th birthday anniversary, the spread being provided by Mrs. Sortland's daughter, Mrs. Alpha Kjorvestad of Grand Forks.

Mrs. Albert Grenlin, son and daughter of Oslo were callers here Friday while in the city making funeral arrangements for the former's sister, Mrs. Mary Pederson.

Dr. Nelson of the State Dept. of Health was a business caller here last week.

Visiting here on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sandberg of Hazel.

Mrs. Arenson and son Stanley and Mrs. Carlson were callers here Saturday. Mrs. Arneson obliging us with a number of songs.

D. G. Brownlee is enjoying a visit with his daughter, Miss Carryl Brownlee, who came down here last week to spend part of her Christmas vacation from teaching duties at Coleraine.

Since our last communication a number of cash contributions for the support of the home have come to us. Among them:

One from the Alma-Foldahl Farm Bureau, Norman Hagen, Argyle, Treasurer.

One in memory of Mrs. Enock Hestad, Gryglia. Given by Mr. and Mrs. George Hanson, Mrs. Celia Thorsor, Mrs. Gusta Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nelson, Martin Sandamark, Mrs. Henry Nygaard and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nygaard of Gryglia and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Erickson of Goodrock.

One in memory of Mrs. Skarstein from Mrs. Celia Thorson.

One in memory of Hans Hunsrud, from Gryglia. Given by Mr. and Mrs. George Hanson, Mrs. Celia Thorsor, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dyreth, Mrs. Henry Nygaard and Victor Nygaard, Gryglia.

One from Mission Covenant Ladies Aid by Marvin C. Sistad, Gryglia.

One cash Christmas gift from Mission Covenant Ladies Aid, of this city, Mrs. Fred Lorentson, treasurer.

One from Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lindholm in memory of Curt Eidman.

One from Ladies Aid of Baptist church of Halstad, Mrs. S. F. Nordahl, treasurer.

One from Mrs. Mollie Northcote.

One from Mrs. John H. Paulson, Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Paulson, it will be remembered was the cook in this home up to last June.

One cash gift from Joseph Erickson, city.

To all glad givers, our most sincere and hearty thanks.

And now may all our readers enjoy the merriest of all Christmas seasons.

New Fiber

A new fabric eight times stronger than cotton or silk, non-linting, quick drying and even stronger when wet than when dry is expected to be a commercial success in the United States. The remarkable material is ramie, long known to the orient but unfamiliar in the United States. New machinery has been devised to process the fiber, eliminating costly and ineffectual hand labor. When the new fiber is woven with wool, the fabric will not shrink. The novel textile is practically immune to mildew, washes well and is said to be superior in holding colors. Ramie is the natural fiber of a plant which will grow wherever the ground freezes no more than two or three inches in depth.

Frozen Potatoes

French fried potatoes that can be served without the time-consuming process of deep-frying and oven-browned potatoes that will only need to be heated through are possibilities to which American homemakers can look forward within the next few years. Tests made recently with precooked quick-frozen potatoes at the New Jersey agricultural experiment station bear out this prediction. New Jersey-grown Green Mountain potatoes were boiled, baked, french fried, scalloped, and prepared in several other ways and then quick-frozen and placed in a freezer locker unit at the station last fall. A few samples were removed from the locker each week and reheated at the end of 10 days, and the rest were given the same treatment four months later. The six men and women who taste-sampled the potatoes in their various forms were of the opinion that although further experiments would have to be conducted to improve the flavor and texture, the results of these first tests were promising.

Street Lighting

A poll by the Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau, Cleveland, Ohio, shows that 95 per cent of the police officials replying from cities of 10,000 population and over believe adequate street lighting can reduce the number of traffic accidents and that 71.5 per cent consider their own cities do not have adequate traffic safety lighting. A Utah city cited 9 night traffic fatalities during one year before improved street lights were installed and none in the four years since. A Washington city reported a 73 per cent decrease in traffic fatalities following installation of adequate street lighting. In addition to the regular traffic markings, the painting of dark walls, bridge railings, fences, etc., with white paint can vastly increase the illumination through light reflection and help to guide and safeguard both motorists and pedestrians.

"Call it by its Name—Fascism

On June 22, 1941 European fascism began its long planned attack on Soviet Russia and military conflict began in stark reality, compared to the opera bouffe of German invasion up until that time. On December 7, 1941, the United States was attacked at Pearl Harbor and we were automatically at war. The attack of the Japanese on Pearl Harbor and the United States Declaration of War on Japan were followed (or immediately) by a declaration of war upon the United States by Germany and Italy and their satellites with the exception of Finland.

Technically, Great Britain went to war because her fascist ally, Poland, was invaded by Fascist Germany; France because she had a treaty of alliance with Britain; Soviet Russia because she was invaded by the fascist armies of Europe; United States because she was attacked at Pearl Harbor by the Japanese Air Force. France went out of the picture when she was overrun, and became a vichy style European fascism, leaving Britain, the United States and Russia as the chief powers fighting the armies of the fascist powers of Europe and Asia.

The United States Government, through its leaders before and since December 7, 1941, has proclaimed many times in various places that the United States was fighting a war against aggression against tyranny and against bandit nations. Never once did any leader in the United States or Canada ever proclaim or state that either Canada or the United States was fighting a war against fascism. A rather sad and sorry spectacle to have a nation of 140,000,000 engaged in a war fighting to defeat the armies of fascism but not fascism itself!

The irony of this is brought out in the war criminal trials at Nuremburg wherein the American and British prosecutors sum up the case for their respective governments against the fascist war criminals, and ask that the verdict of the court be imposed upon them because they are guilty of having conspired to wage a war of aggression.'

Japan surrendered August 14, 1945, and World War II technically, but not officially, came to an end with this surrender of the last of the fascist belligerents. In the year which has followed the cessation of hostilities, the United States policy in the pursuit of world peace has taken on a belligerency that was not exhibited in any of the patriotic propaganda necessary for the conduct of the war. During the war, flirt in the Islands of the Pacific, in Africa and western Europe as the main theatres, with side-shows on the Burma-China front.

Today, a year after the surrender of the last of our enemies, the Armed Forces and the diplomatic and economic representatives of the United States are exhibiting a belligerency that is equivalent to the open advocacy of World War III. The propaganda of the present foreign policy of the United States is one wherein our previous enemies, the Germans, the Italians and the Japanese, are encouraged officially and with large doses of humanitarian aid to accept spiritual absolution from their previous sins, and to transform themselves with American assistance from their former position of enemies into the democratic position of being honorable allies.

The fascist nations of the world fought the dirtiest war in history. The records of brutality, murder, disease and devastation of this fascist war will be forever remembered. When one views the record of this was with all its horrors, one can only consider a peace in which the fascist nations will be treated as defeated nations and the distinct purpose and aim of the power of the victors shall be organized to prevent any recurrence of fascism that deluged the world in the bloody calamity of World War II. This does not mean that we are herein advocating that the settlements of peace should be based upon revenge.

The Armed Forces of the United States was but one of the armed forces fighting the armies of fascism. Great Britain, Canada, India, Australia, New Zealand, Yugoslavia and China, in cooperation with the giant armies of Russia, where the other Allies that won the war. Great Britain, the United States and Russia were the Big Three that determined the military conduct of the war. They were Allies in fighting the enemy.

CHANGE IN LIQUOR LAWS IS PROPOSED BY STATE LEAGUE

League of Minnesota Municipalities Holds Meeting in St. Paul

Liberalization of Minnesota laws relating to establishment of municipal liquor stores was urged by the executive and legislative committee of the Minnesota League of Municipalities at a meeting in St. Paul last week.

C. C. Ludwig, executive secretary of the league, said the committee proposed authorization of liquor stores in cities in dry counties by a favorable vote of the cities and not, as at present, requiring a countrywide referendum before such establishments can be set up. The league would also permit stores already operating to continue in business, even though they exceed the 10,000 population limit now set as a yardstick.

The committee also voted, Ludwig reported, to abolish legislation requiring municipalities to buy stock, fixtures and equipment from private licensees before the city can itself go into the business.

Brainerd and Virginia are chief sponsors of a proposal seeking legislation enabling cities of the third class to set up stores in counties whose stores are now limited to fourth class communities, Ludwig said.

Other proposed legislation included:

Required fingerprinting for all Minnesota residents.

Enabling legislation permitting hard-pressed cities to levy payroll, sales and other taxes in addition to real estate imposts.

Requiring examinations for all newly-licensed auto drivers.

Legislation enabling cities to acquire and operate off-the-street facilities for auto parking.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Right Toy for the Right Age

Do the toys which you buy for your child meet his present developmental needs? Or do you buy for your child thinking that he will grow into them as he grows into his clothes? The results of buying clothes grossly too large for a child are pathetically obvious. But do we consider what it really means to a child to have nothing but toys which are beyond his present stage of development?

Perhaps a parent will say that he is trying to provide opportunities for growth and development by supplying his child with toys that will challenge his abilities. In reality, he is failing to let his child luxuriate at his own level of development. He is making his child dissatisfied with his present lot; he is possibly helping him to send down roots of petulent discontent.

Give your child toys which will provide rich and varied experiences adapted to his present development needs and you'll probably find that you are helping him send down roots of ambition to do better. Such noble discontent is the spirit from which great men and great causes are born. Petulent discontent is the spirit from which petty men and petty causes grow. Could it be that one of the remote causes of the roots of petulent discontent have been nourished by parents who have been over-zealous concerning their children's achievements?

Let's look at Jeffrey in his walker. He would doubtless be better off in his play pen than roaming about the house. But mother and daddy are thrilled with the idea that Jeffrey can get about under his own power even before he can walk. Six-year-old Junior is without doubt much better off on his scooter or his rollerskates than on a bicycle, and yet what proud mother complains, "Even though Junior is only six we are just going to have to get him a bicycle for Christmas. He won't hear of anything else." And so on up the scale until we find fourteen-year-old Jim who can't see why the heck he can't drive the family car, and seventeen-year-old Jack disgruntled because he can't have wings. Let's start early and select the right toy for the right age!

COUNTY DAIRYMEN MAY EXPECT GOOD MARKET IN 1947

State's Dairy Farmers Miss Mary McLaughlin Will Conduct Survey

Pennington county dairy farmers can look forward to a continued good market in 1947 even though there may be an industrial slump late in the year. That's the prediction made by University Farm economist Max Hinds to County Agent Ernest Palmer.

Farmers will produce less dairy products in 1947 than during 1946, Hinds says. The number of cows is now 6 per cent below the all-time high in 1944, and the number of dairy heifers saved during 1946 was the smallest since the late thirties. Some of the decrease in cow numbers is being offset, of course by increased production per cow.

The feed situation is generally bright for the coming year. With the exception of high protein supplements, feed on most farms is plentiful. Concentrate feed supply per animal will be about 4 per cent over 1946.

Even with fewer cows, plentiful feed and favorable prices in prospect, high labor cost may force many farmers to shift to other farm enterprises.

Looking to individual dairy products, Hinds sees:

1. Fluid milk prices staying relatively high in 1947.
2. Some shift from use of fluid milk to fluid cream.
3. Increased consumption of cheese but not enough to offset the increase in production during the war.
4. Increased butter consumption but consumer resistance to high prices especially if industrial income declines later in the year.
5. Slump in prices of non-fat solids (dry skimmilk and casein) during the flush season of spring and early summer.

Mrs. Mary Peterson Succumbs Here Friday Morning; Rites Sunday

Final rites were conducted Sunday afternoon in the Gulbranson chapel for Mrs. Mary Peterson of 302 East Fourth St., who succumbed at a lyocal hospital Friday morning. She was 80 years old. Rev. E. F. Rabine officiated at the service and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Peterson was born March 15, 1866 in Sweden. She came with her parents to the United States in 1882, homesteading in western Marshall county. In 1886 she was married to Hans Hoff of this city and after a few years in Marshall county they moved to Lake of the Woods county.

They retired from farming and moved to this city, where Mr. Hoff died in 1920. Six years later she married John Peterson of this city and they resided in Oslo and Alvarado. Mr. Peterson passed away in November 1945 and since that time Mrs. Peterson has lived in the Red River Valley home for the aged.

Mrs. Peterson is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Albert Grenlin, of Oslo and Mrs. John Engstmen of Alvarado, and many nieces and nephews.
